Mr. Funtrell,
For the last two years I've had your math and science classes. I've learned a lot and have fun in Hawaii!
Mark
11/11/73

Mr. Funtrell
It's been real fun and I've learned a lot from you. I don't know what to say, but I have a good summer and perhaps I'll see you next year.
Hope the sunshine always admired Mike Maudlin.
You have that trust into his student's class. See you next year.
Rae

Mr. Funtrell,
You're really a good teacher. I got to be one who puts trust into his student's class. See you next year.
Patsy Bogue
13

I gave a last happy year teaching and many more birthdays have a nice retirement.
Richard Williams

Mr. Funtrell,
You're one of the best teachers (and funniest one too) I've ever had, and I'm sure you're going to keep your good work.
Sharon Hui
71

Mr. Funtrell,
You're a good guy and I really learned a lot in your class, good luck in later years.
Dan

Mr. Funtrell,
I've never had as nice a teacher as you before in my life. It's been a lot of fun in here and I wouldn't have missed it for the world.
I hope I see you next year so good luck and Best Wishes in the future. I hope you live another 140 years.
Ron Webb

Mr. Funtrell
You sure kept me from growing on me this year and that's a tribute to your teaching skill because no other teacher has been able to do that.
Steve Veals

Thanks for a very rewarding year. Mr. Funtrell

Mr. Funtrell,
You've made this year's Algebra I really everything. I've enjoyed it and I've learned a lot from you. I hope you live another 140 years.
Selby
11/11/74

Mr. Futrell,

Although I talk most of the time I sure got a lot out of this class
when I did listen. And that takes a good teacher.
Good luck next year with another Futrell.

Ralph A. Futrell 207

Mr. Futrell,
Thank you so much for
being such a good teacher.
I will have you
for hope & geometry next year.
Heather McClauley

It's really been nice to have
I enjoy coming to your class
It gives me a lift to last school
I won't forget this class and what we put in & this is good Kevin Moore

I really enjoyed having you for a teacher and I am sure I learned a great deal, with your patient explanations
how could I help?
Leshie Blackberg '73

Mr. Futrell,
I've truly enjoyed being in your class this semester. I hope your humor and kindness will last forever.
Sincerely,
Deb Larson '91

Mr. Futrell
It was a real experience being in your 1st period class
bye Steve Bower

Mr. Futrell,
You're really a fun teacher and I enjoyed your class greatly. Have a good summer.
I am
Mr. Hamers
Gary Hayes

Mr. Futrell,
I have enjoyed your class very much. You are a great teacher.
Walt
McClain '71

Mr. Futrell,
Thank you for my
most enjoyable
year to date ever.
Peace!
Glenn McCready

It's been a really great year in your class
I probably never would have passed without your help. I will come see you next year. Have a good summer.
Marty
Boag '73

Mr Futiell
 In Hughes or Catalina, Matt
 you're still the best teacher I have ever known.
 You make math fun + enjoyable,
 Wants for a wonderful year.
 Happiness + Luck + Love,
 (Dorothy) Schudze

Mr Futiell,
 you really put up with alot (Cindy and me). you are a really nice teacher. I hope I have you next year. I feel sorry for you if I do. I really am sorry for all the talking and trouble I ~~made~~ made.
 I enjoyed coming to your class. It was something to look forward to.
 Love ya,
 Andrea
 Brown 23

Mr Futiell,
 You are a real tough math teacher.
 I'm surprised you don't use a whip and chain
 I hope I have you next year and I wish I had you last year.
 Love Jack

I think that it's been fun
this year in geomet
I've thought some pretty bad things about you but, I never really meant them. I've learned a lot this year. Have fun in the summer

September

Halls came alive again, parking lots filled and students discussed each other's summer activities as another school year rolled around on September 8.

Parents' Football Night, including the traditional Blue and White Game, was held the first week of school. Preceding the game, an informative program about football plays, rules and equipment was presented.

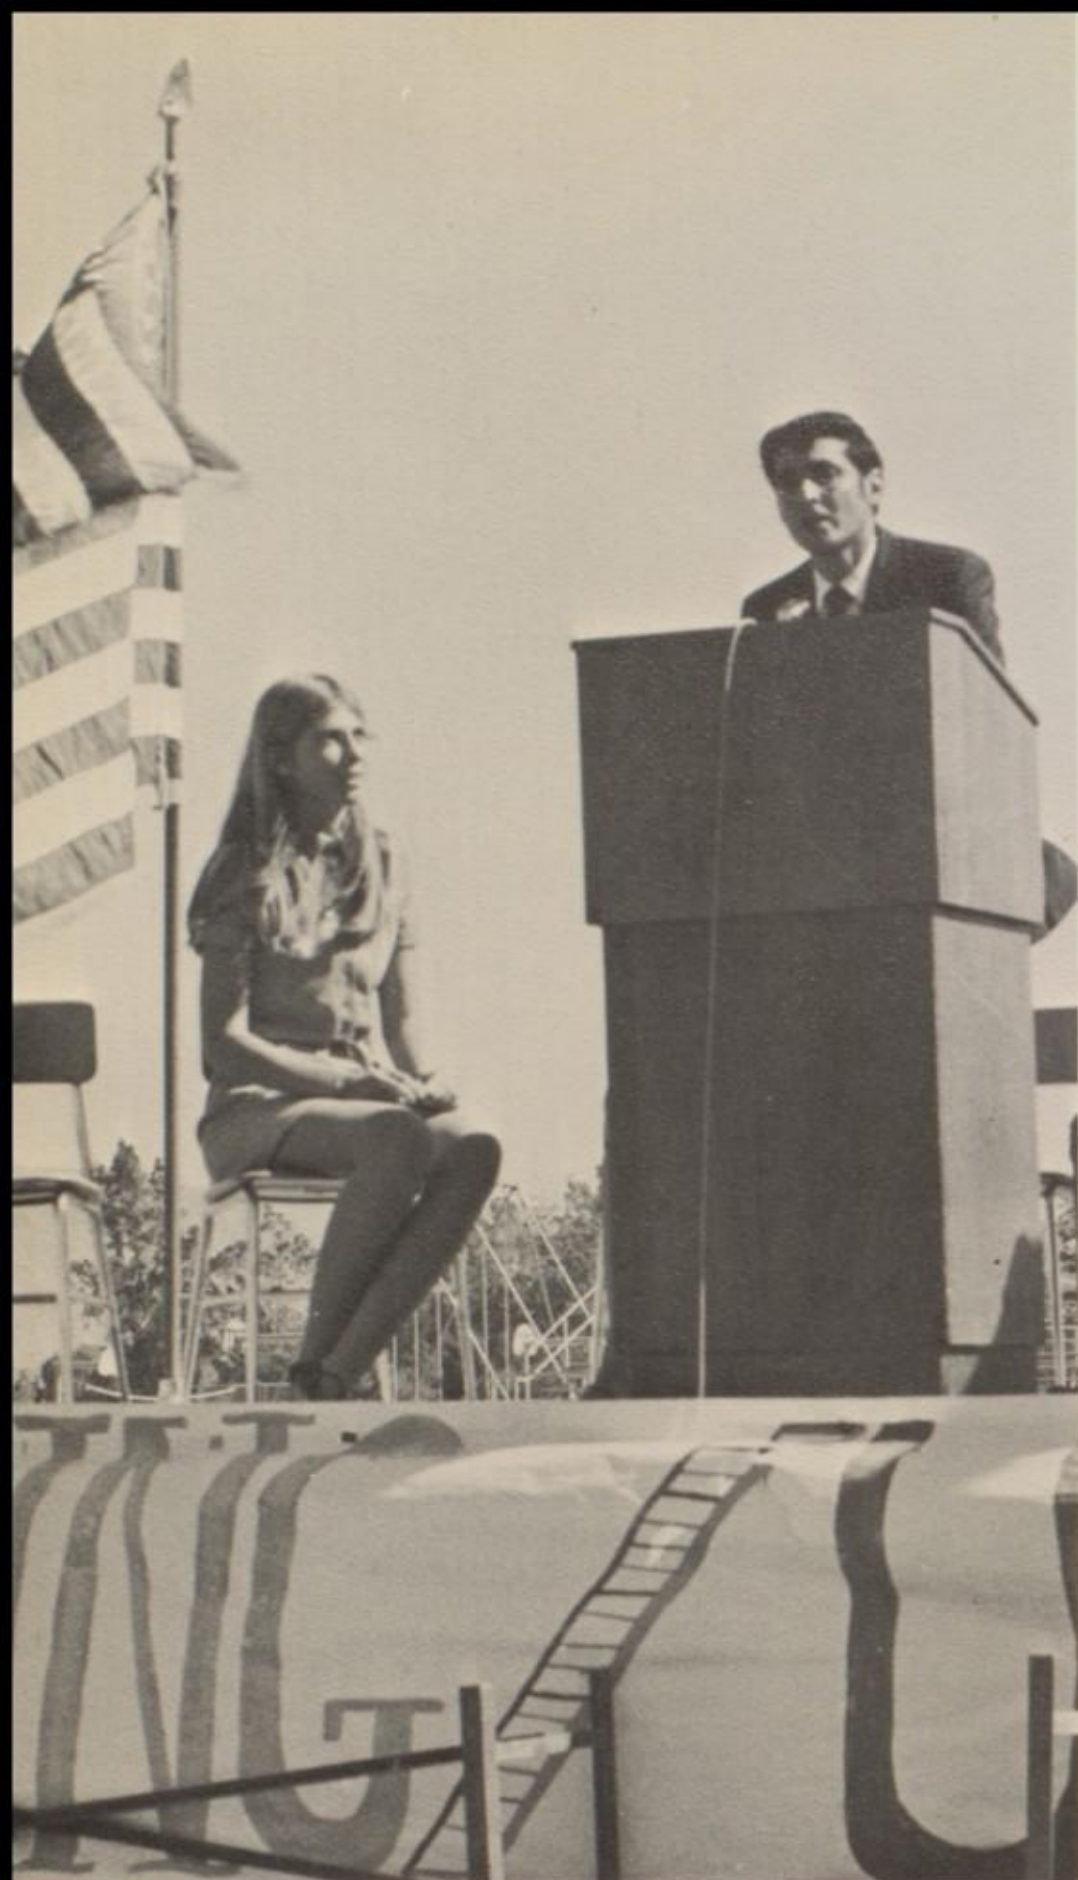

Following the opening game of the season on September 18, Girls League sponsored its annual mixer featuring the music of "Aftermath."

Later in the month, the Girls League coke party and fashion show were presented. Fashions, which were provided by Simplicity, were modeled by members of the home economics classes.

RIGHT: Jean Mouer, Doug Dorow, Joe Cooper and Dean Van Horn buy books during the September rush. BELOW: Spirited pepleaders "two bit" about.

Ghosts, turkeys, footballs fly in fall

With ghosts, dances, Friday the 13th and Thanksgiving, October and November dropped by for their annual sojourns.

"Greylock Mansion" performed at the Frosh-Soph Mixer on October 1. The next night, the Girls' League Box Supper was held. The Dardanaires and Red Cross Council sponsored a childrens' program and Halloween party for Indian children, respectively, in late October. Concert Choir presented "An Evening on Broadway" October 27-28.

"Up the Down Staircase" was presented early in November by the drama classes. On November 4, the String Orchestra Festival, featuring the Catalina, Rincon and Palo Verde orchestras, was held. Performing November 10, the orchestra and choral groups presented the Fall Concert. Friday the 13th arrived with Homecoming and the CHS-Douglas game. On November 17, CHS hosted a fine arts workshop.

RIGHT: Elves Pat Fowler, Linda Andre-sano and Joe Cooper help Santa make toys in the Thespians' play "Santa's Place" given during the "Old-Fashioned Christmas." BELOW: To sell or not to sell. ## Old-fashion festivities deliver holiday cheer

How long has it been since Christmas meant getting together with your friends and family to string popcorn, trim a tree and sings carols?

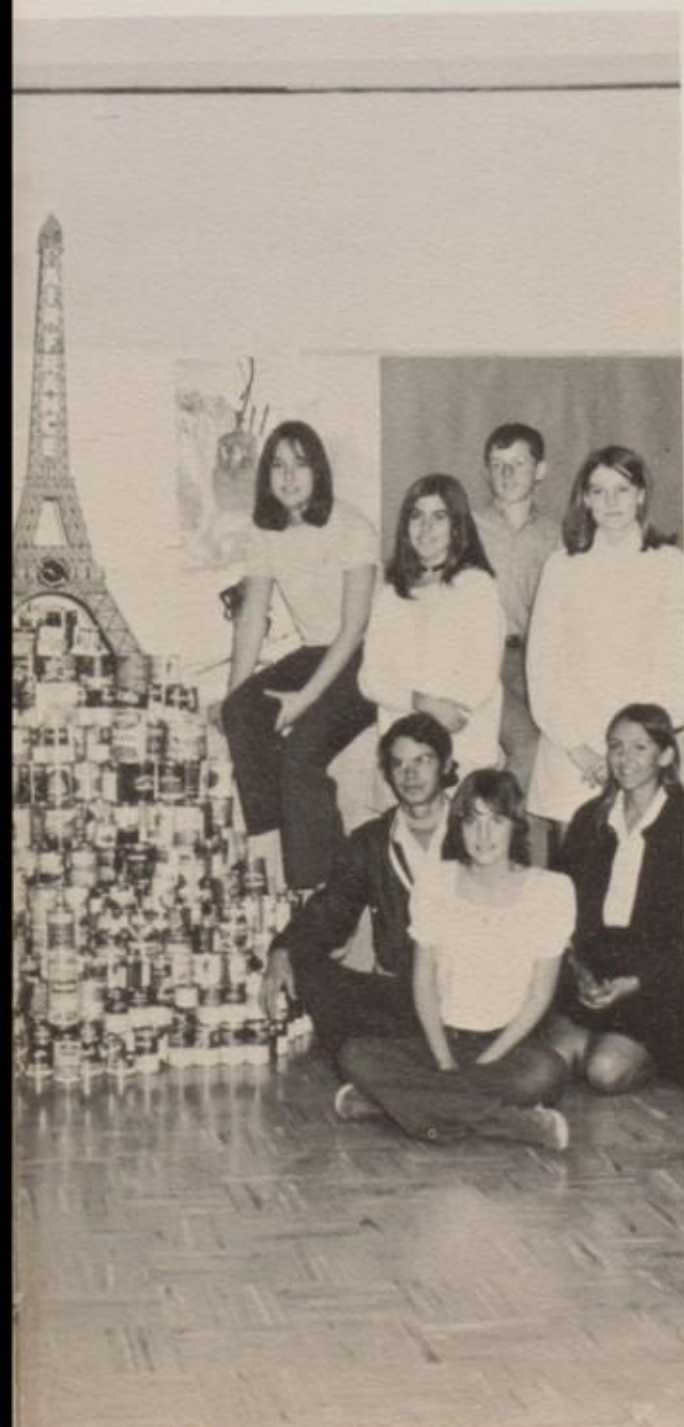

With this in mind, Student Council sponsored a new event to increase holiday spirit. "An Old-Fashioned Christmas" brought traditional yuletide activities as well as the crowning of the Torch King and Queen and a play presented by the Thespians. The festivities were held on December 16 outside the Boys Gym.

The following evening was the annual Winter Concert. The choirs and orchestra presented songs of the holiday season in "Christmas 1970." On December 18, the last school day of 1970, the program was presented for the student body in the gym. The assembly featured a solo performance of "Silent Night" by a member of the Tucson Boys Chorus.

December also opened the basketball season and fans saw the cagers tromp the 1970 state champion Sahuaro 77-55.

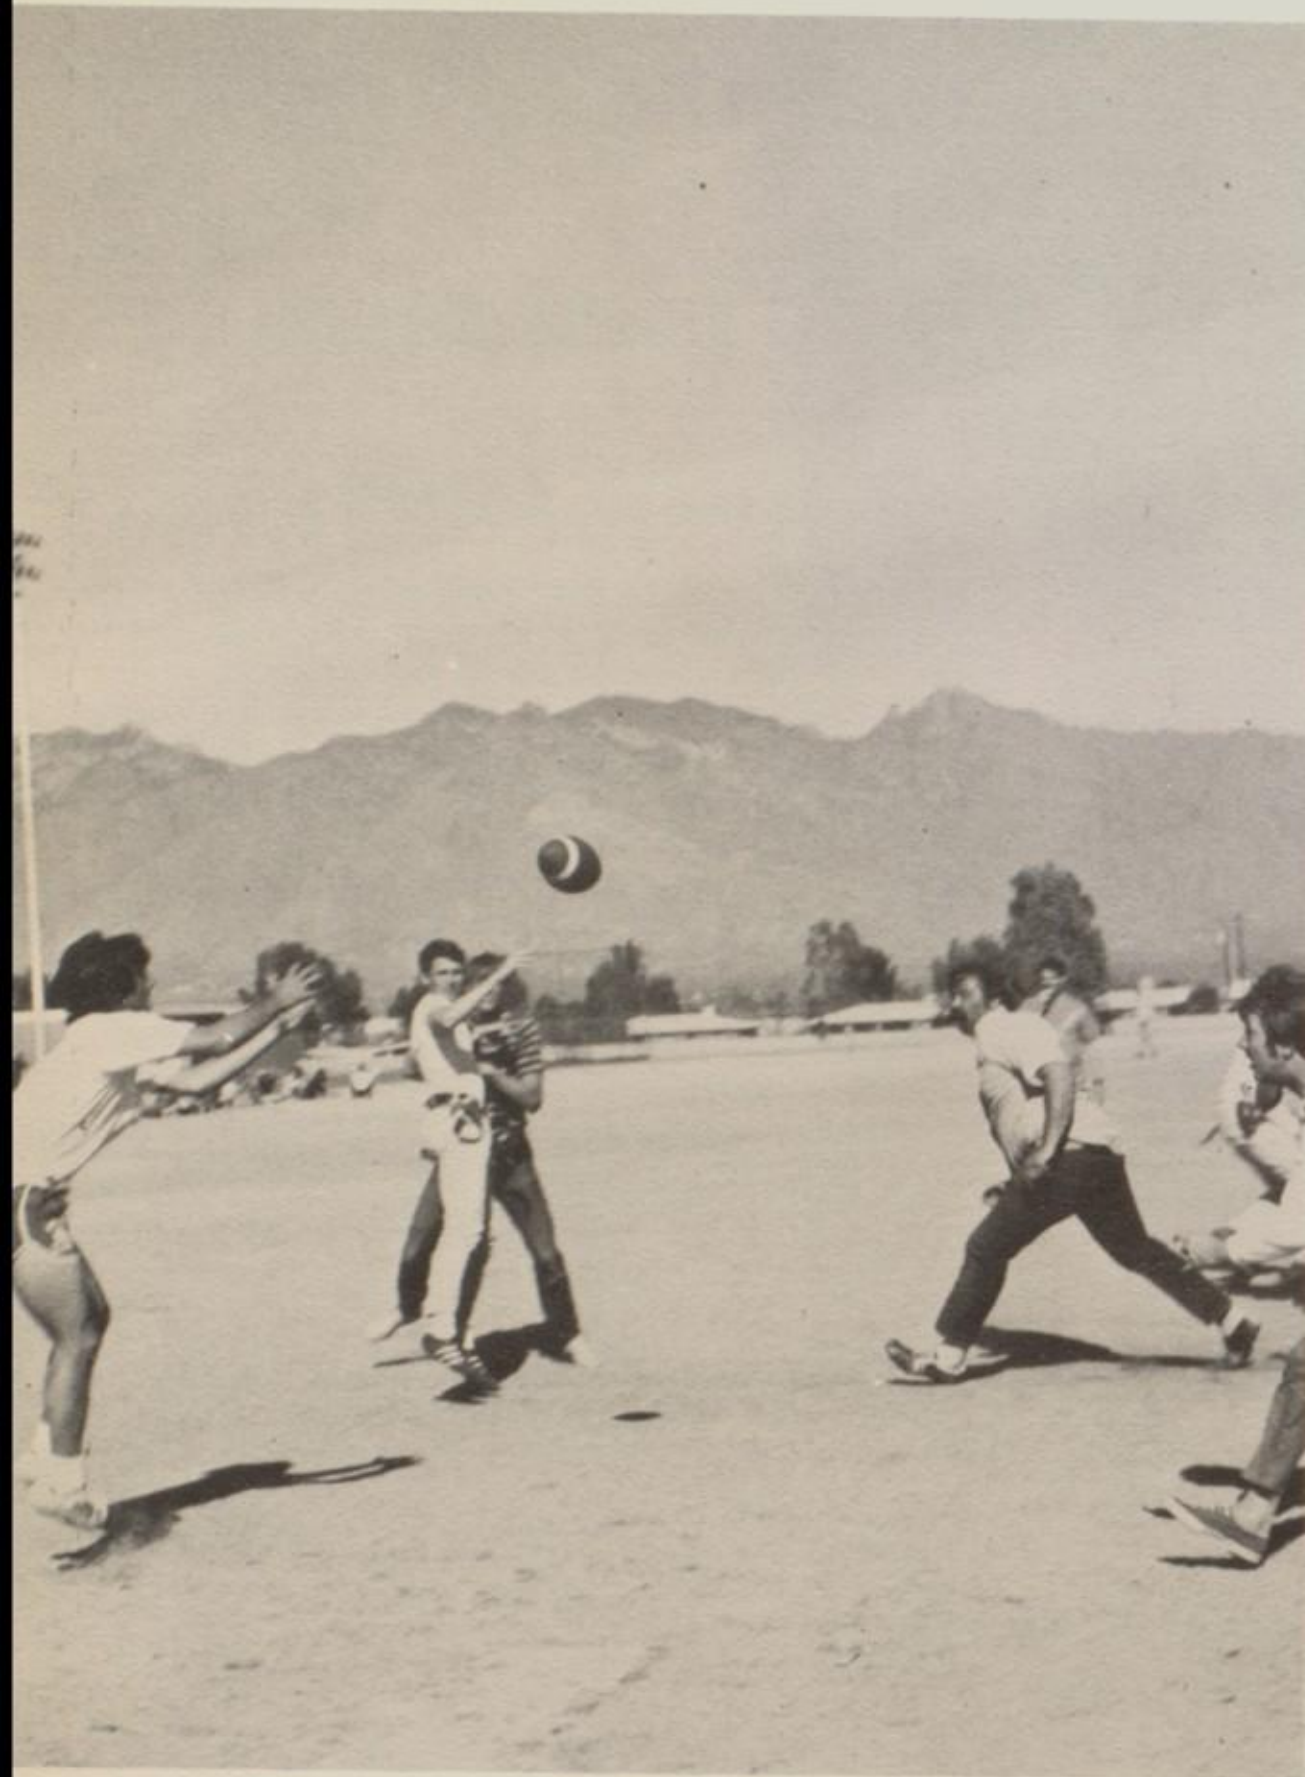

The second annual Student Faculty Forum on December 9-10 brought students and faculty together to discuss problems and concerns of Catalina.

breeze in on winds of winter

Fine Arts took over the prime time of January and February with final exams and Love-O-Grams sharing the spot light.

The drama production, "Black and White" opened January 12, succeeded by the dance-drama presentation "Experiment in Theater" held the 20th and 21st. Ending a long semester, exam week arrived, topped with the showing of "Cool Hand Luke."

A new semester and a new month of activities began with All-City Band and district solo-ensemble competition. Valentine Day observance became obvious with Love-O-Grams. Girls League presented a fashion show the 17th, followed by a band concert the next evening. Rodeo Week activities ended the month.

BELOW: With a musical plea for peace, the international "Up with People" cast blasts out their theme song. The Tucson-based group performed February 10.

Rodeo, Dear Weeks add life to boring days

As Rodeo and Dear Weeks approached, students anticipated a break from the hum-drum monotony encountered as the year progressed.

Three fun-filled days preceded a two-day Rodeo vacation. During lunch on Monday, sophomores and seniors pulled together to win a tug-of-war against frosh and juniors. Tuesday, most people arrived in the proper attire for Grub Day, but junior marshalls were still on the lookout for anyone ignoring "Rodeo Week Law."

Highlighting the spring sports assembly on Wednesday, rodeo royalty was announced and the junior class float, "Territorial Prison," was christened by TV personality Dr. Igor. That evening a cowboy dinner of barbequed beans and cole slaw was prepared and the annual Rodeo Dance, featuring the Wooden Indian, followed.

Spring fever caught the boys unaware when Dear Week arrived. The girls took the opportunity to express their secret admiration by tagging their men. Kite flying, pie throwing and jamming at a "Coffee House" were added to the traditional activities—a Box Supper and the Dear Week Dance, at which the Dear King was crowned.

Capers, musicals offer

Troy fun-filled days in March, April

Amid music festivals, Dear Week and Senior Capers, Trojans had no trouble enjoying themselves during March and April despite the mid-semester blahs.

March was a musical month as was demonstrated on the 4th by the Greater Tucson Band Festival and Choral Classics. Also, the All-State Concert on March 14 featured successful band, orchestra and choir candidates.

Dear Week, March 15-19, brought five days of activities intended to raise money for AFS.

"Let's Get Together" served as the theme for Senior Capers, presented April 1-2, while spring vacation, April 9-12 provided students with a welcome holiday.

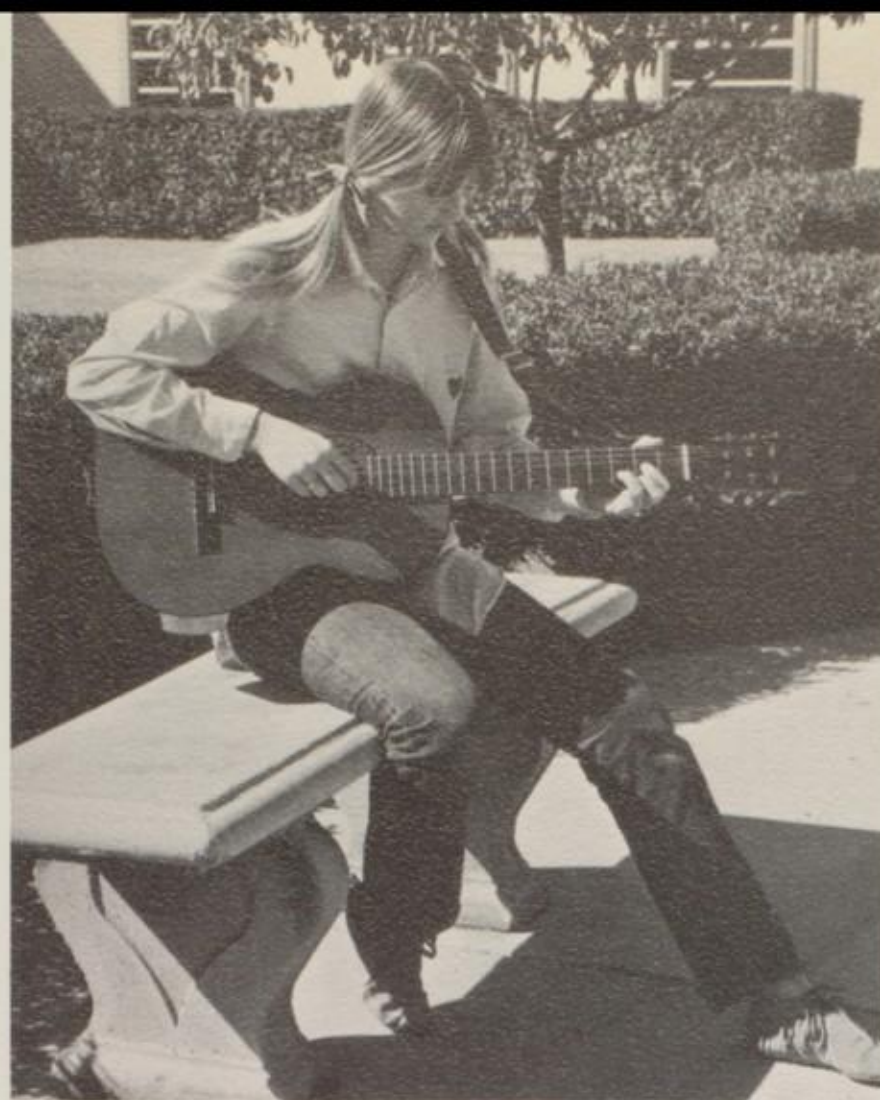

The CHS Area Choral Festival was held April 28, featuring the combined choirs of schools feeding into Catalina.

Lure of summer catches students

Lured by suntans, swimming pools and the leisure-filled days of summer, Trojans found studying for up-coming finals difficult in May and June.

May was highlighted by the Dardanaire concert May 6, the final choir and drama productions of the year during the week of May 18 and the second off-campus Prom May 22. Complete with hot buttered popcorn and cartoons, "Wait Until Dark," sponsored by the Sophomore Advisory Board, was shown May 14.

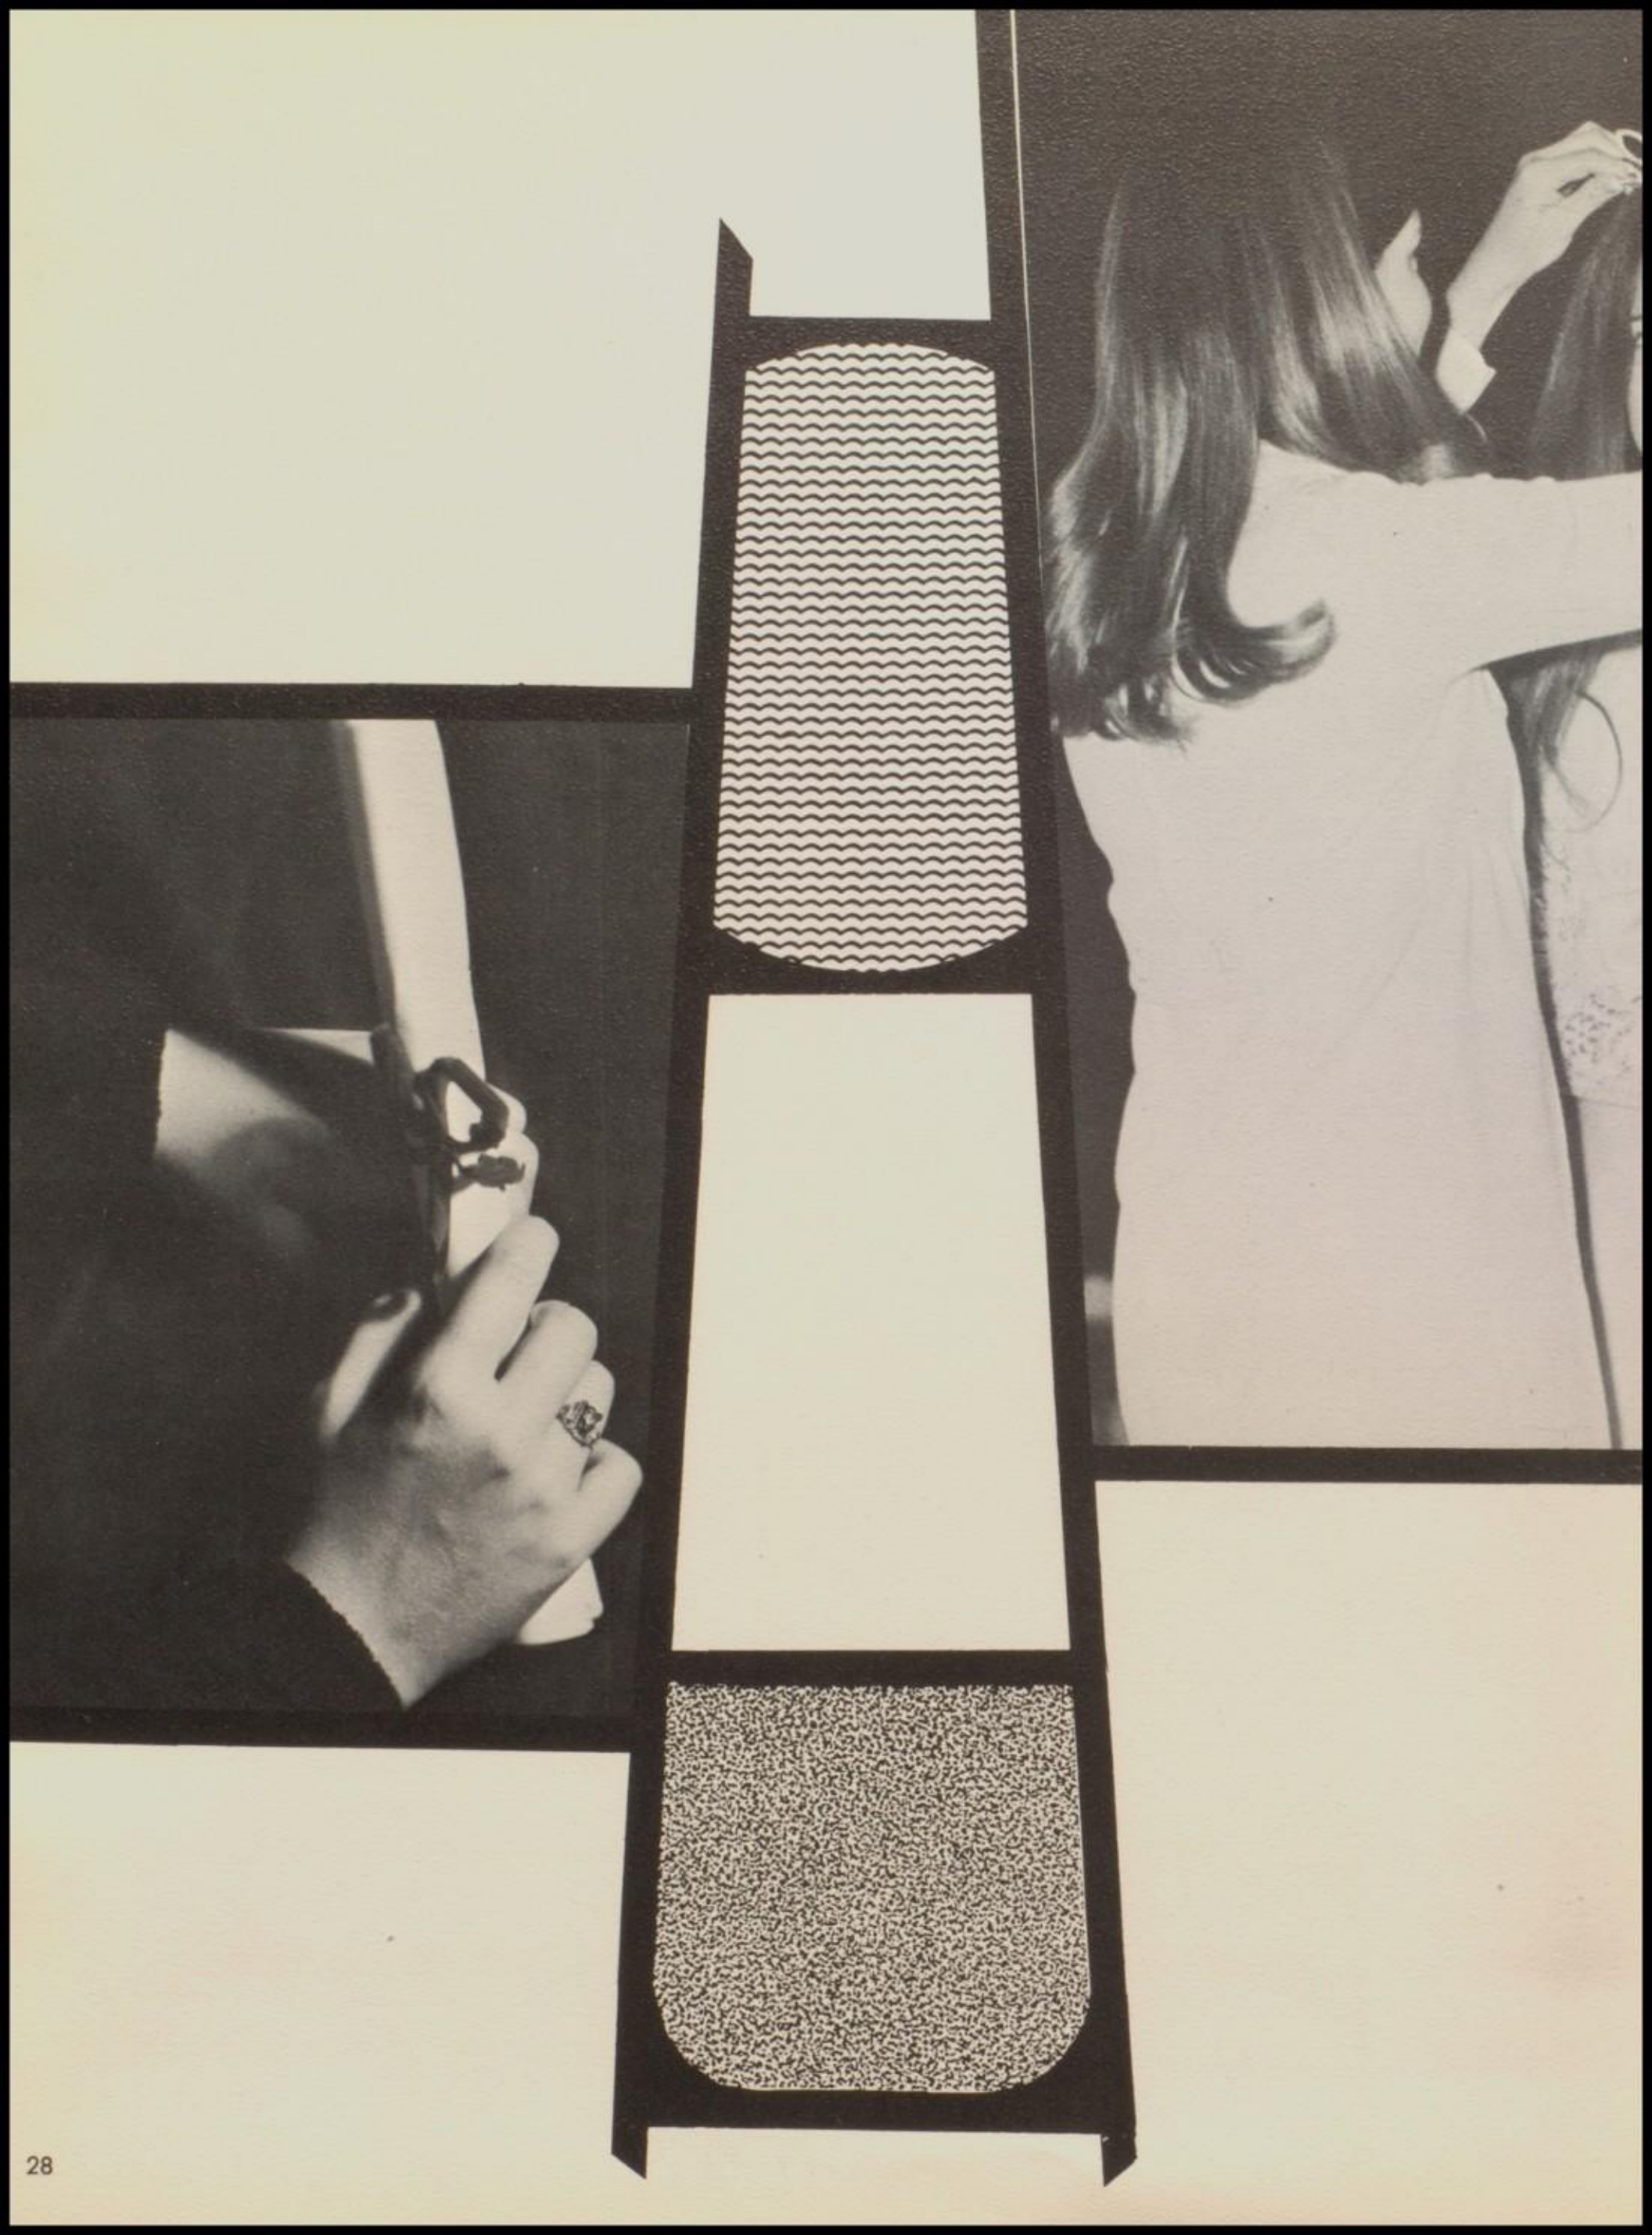

June arrived with the Torch Signing Party June 4 and graduation on June 10.

Lersch, Elaine head list of top 25

Besides attaining highest scholastic heights, the top 25 students of the Class of '71 also serve Catalina through sports, music, journalism and student organizations. Leading these scholars, DAVID LERSCH and ELAINE MAH maintained 1.000 averages after four years and are recipients of the Gold Key, the school's highest scholastic honor.

All-State bass David Lersch centers his life around music. He is a member of both Concert Choir and the Minstrels of Troy and was picked for the lead in a choral production of "Guys and Dolls." David also enjoys playing his guitar and writing songs. He is president of NHS and was selected Outstanding Junior Boy

by ASU last year.

Elaine Mah, also a music enthusiast, plays the piano and has been a member of the orchestra for four years. Active in FTA, she plans to become an elementary school teacher. Elaine was a member of Service Council, was chosen Outstanding Junior Girl of 1970 and is the secretary of National Honor Society.

Faith Edman

Faith leads flutist, gymnast to goal

Peggy Keigher

Writing short, non-fiction stories is the speciality of FAITH EDMAN. Participating on the speed-a-way and field hockey teams, she enjoys membership in the Concert Choir, Girls League and the Caving and Climbing Club. She plans to study sociology or marine archeology at the U of A.

Band secretary PEGGY KEIGHER has been a flutist in the band for three years and expanded her involvement to the orchestra just this year. After graduation, she plans to attend the U of A.

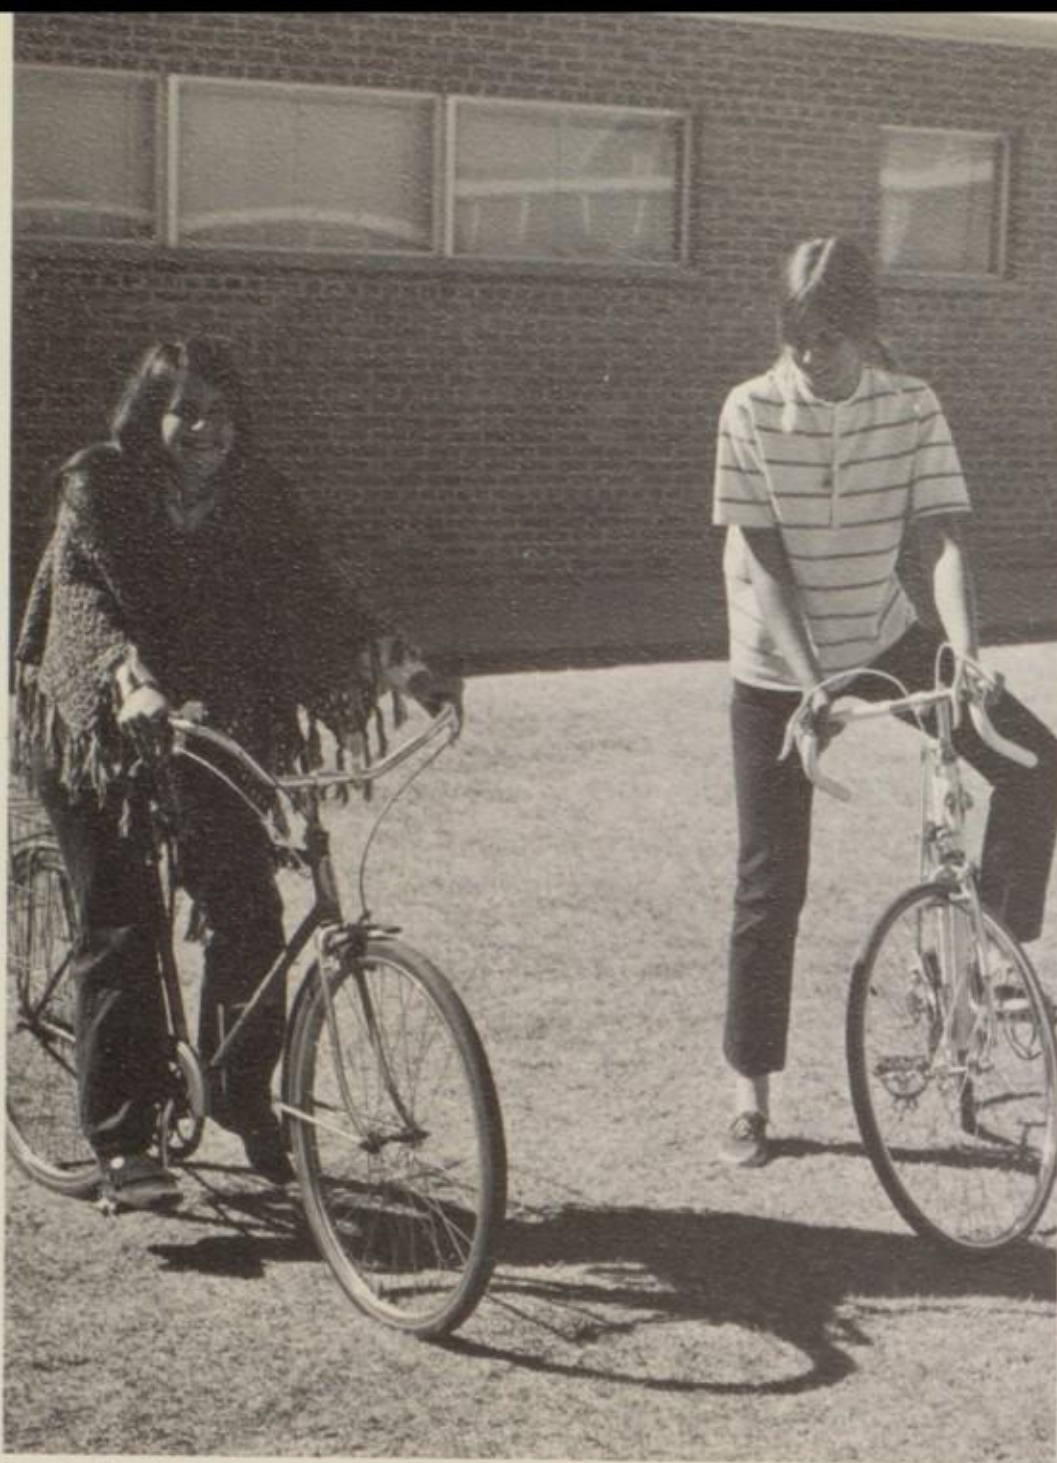

A "daring young man on the flying trapeze," KEN STERNSTEIN has been on the gymnastic team for four years and has participated in NFL and the German Club. Ken enjoys drawing as well as camping and he hopes to study architecture at the U of A.

Kirk Erickson

Journalism has been the principle interest of JANIS LAUBER at CHS. She was on The Trump staff for four years and is president of Quill and Scroll. Janis will attend the U of A and work in guidance counseling or special education.

Federation Vice-President CAROL GILMAN traveled to South Africa as an AFS'er last summer. Carol wants to enroll at Stanford or the U of A and study sociology or law.

A member of the Math and International Clubs, JAMES ZUMBERGE is also active in the Caving and Climbing Club. He will leave for the University of Michigan at the end of the year to study science or math.

Student Court Chief Justice JEFF SEEKATZ belongs to senior advisory board and the Spelunking and Rock Climbing Association. Jeff intends to become a chemistry major at the U of A.

Hiking enthusiast KIRK ERICKSON is a member of the Caving and Climbing Club and GASP, an anti-pollution group. Kirk plans to major in some scientific field at the U of A.

Tennis interests MARK PENDLETON. He has participated on the tennis team for four years and enjoys playing during his free time. After summer school at NAU in Flagstaff, Mark will begin pre-dentistry courses at the U of A.

Dardanaire SUSAN WERNER, a member of the Graffiti staff, enjoys all kinds of art work. Although undecided as far as college choice is concerned, she aspires to be a social or physical scientist.

Susan Werner

Rick Green

Latin lure holds intellect interest

Planning a career in nursing, DAWN FOWLER participated in the Amigos de las Americas program. She intends to attend the U of A, gaining a degree in public health nursing.

Evidencing an extreme dislike for barbers, RICK GREEN is interested in traveling in Central and South America. He plans to attend college on the west coast and major in a social science.

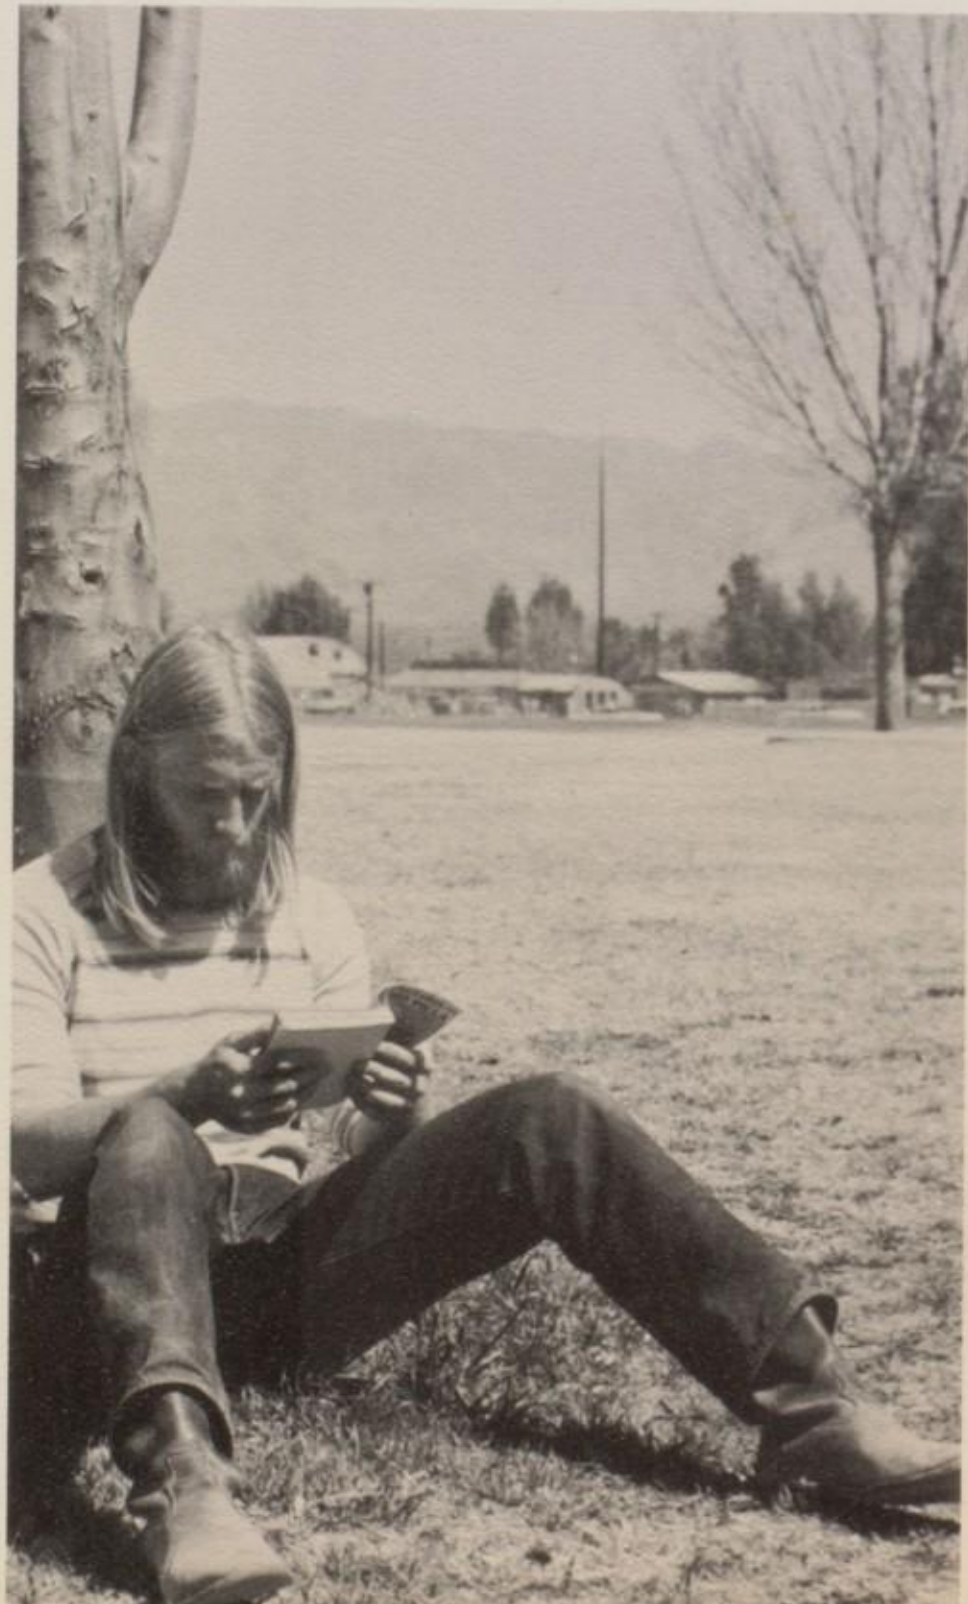

Reading, tennis and horseback riding are enjoyed by JEANNIE SFARNAS, an active member of COE. Planning to attend the U of A, she will enter the College of Business and Public Administration.

Bicycle riding and enjoying the ocean occupy the leisure time of PAT FOWLER, a member of Dardanares and intermediate drama. Although she has no definite plans for a career, Pat will attend the U of A next year.

Her major interest being music, ARLENE MOSER is active in band and orchestra and is a member of her church choir. She hopes to attend the University of the Pacific and major in music therapy.

Though she spends much of her time swimming and reading, KATHLEEN KEMPE is also active in Karate Club, NHS and Service Council. Psychiatry will be her probable major at the U of A.

VIRGINIA MOELLER, a four-year Latin student, participates in Concert Choir. With music her principle interest, she plans to attend Martin Luther College in New Ulm, Minnesota, majoring in music education.

NHS vice-president and Graffiti editor, JANET MANEY devotes much of her time to music. A member of orchestra, she plans to attend ASU and hopes to later study music performance at Oberlin Conservatory.

His interests lying in agriculture and political science, National Merit finalist, PAUL SABA (not pictured) desires a degree in Latin American studies and hopes to teach in a liberal arts college.

VINCENT SABA, a varsity gymnast and National Merit finalist, is interested in mathematics and languages. He plans to attend the U of A.

Auto racing is enjoyed by band and NHS member MARK ANDERSON. Hoping to attend the U of A and the University of California, he plans a career in oceanography.

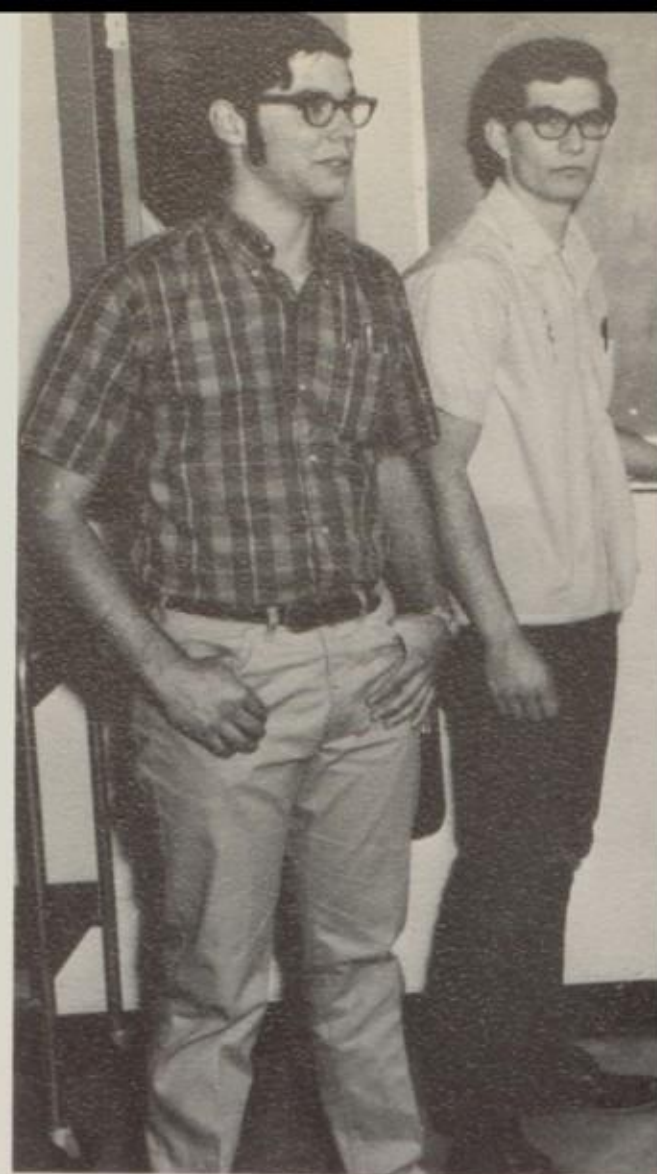

Finding math exciting, PETER RADTKE plans to pursue his interest at the U of A next year. A sports enthusiast, he enjoys football and basketball.

In addition to helping with the Headstart program, BETHANIE BLACK enjoys sewing in her free time. She will enter the College of Business and Public Administration at the U of A next year.

Trojans grab local, nation-wide awards

Demonstrating how CHS fares in competition with other schools, Trojans garnered many awards in local and national contests.

For the second consecutive year, all of the National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists became finalists. JOUBERT DAVENPORT, MARK DUNHAM, PAUL SABA, VINCENT SABA, MARNETTE STANLEY and JAMES ZUMBERGE received top grades on the nationally-administered test.

Taking highest honors in the city-wide Elks Youth Leadership Contest, CAROL GILMAN and STEVE DOWNING won first ($100) and second places ($75), respectively.

Winning another $100, Downing placed first in a speech contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Selected from the Junior Class, AFS'ers KEN CUMMINS and JANE EVANS are guaranteed summer homes overseas.

After nomination by the Senior Class, MARILYN BOSTWICK passed a government test and was named Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen.

Scoring highest in the school on a Betty Crocker test, senior ALICE WHITTAKER became Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Insight, understanding acquired by delegates

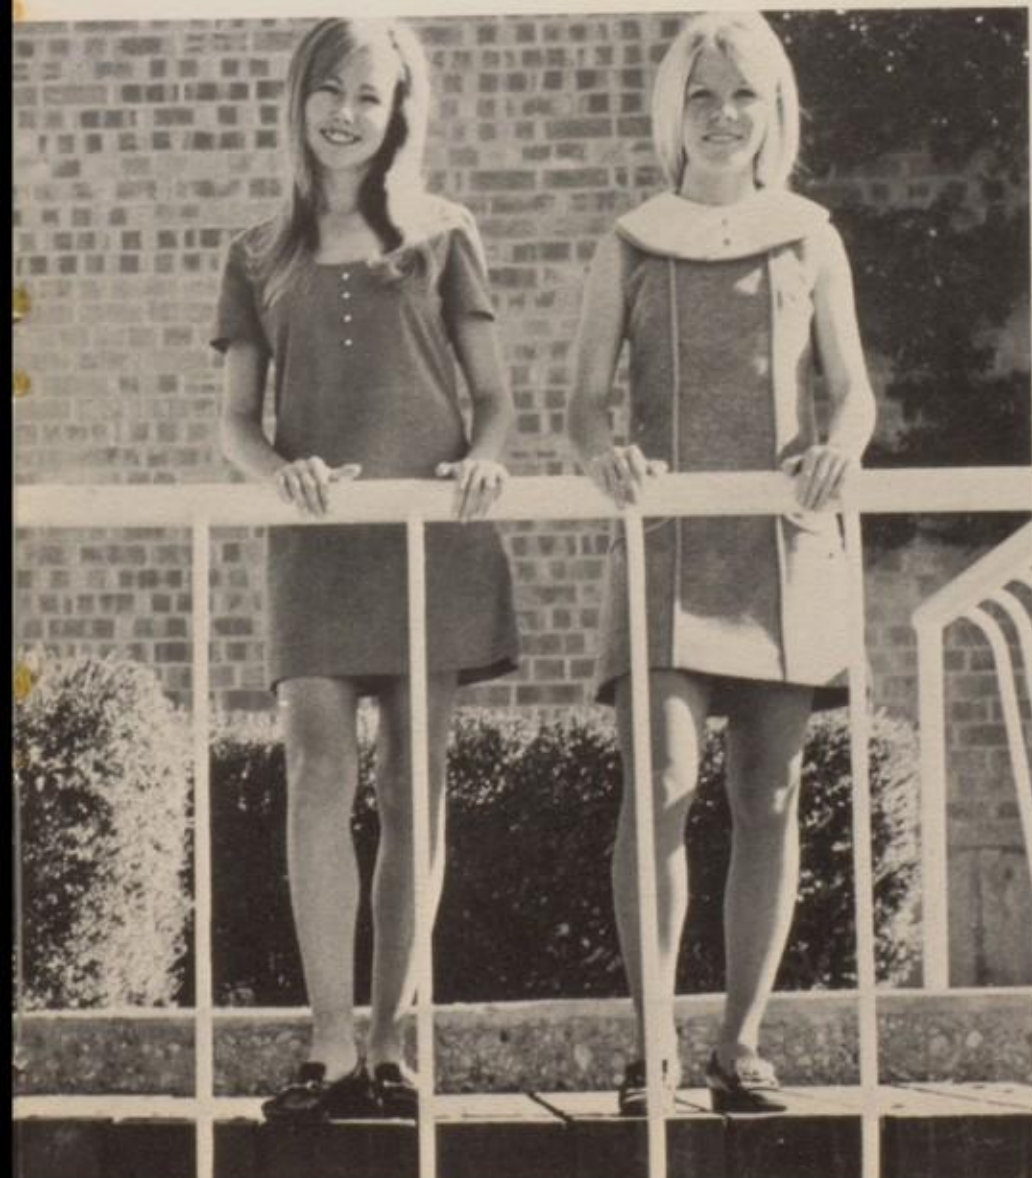

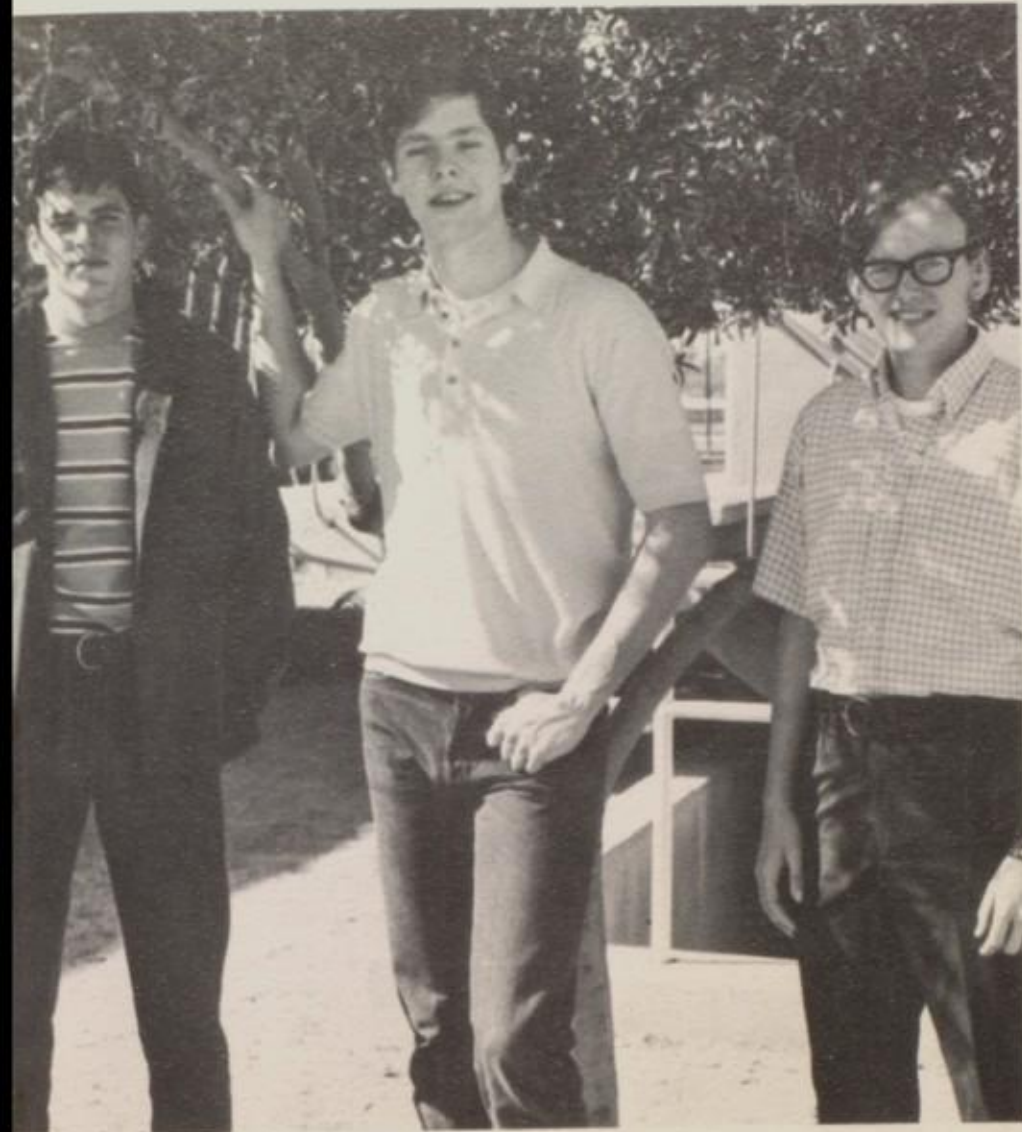

Actual involvement in the government and society of today are experiences several CHS students encountered through Boys and Girls State, Anytown and the Human Relation Conference.

Campaigning, speaking and reasoning are just a few challenges that faced Girls and Boys State delegates during one week sessions last summer. Along with attaining offices, students planned a budget and became the "establishment."

Anytown participants spent a week in the Prescott pines where they sang folk songs and learned to clarify ideas and convictions. Relevant world and family problems were also discussed.

Students from all over the state met in Glendale on November 14 for the Human Relations Conference. By listening to different speakers and forming discussion groups, delegates gained insight into recent issues.

Exchange students encounter

Having been accustomed to raw fish with rice and sukiyaki, Miho Sonehara, Catalina's AFS'er from Yokohama, Japan, finds the switch to cheeseburgers and tacos a strange but pleasant one.

Besides the change in food, Miho has encountered differences in transportation and customs during her stay in Tucson.

For instance, in order to get to school in Japan she must travel by train, bus and foot—a trip of an hour and a half.

Miho's family in Yokohama still practices many ancient customs. It is common to find shoes outside the door of the Sonehara home. Also, if you were to meet Miho, she would greet you with a bow.

She enjoys volleyball and drama. In her high school in Japan, she performed in Greek tragedies.

unusual adventure, another family

Can you imagine getting up in the morning, putting on knee socks, a knee-length dress and rolled-brim hat and wearing all this to school?

AFS American's Abroad student Carol Gilman did just that during her stay in Johannesburg, South Africa this summer.

Though she found few differences otherwise, she soon discovered a great contrast in racial attitudes. Carol was surprised to find apartheid, the complete separation of the Negro and white races, such a common part of daily life. Visiting several of the all-black schools, she wished she could have mingled more freely with this segment of the population.

While attending a Catholic parochial school, Carol spoke several times to classes about life in the U.S. In addition, she found time to go picture hunting on safaris and swim in the Indian Ocean.

Mike Benner

Trojan Queen

Centering her years at CHS around fine arts, MIKE BENNER is a member of Concert Choir, Minstrels of Troy and the Thespian Society. She was also a Dardanaire as a sophomore and junior.

Mike served her class as freshman president, director of senior Capers and as a member of advisory board. She has also been a Trojette, Human Relations Conference delegate and on Service Council.

Planning to attend NAU to major in forestry and minor in music, Mike anticipates a career in one of these fields.

Catalina chooses Homecoming court

During "The Tombstone Story," halftime activity of Catalina's Friday the 13th Homecoming, the Queen and attending court were crowned.

As head cheerleader and Student Federation corresponding secretary, MARJIE ANDERSON (left) is an active participant in school affairs. She also served her class as sophomore secretary and a junior Student Council member.

Interested in anything related to the ocean, MARILYN BOSTWICK (below) intends to major in marine biology. Her hobbies include swimming and skiing.

Federation vice-president CAROL GILMAN (top) spent her summer in South Africa as an AFS'er and also attended Girls' State, where she was elected governor. In addition, she is secretary of SPOT.

JANET JARVIS (right) was a member of Council for her first three years at CHS. She was a JV cheerleader and is head song-leader this year.

Bonnie Randall reigns; repeats rodeo's history

For the second consecutive year, a junior was elected Rodeo Queen, attaining a position heretofore traditionally held by a senior. As well as reigning over Catalina's festivities, BONNIE RANDALL participated in the city-wide Rodeo Parade.

Enthralled with outdoor activities, Bonnie enjoys horseback riding and swimming. She frequently spends her weekends camping and fishing in Tucson area mountains. Planning a career as a registered nurse, possibly specializing in surgery, Bonnie hopes to attend the U of A College of Nursing.

Princesses steer rodeo activities

During a week of three-legged races, grub days, and tug-o-war contests, the rodeo princesses were crowned by last year's queen Marilyn Bostwick.

Swimming and playing the piano interest senior princess DEBBIE ABEGG (below left). She is also a member of Trojettes and the senior advisory board. After graduation, Debbie plans to enter either NAU or the U of A for a teaching or nursing career.

Twirler GINGER BATTAGLIA (below right) enjoys swimming, softball and horseback riding. After attending Pima College, she hopes to become a beautician.

Student court member VICKY

RAMSEY (bottom left) is also secretary of the Girls League Council. She participates in Trojettes and the sophomore advisory board.

Tennis and swimming are activities of freshman princess KIM ALBERTS (bottom right). She also plays the bass for both the orchestra and stage band.

Torch royalty reign over bonfires, trees

With a crackling fire and Christmas trees in the background, the Torch King and Queen were crowned at the "Old-Fashioned Christmas" December 16.

Seen at different times of the year either sinking a basket or slamming a homerun, Torch King RICK PARLETT is an active member of the Letterman's Club. Although varsity basketball and baseball occupy much of his time, he also belongs to NHS and the Senior Advisory Board.

Sailing and gliding are two of Torch Queen MARGII ANDERSON's favorite hobbies and being head cheerleader and student body corresponding secretary keep her busy the remainder of the time. Margii has been active in student government since her freshman year and she was a delegate to Girls' State.

Dear crown rests on sophomore

Breaking with tradition, a sophomore was chosen 1971 Dear King at an informal Coffee House after students donated money as votes.

Senior Student Senate member RICK GREEN (left) is also a member of NHS. Further education in liberal arts heads his plans.

Commodore of the Sailing

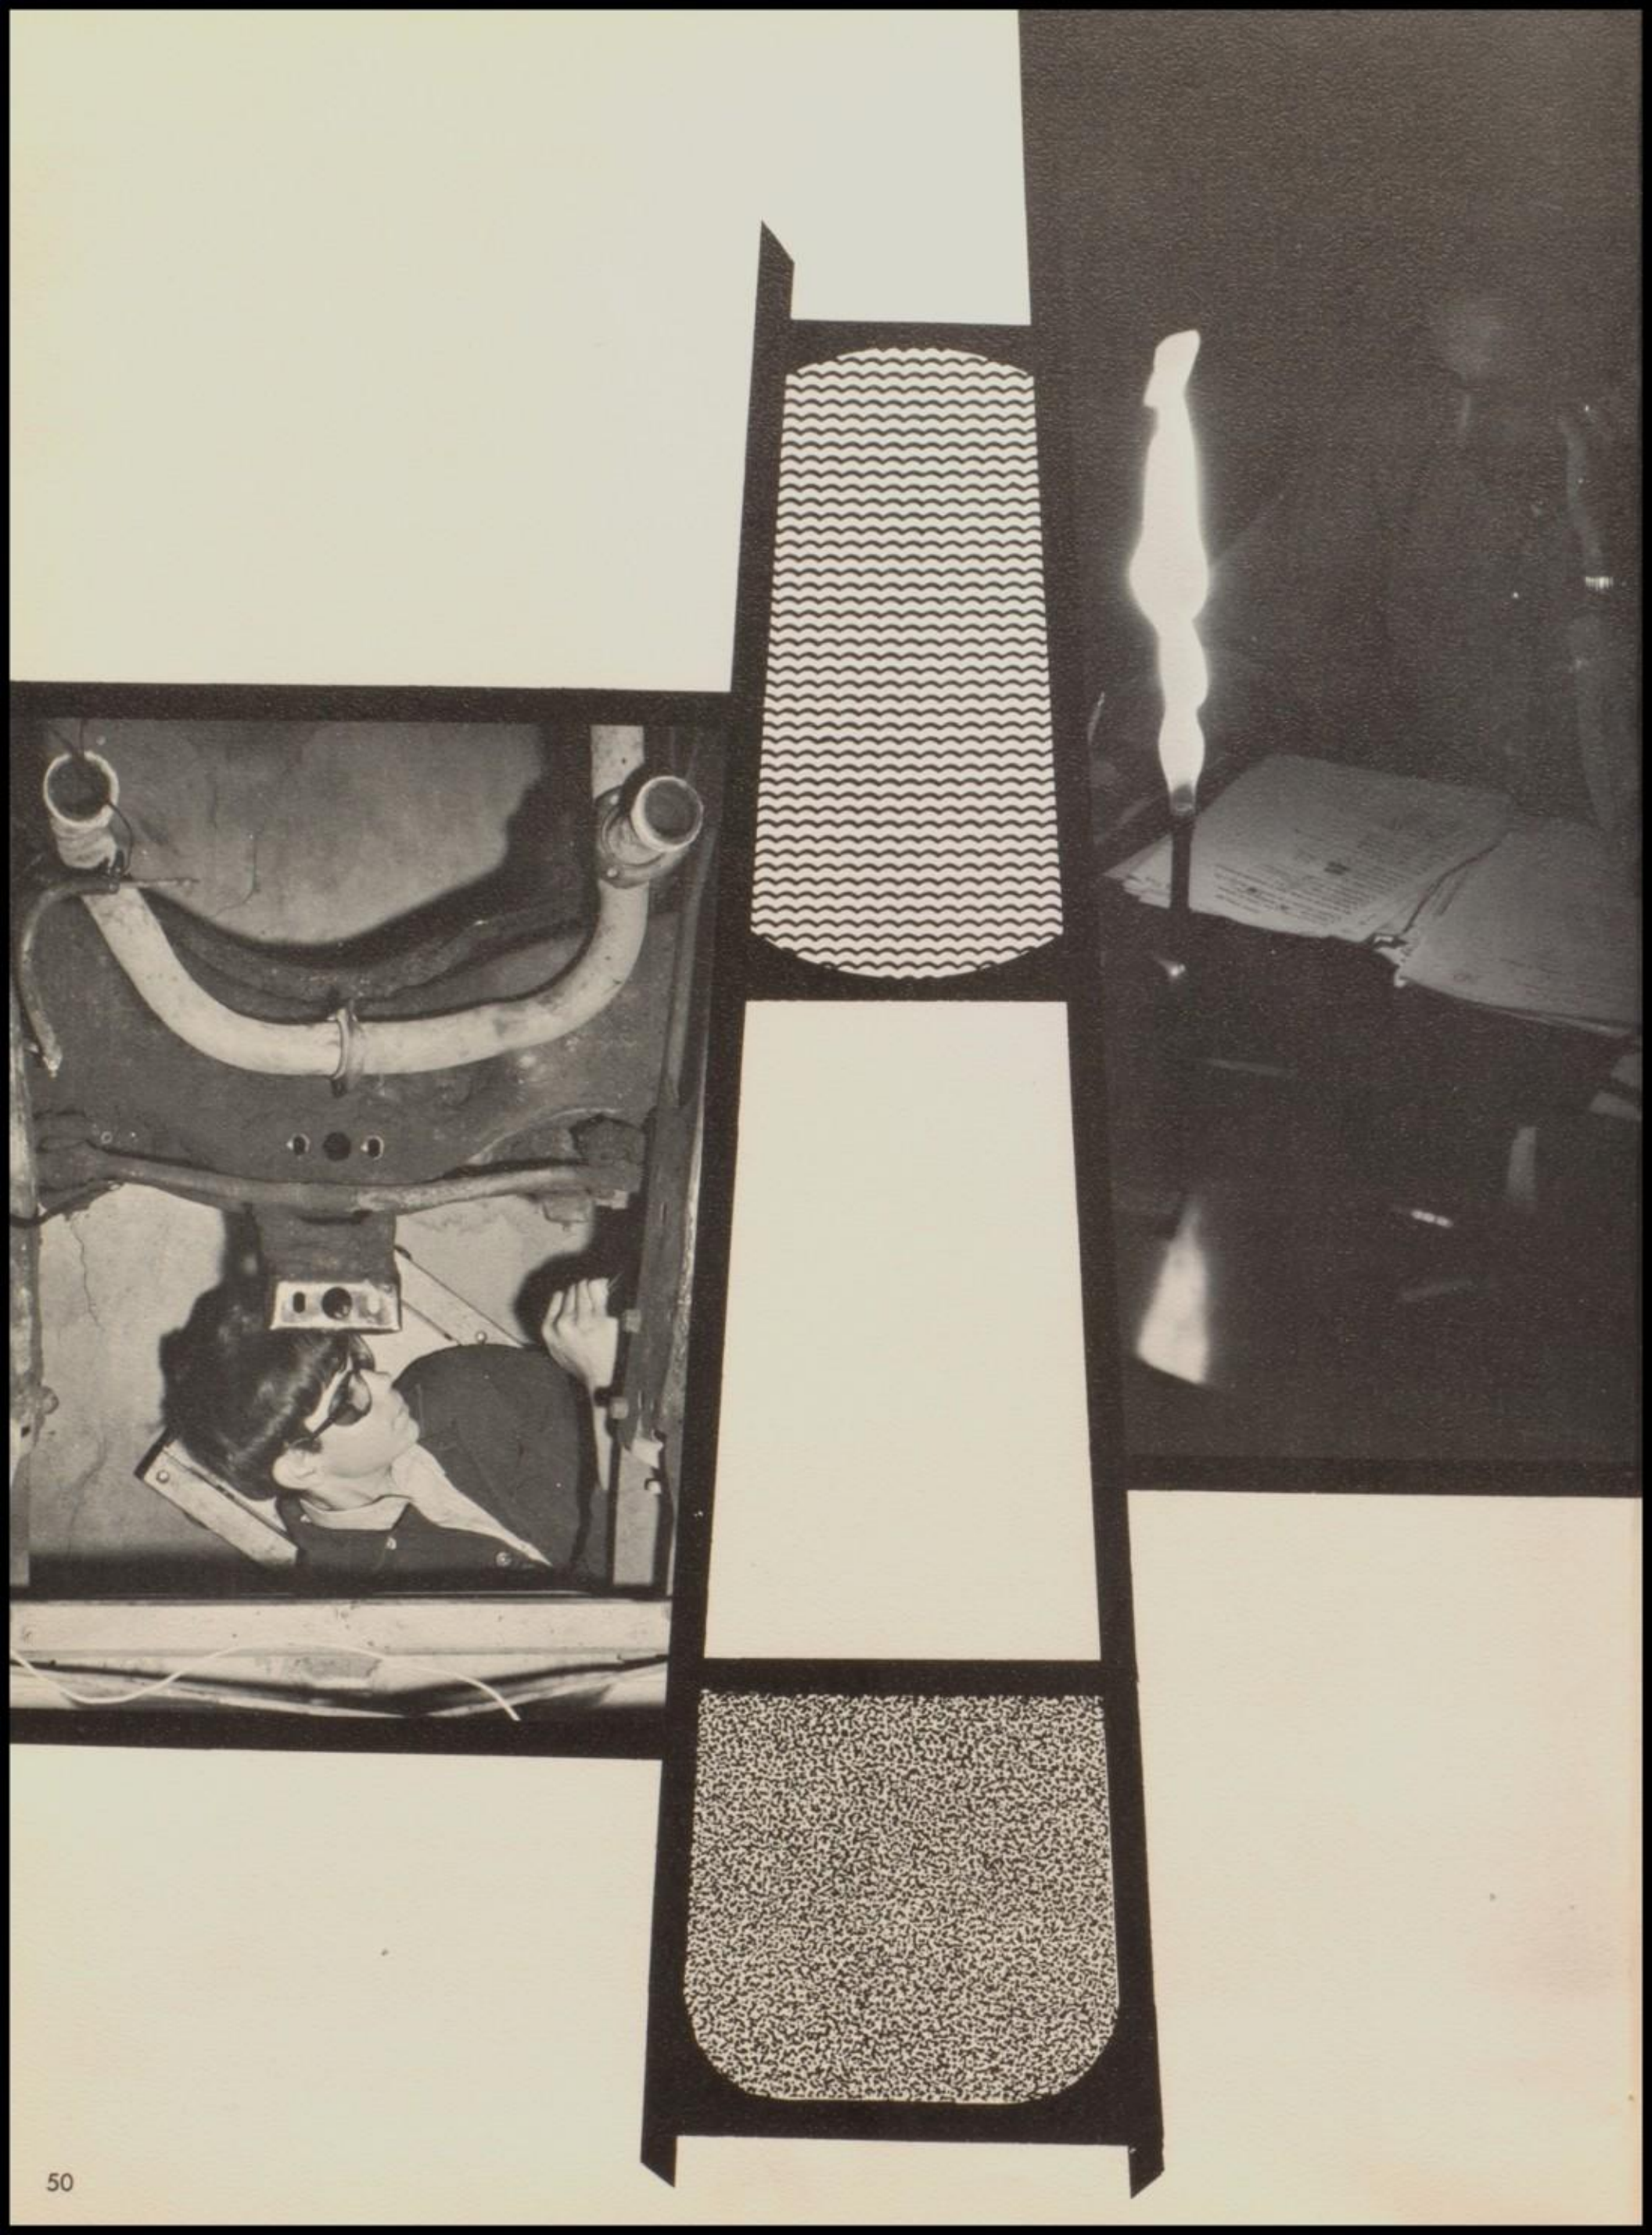

Club, junior RANDY WRONKO (left center) spends his time building boats. He enjoys football, skiing and flying. Hoping to become a pilot, Randy plans to enter Cochise College or the U of A.

Besides being a member of both the varsity basketball and track teams, Dear King JEFF

ROBB (right center) enjoys football and hiking. Jeff plans to enter the field of medicine, possibly at the U of A.

A freshman on the varsity track team, JEFF GREEN (right) also likes swimming, hiking and traveling around the U.S. He plans to pursue a medical career in a Midwest college.

Curriculum

Just as an iron cast upon malleable plastic,

Inflation challenges School Board

Dealing with increasingly inflated funds, the District 1 School Board is faced with reducing graduation requirements and limiting the curriculum.

To combat this inflation, the Board has already increased the student-teacher ratio and eliminated many classes. Chinese, other foreign languages and subjects in which few students are interested have been dropped.

Headed by President Katie Dusenberry, the Board consists of five members elected for staggered five-year terms. They work with three administrators to form policies and make decisions concerning expenditures and curriculum. Policies are proposed by the Board, while the Administration carries them out.

ADMINISTRATION—Hugh Summers, business manager; Dr. Thomas Lee, superintendent; Allen Hawthorne, assistant superintendent in charge of administration and service. It's the administration's duty to advise the School Board on district activities, handle financial problems and see to other business matters.

SCHOOL BOARD—Clerk Soleng Tom, President Katie Dusenberry, Dr. Harmon Harrison, Dr.

William Pistor, Mrs. Jane Hafley. The members of the School Board make the policies that govern the schools and take charge of hiring teachers and making curriculum changes.

Hendrickson combats drug abuse

In his second year as principal, Derald Hendrickson found drug abuse and rapidly changing educational needs to be Catalina's major concerns. Though only a partial solution to these problems, Mr. Hendrickson attempts to have continual rapport with students.

Realizing the drug problem, Mr. Hendrickson believes that control is best gained by students taking a stand. With this in mind, he instituted Student Council drug abuse programs directly involving the student body.

Also, Mr. Hendrickson would like to place more emphasis on non-college preparatory courses, creating new educational opportunities.

After 20 years in education, Mr. Hendrickson's background includes ten teaching years, the chairmanship of the Math Department at Tucson High and seven years as assistant principal there.

Principals,

deans—Do you know what they do?

Although the assistant principals and deans are an integral part of Catalina, no one knows much about what they do.

For instance, few students can tell you the duties of Assistant Principals David Fithian and Keith Meenan. Mr. Fithian is the head of the attendance, registrars and counselors offices and arranges teachers' class schedules. Mr. Meenan supervises dances and assemblies. Also president of the Rotary Club, he handles all student activities.

It's common knowledge that Deans Gale Bell and Pat Hale handle discipline problems. Few people realize, however, that Miss Hale prepares a monthly calendar and arranges book loans or that Mr. Bell is a member of the Student-Faculty Relations Committee.

Counselors give aid; defy numbers racket

1 student = 1 problem
1 counselor = 450 students
1 counselor = 450 problems

Solving problems is the whole idea behind counseling. A counselor must have a general knowledge of many subjects in addition to being a vocational and educational specialist.

Recommending classes and providing occupational information are two ways counselors assist students during their school years. In an effort to develop concepts that will be useful after graduation, counselors plan a curriculum parallel to individual interests.

Various exams for those entering colleges may be obtained through the counselors' office. Listings of local and out-of-state admissions and scholarships, including financial aid to all Arizona colleges, are also available.

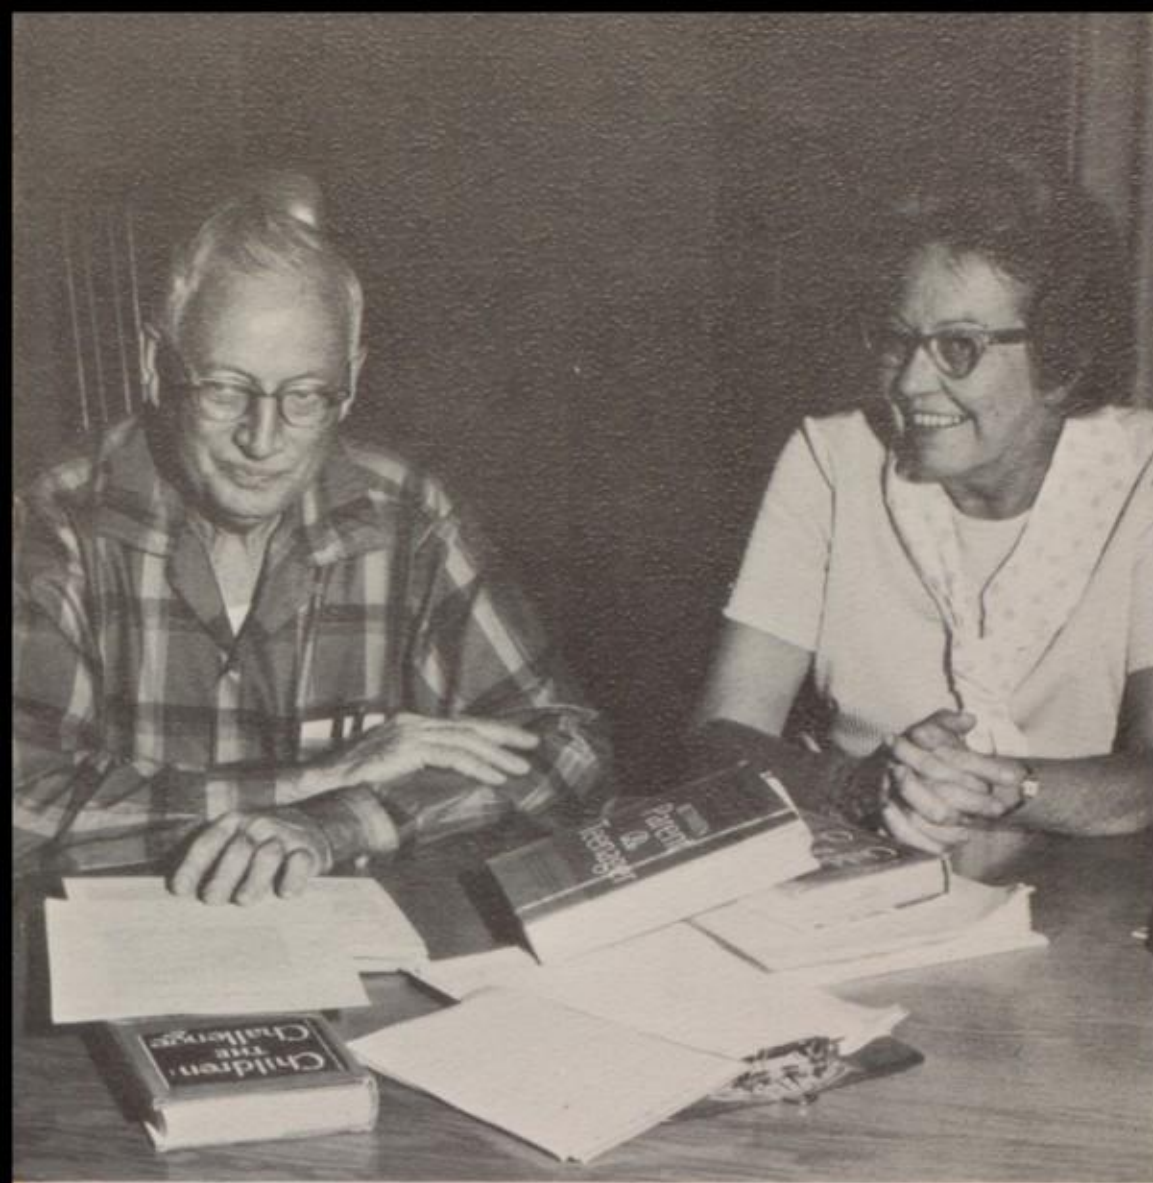

Besides their regular duties, three counselors also serve as class advisers.

Library gets new sights, sounds

ABOVE: Checking out equipment such as this recorder are a few duties of Mr. Carlos Castro. RIGHT: As head librarian Mrs. Barbara Hannum carries a stack of books, Miss Audrey Crook makes space for them.

Sights and sounds of an audio-visual aids department, including a selection of records, tapes and film strips, have been added to the library this year.

In addition, the department provides students and teachers with film projectors and video tape players. A departmental supervisor, Mr. Carlos Castro, is now available to suggest materials that will supply information and add dimension to fact. Mr. Castro also operates the equipment and recommends additions to the department.

Along with this collection of audio-visual aids, new books, paperbacks, and periodicals are constantly being included in the library's warehouse of knowledge.

Nurse, trainer render health care

Combining their medical knowledge, nurse Mrs. Leona Korttila and trainer Richard Klein provide health care for students.

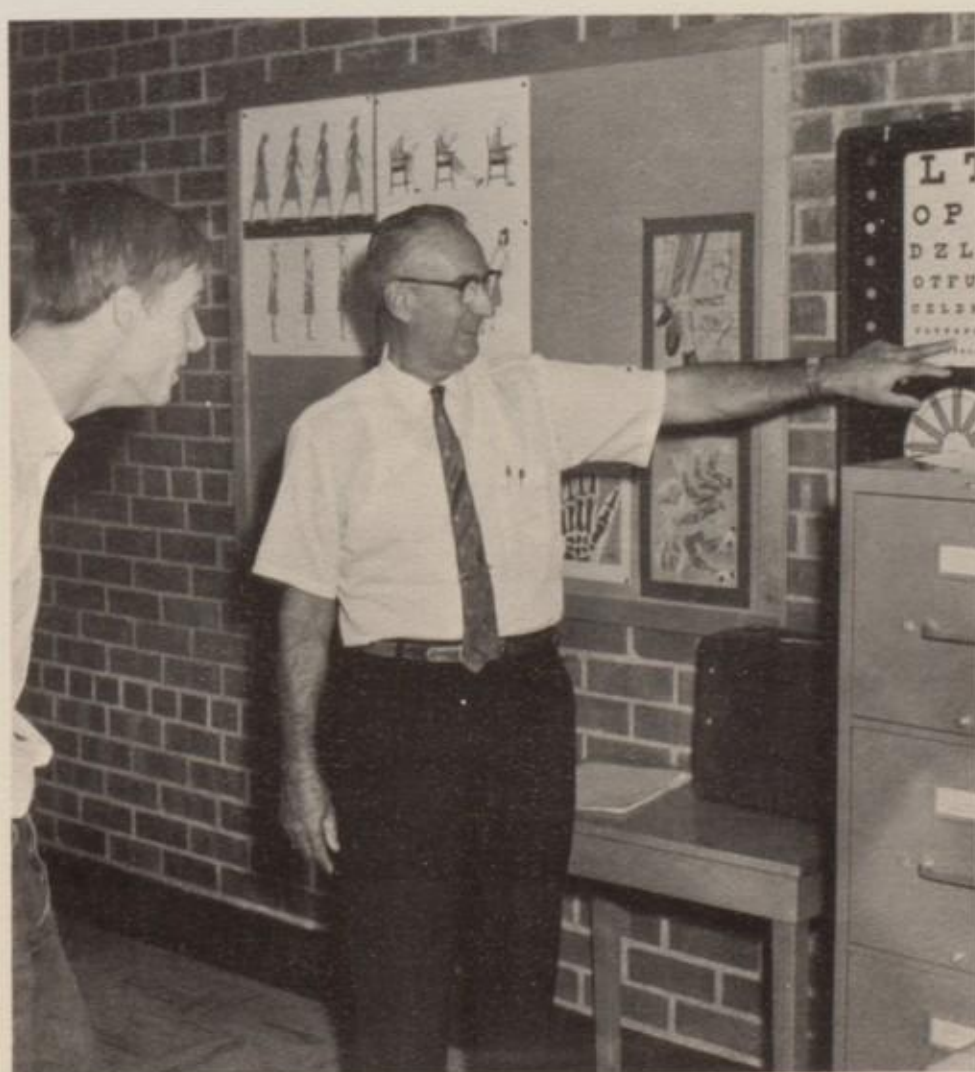

In addition to assisting the school's doctor with physical examinations, Mrs. Korttila keeps student health and insurance records. She also renders first aid to those who are injured or ill.

Mr. Klein, athletic director and equipment supervisor, schedules sports events and arranges transportation for athletes. He attends all interscholastic events in case of injury.

new elective English classes

Introduced to seniors last year, the English Department's elective program is now being offered to juniors as well. Through this system, students may choose one of five electives according to personal interest.

The most popular of the five electives, modern communications, focuses on the mass media, including movies, television and books by contemporary writers.

Two dramatic electives are also offered. Students in modern drama attend the Arizona Civic Theater's productions and discuss them in class. With the use of audio-visual aids, students in Shakespeare study his personal life, literary characteristics and writing style.

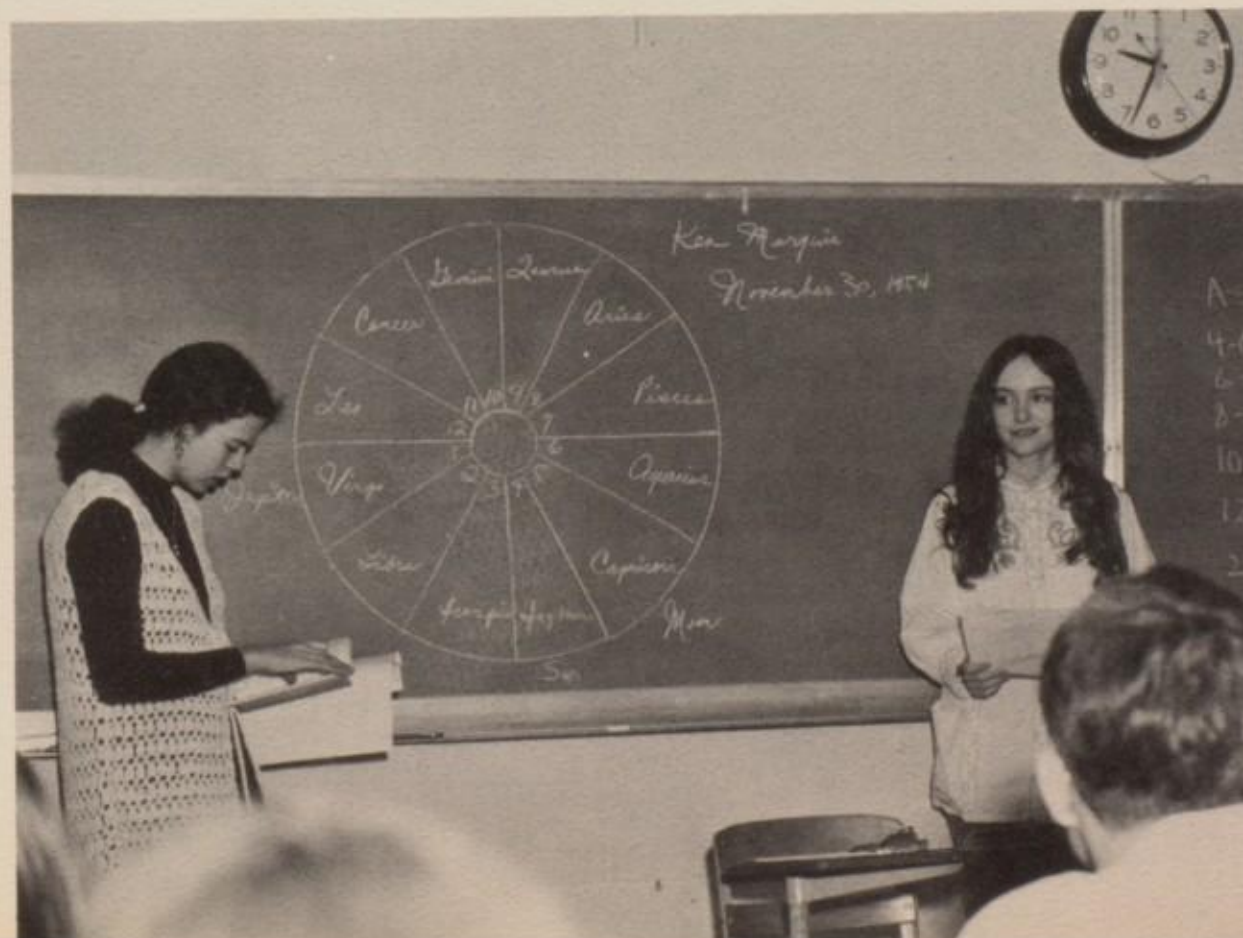

Modern world writers is designed to study pre-20th Century authors and 20th Century authors in order to draw comparisons.

Personal writing styles and different types of compositions are experimented with in creative writing.

New course, teachers foster learning of foreign languages

One new language class and two new teachers have been added to the Foreign Language Department.

After being cut from the curriculum last year, Russian has been reinstated as an independent study course.

New Spanish teachers include Mr. Pintor and Mr. Nava who both speak Spanish natively. Mr. Nava did his practice teaching here at CHS last year.

The Foreign Language Department also offers classes in French, German, Latin and Chinese.

Interest spurs growth of fine arts

Increased demands for art and music have led to the expansion of the Fine Arts Department.

Enlarged enrollment and interest in art have necessitated three more classes this year—two general art courses and a craft class. The service of a part-time teacher also became essential. New dimensional art courses, including arts and crafts such as weaving, ceramics and sculpturing, were also added.

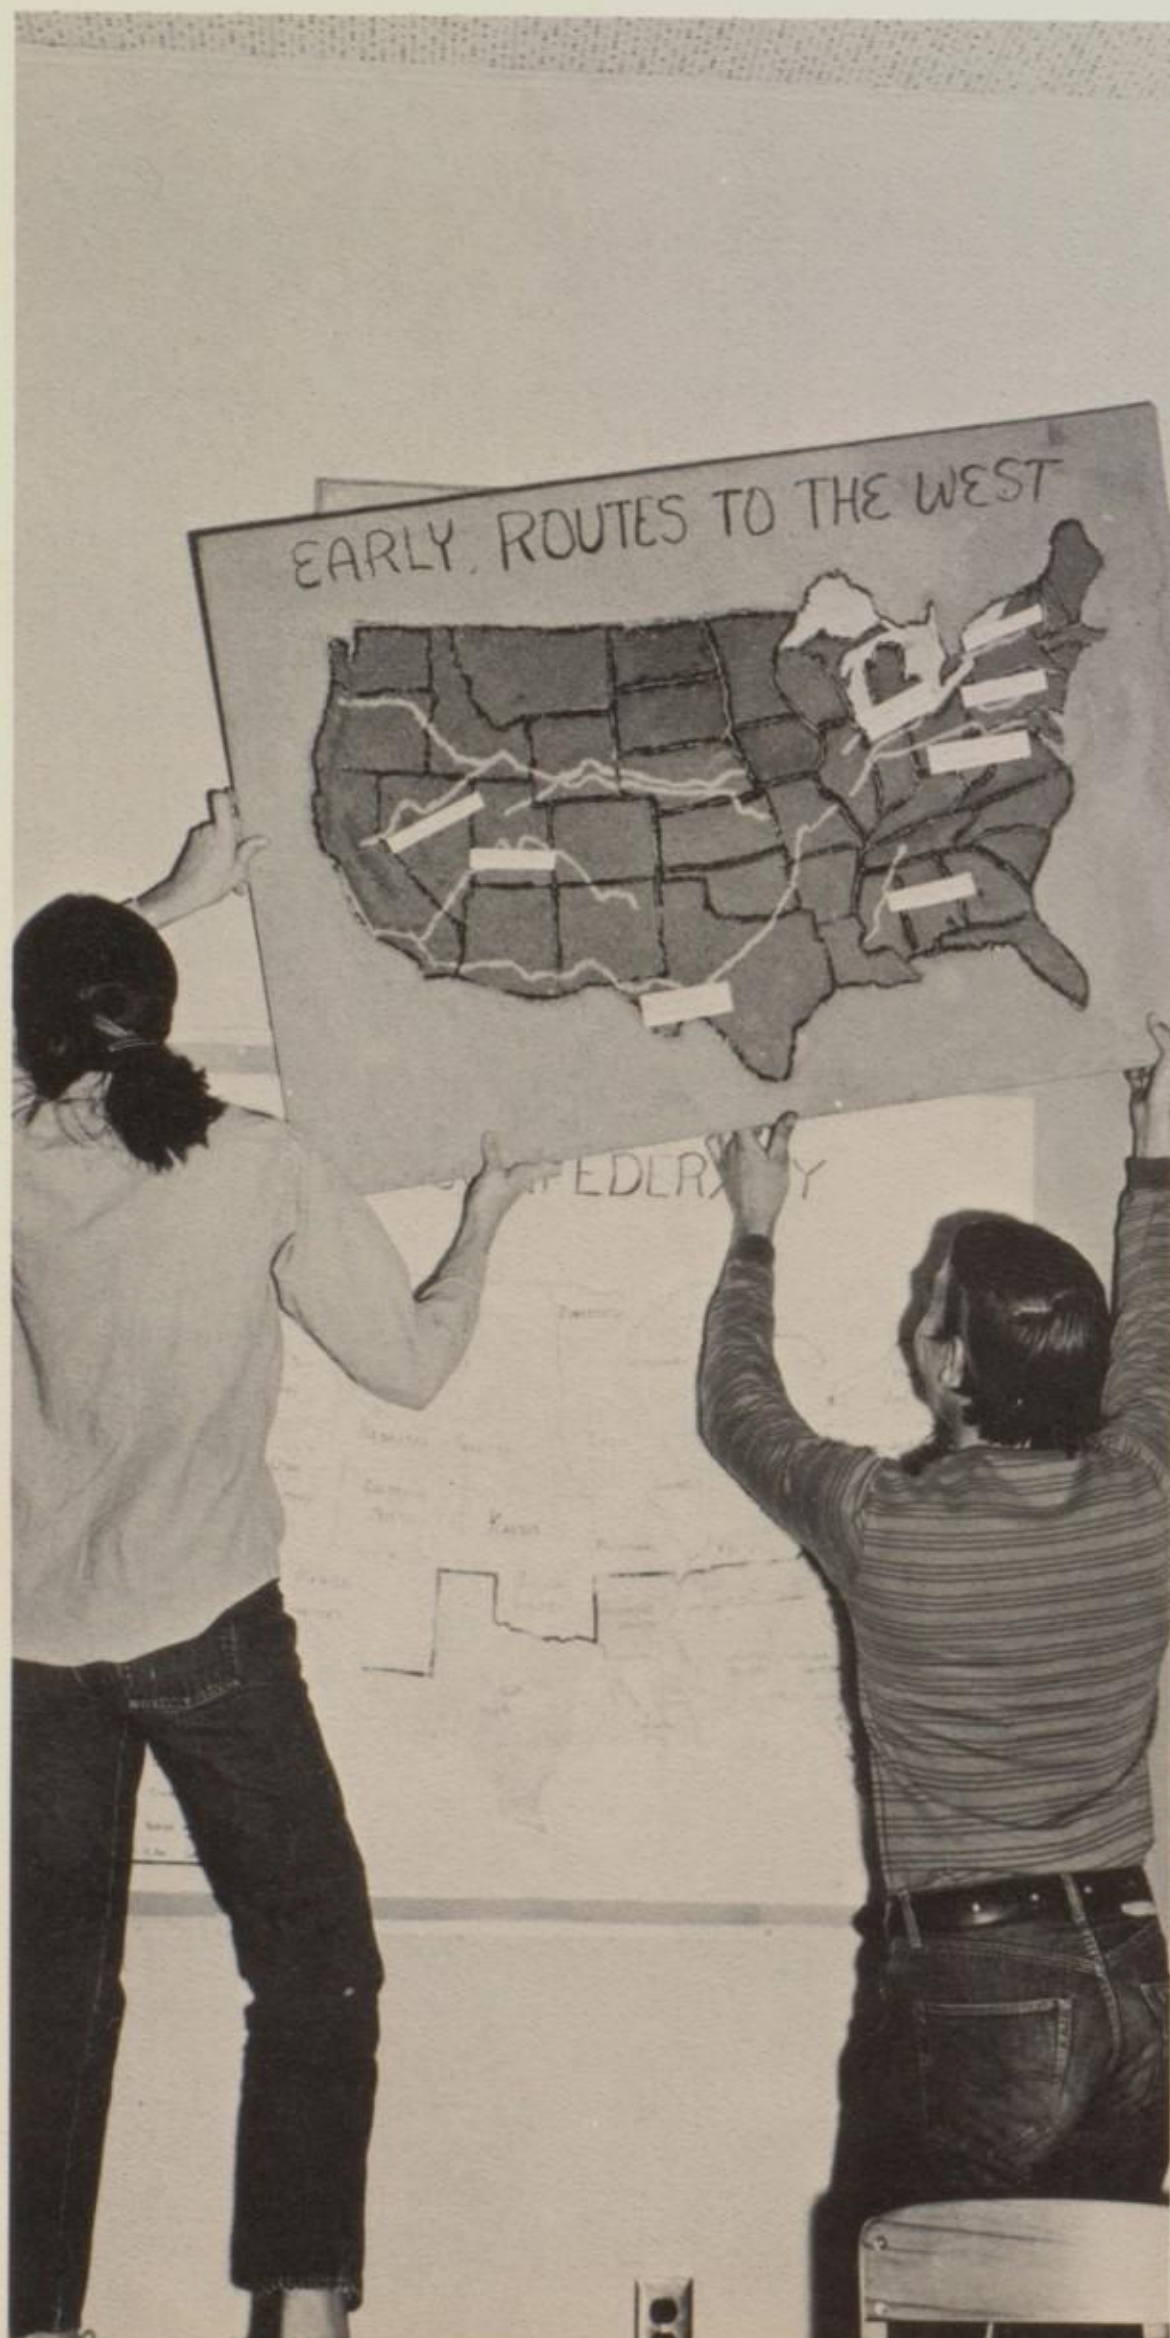

In addition, a stage band has been initiated for advanced jazz players as well as a beginning band for amateur players. Music theory may be rescheduled for 1970-71 after this year's cancellation.

Social studies change proposed

Proposing to expand American history to sophomores, the Social Studies Department hopes to increase student awareness of world problems through programs such as Model United Nations.

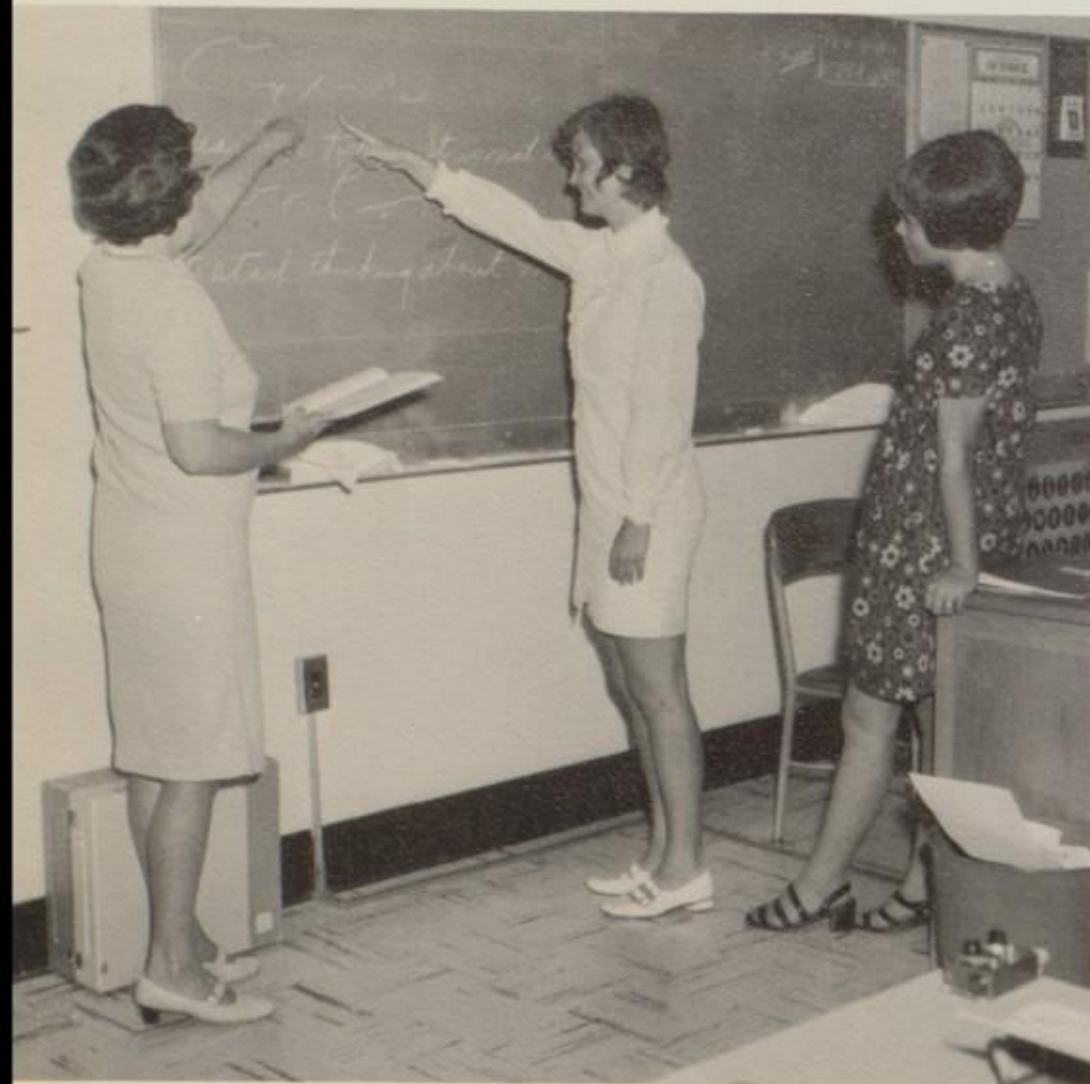

American history, currently offered only to juniors, would be opened to sophomores if the curricular change sought by the department is approved. Then, as juniors, students would take American problems, consisting of one semester of government and one of economics, sociology or world problems. Under this plan, seniors would be freed from a history requirement, leaving time for electives.

Students interested in studying the world today may do so through Model UN. Each year, 350 students from Arizona meet at the U of A to pass bills and debate world politics. On December 11-12, the countries of Cambodia, Iraq and Swaziland were represented by Catalina's delegates. The head of political affairs for the UN was the conclave's featured speaker.

SOCIAL STUDIES—Top Row: James Black, M.A.—American history, Latin American history, golf . . . Ben Davis, M.A.—American history, Karate Club adviser, Sophomore Class adviser . . . ## Department gets COE in 2 shifts

Catalina became the only school in the city this year whose Business Education Department offers Cooperative Office Education (COE) in a double shift. Being involved in this new program means that students may attend classes in either the morning or the afternoon and work for local businesses during the other half of the day.

Previously, classes were conducted only in the morning and jobs were held in the afternoon. Consequently, the plan benefits not only COE participants but also the companies whose main flow of business is in the morning.

Other courses offered within the department are distributive education, business law and typing.

According to Miss Charlotte Proper, department head, the courses give students "something to fall back on after graduation. When no jobs are available, they give kids an alternative."

BUSINESS EDUCATION—Top Row: Charles Anderson, M.Ed.—bookkeeping, business law, senior business, Senior Class adviser . . . Mrs. Pauline Baldwin, B.A.—typing, shorthand . . . Douglas Graham, B.B.A.—general business, senior business, typing . . . Second Row: Mrs. Francine Kienow, B.A.—cooperative merchandising, marketing, senior marketing, DECA adviser . . . # Home ec cooks up FEAST plan

Food Education and Service Training (FEAST), a program designed to prepare students for careers in restaurant management, is the newest addition to the curriculum of the Home Economics Department.

Participants in the FEAST program, which was initiated this year, receive offers to work in various Tucson restaurants, including the Tack Room, the Iron Mask, Levy's Territorial Room and Pioneer East.

Other courses offered by the department are home living, which explores family relationships, and child development. At the end of the year, students in these classes run a nursery school.

plans new course—‘man-made world’

Tired of the same old math courses? Why not try a new course, “man made world,” being offered next year? Combining math, science and social studies, the technology class, now in the planning stages, will be open to all with an algebra credit.

For those who wish to work with computers, data processing, a three-year-old course, is available. The program involves operation and programming computers.

Emphasis in the Math Department is placed on teaching students as individuals. The new student-teacher consultation period has helped in the realization of this emphasis.

becomes inquest of science course

With all the recent speculation about the environment, the Science Department is now offering a biology seminar—a course solely of ecology.

Unlike other biology classes, the seminar is designed "to learn specifically about Tucson's environment," according to Vermont Follet, seminar teacher. Students study fauna and flora of the desert and interactions among its inhabitants. Once a week students take trips into desert areas collecting foliage and insects.

Physics, chemistry, biology, aeronautics and physical science are also available to the student within the science department.

Basic training learned in Drivers' Education, Industrial Arts Depts.

Training in the Industrial Arts and Drivers' Education Departments offers students an opportunity to learn basic skills which will later provide jobs with or without a college degree.

Instructors from all parts of Arizona gathered at Catalina to discuss new methods and techniques of teaching during the Practical Arts Conference in April.

Applying these ideas, the department is planning a science-credited electricity-electronics class which would cover the same material as a second-semester physics class. Other courses are sheet metal, auto and machine shop, welding, graphic arts, drafting, woodworking and general metals.

The Drivers' Education Department offers drivers' training—in-the-car-instruction and drivers' education which teaches the fundamentals of driving in class.

Providing students with a background in driving the department added simulators this year. These devices allow behind-the-wheel practice while in the classroom.

According to driving instructor Clyde Phillips, "As the population increases, specialized drivers will be needed for professional use. Our job will be to train students for these trades."

INDUSTRIAL ARTS—Top Row: Barry Bingham, B.S.—woodworking . . . Guy Chambers, M.S.—general metals, machine shop, chairman Community Drives and Responsibilities Committee . . . # P.E. Dept. gains two new teachers

With the addition of two new instructors, the Girls and Boys P.E. Departments continue to offer a wide variety of sports.

Programming its curriculum, the Girls P.E. Department provides various rhythmic, individual and team activities each semester. An intramural program is sponsored after school and tournaments are also held.

In boys P.E., sports are scheduled every six weeks by the department head. Coach Ted James sponsors the intramural program during lunch.

Performing all of the school's clerical work, members of the secretarial staff aid the administration in its daily routine.

Administrative schedules and correspondence are managed by the principals' secretaries while the dean's secretary handles the mail and registers cars.

In addition to arranging appointments, the counselors' secretary provides college catalogs and admission forms.

Clerks in the attendance and registrars' office keep records and handle schedule changes.

Maintenance personnel, including the cafeteria, bookstore and janitorial workers, provide CHS with cafeteria services, an efficient bookstore and a well-kept campus.

Cooks furnish students and faculty with a large choice of food. Pastry desserts, salads and several main dishes are among additions to the menu.

In addition to selling books and supplies, bookstore personnel keep school records, handle funds for organizations and sell tickets for games and drama productions.

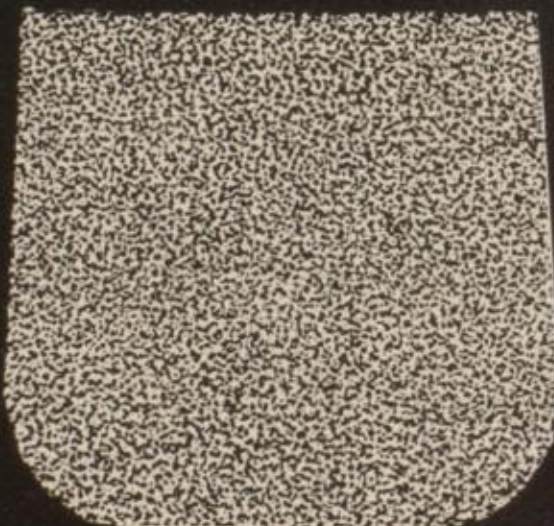

Janitors help maintain the school by keeping the buildings and lunch areas free of litter while the gardeners keep up the appearance of foliage.

Engineers keep the lighting, heating and plumbing systems in good working condition.

Harry Levinson, the night watchman, protects the school from vandalism.

Gridders start with title hopes;

end with 4-5 mark, divisional fourth

Beginning the season with hopes of its first league title, Catalina's football team (4-5) ended the year with disaster, dropping a 3-0 heartbreaker to Douglas (4-6), ranked near the bottom of the division.

A pre-season evaluation of the squad showed it had the makings of a first-class team capable of taking the championship. But after losing the season opener to Tucson High, there were some doubts. Then the Trojans got it all together and rolled up three wins in a row, placing the AAA title within reach again.

Dreams of grandeur were soon shattered, however, when the league race began. The grid-ders were handed four defeats by Salpointe, Palo Verde, Sunnyside and Douglas and finished off the season tying Rincon, which fell to the Trojan squad 21-6 during the regular season, for fourth place in the division.

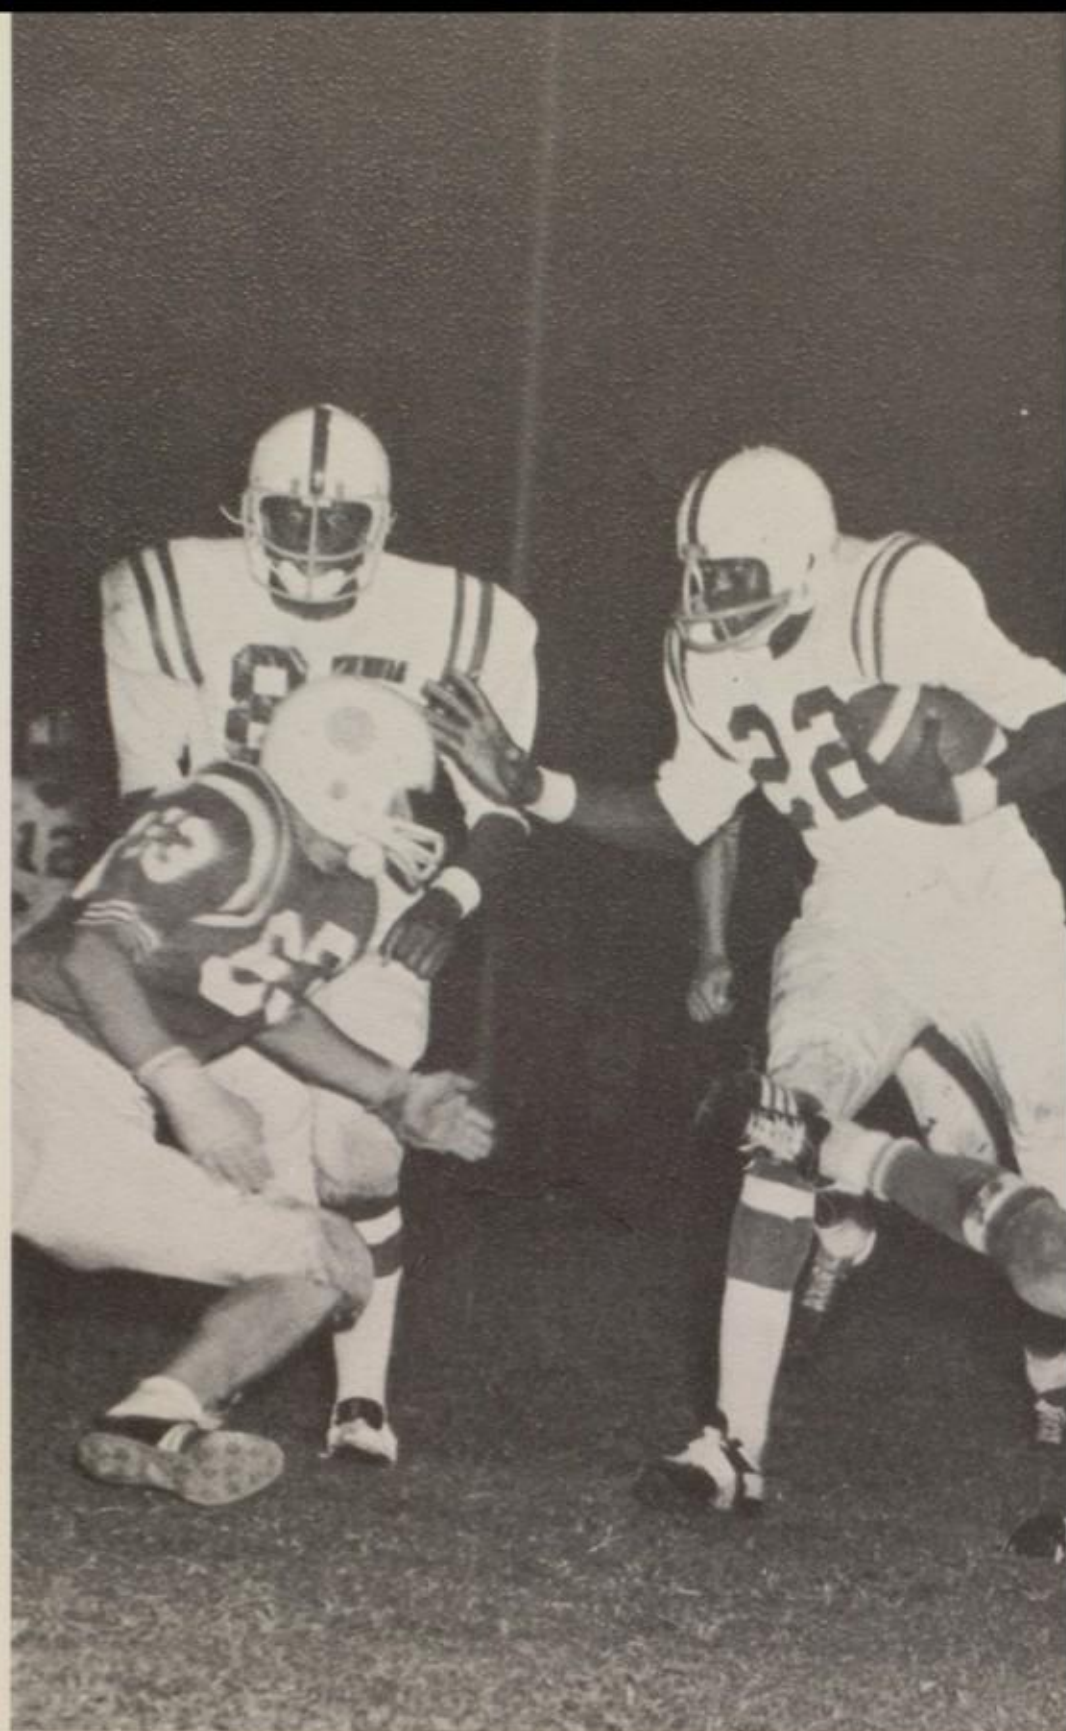

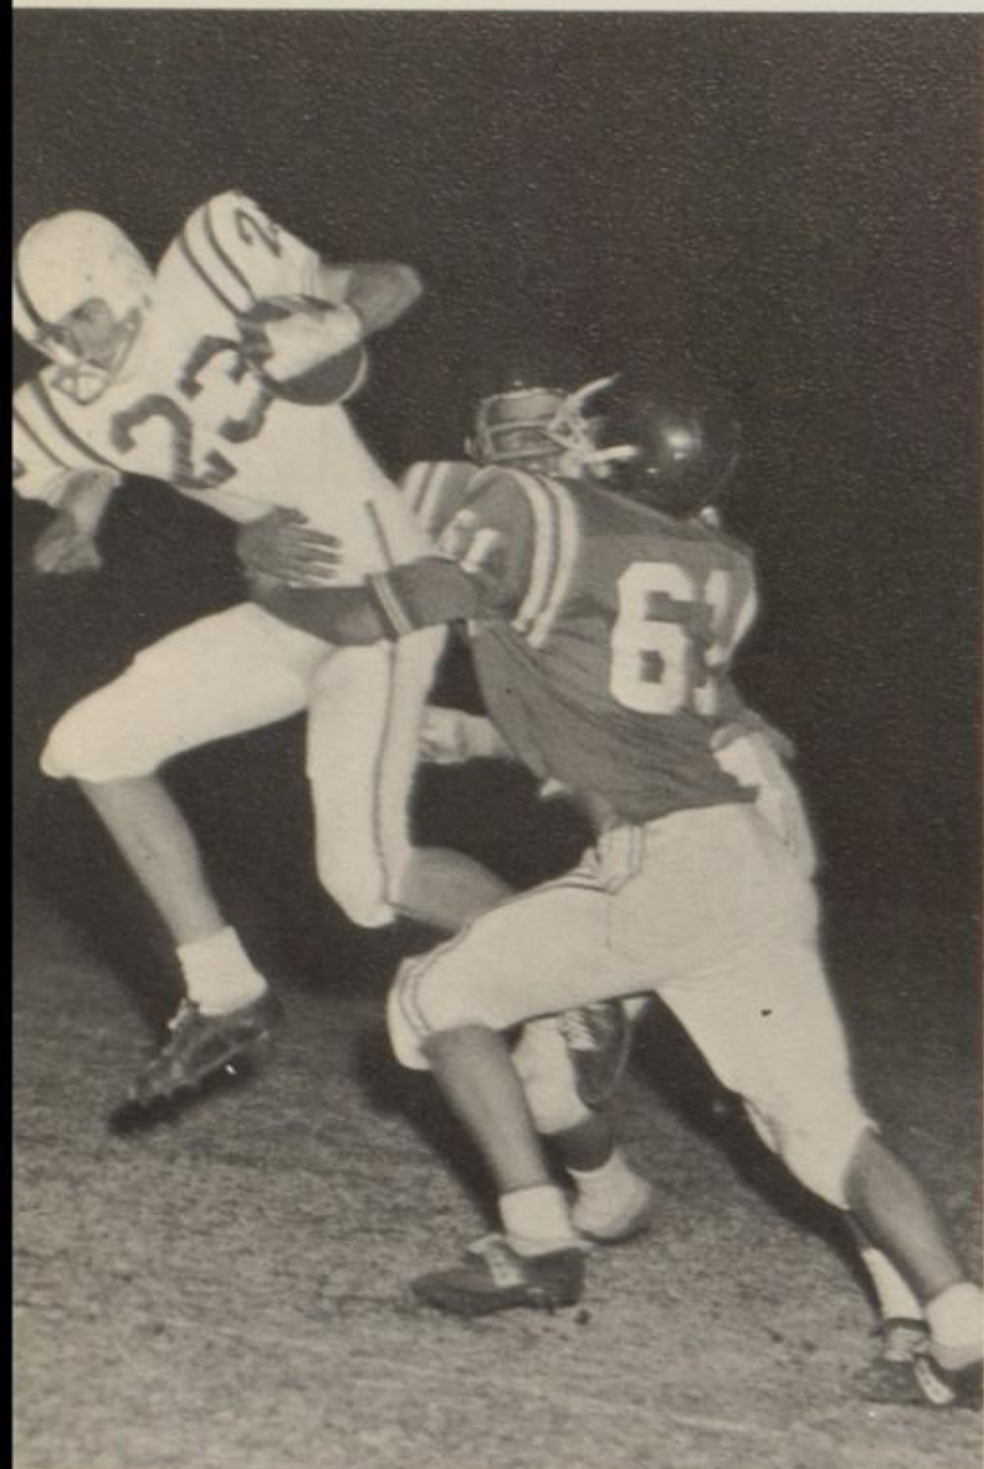

Defense was the key to all of the successes Troy enjoyed. Defensive players held the opposition's score down to insure victory for the sometimes slow-moving offense. The offense was sparked by quarterback Matt Peirce and halfback Danny Kellogg.

Peirce was the team's leading scorer with 60 points and Kellogg the leading rusher. Peirce and Kellogg, along with teammates Marty Fleischhauer, Doug Robb, Randy Lussier, Brian Robertson and Brad Ramsey received All-City honorable mentions. Peirce was also selected for a berth on the South team in the annual North-South game played in July.

Trojans drop to Tucson in opener

After losing a 41-0 season opener to Tucson, a team that went on to win the state title, the gridders traveled to Sahuaro seeking their first win, which they almost didn't get.

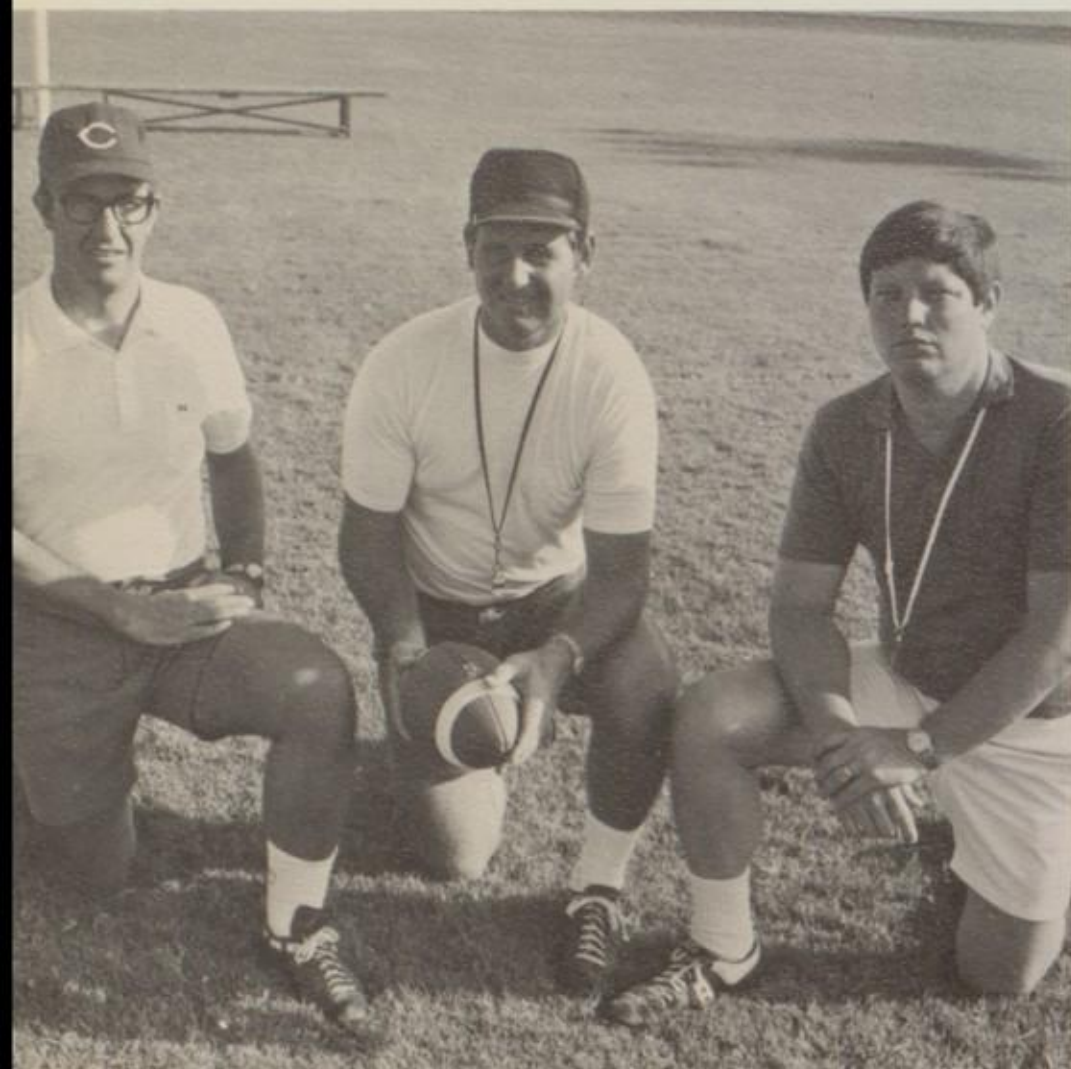

The score in that game remained 0-0 until the fourth quarter, when Peirce and Kellogg rolled up a touchdown apiece to put the game out of reach for the Cougars. The defense held until the clock ran out.

Troy's fortunes continued as the team faced Rincon. Managing only one touchdown late in the fourth quarter, Rincon fell before the Trojan onslaught.

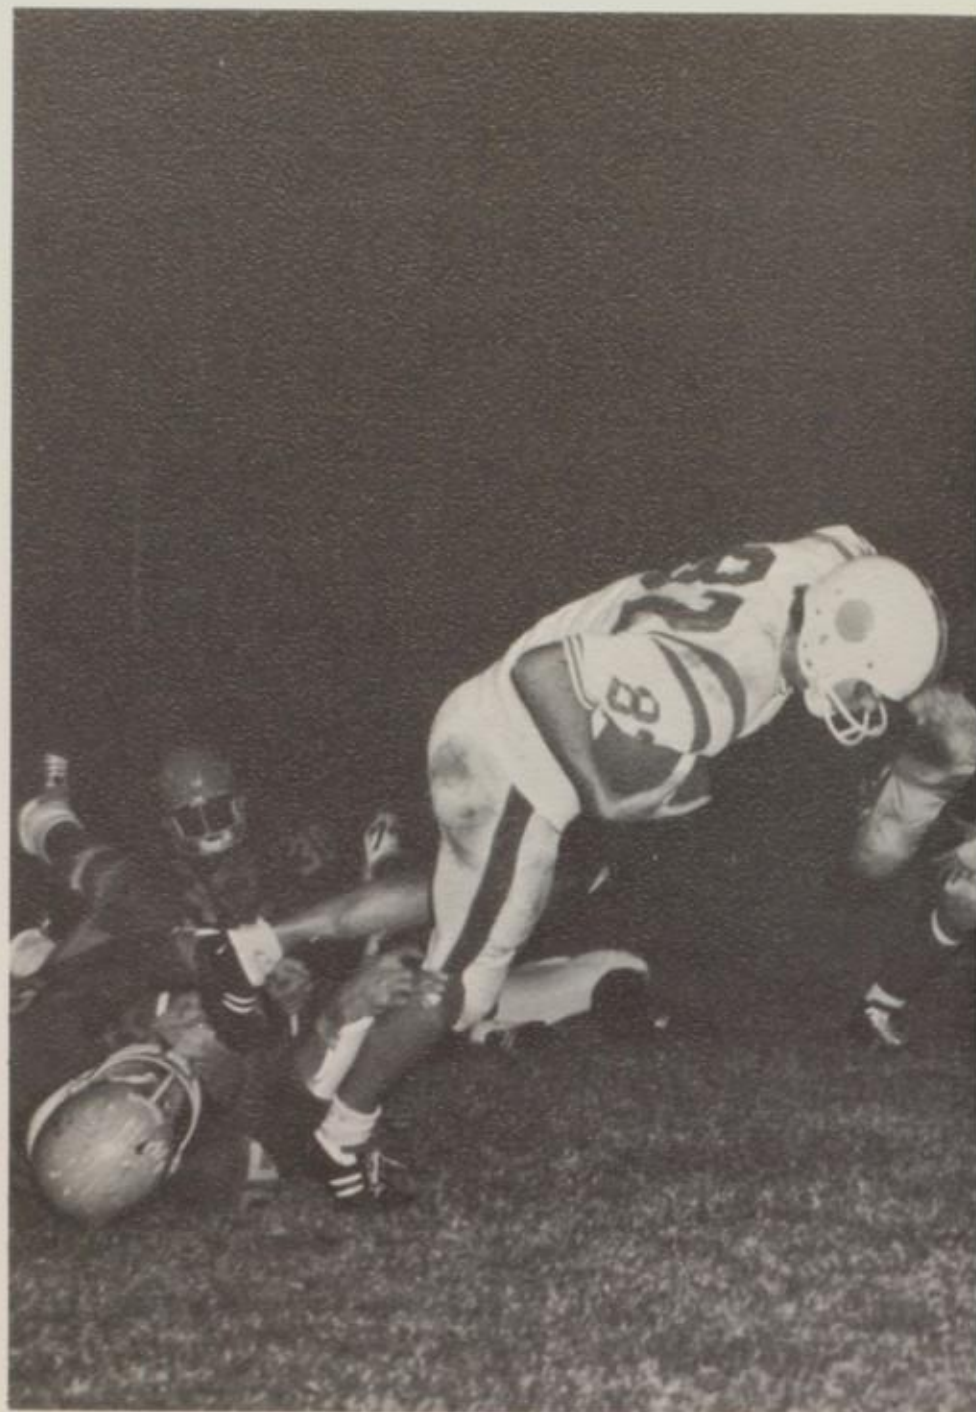

Ranked the best game of the season, the Amphi contest saw the gridders score twice in a single six-minute period. A 55-yard bomb set up the field for the first touchdown. When the Panthers received the ball, they got nowhere against the Trojan defense and were forced to punt from the 15-yard line. Fleischhauer blocked the kick and Scott Kellner picked up the ball and pushed it through to win the game. With their record at 3-1, things began to look bright for Catalina football.

Troy hits peak; skids downward

Troy had now reached the peak of its success and the rest of the season proved to be a downward plunge for the gridgers.

When the Salpointe Lancers speared CHS 26-13, the overall record dropped to 3-2 and the race for the league title began.

The Trojans now took on Palo Verde. Catalina lead three different times during the game but couldn't keep the Titans from racking up a 28-16 victory.

The game with Pueblo momentarily upped Trojan spirits. The offense romped up and down the field with ease, providing an impressive 28-6 win.

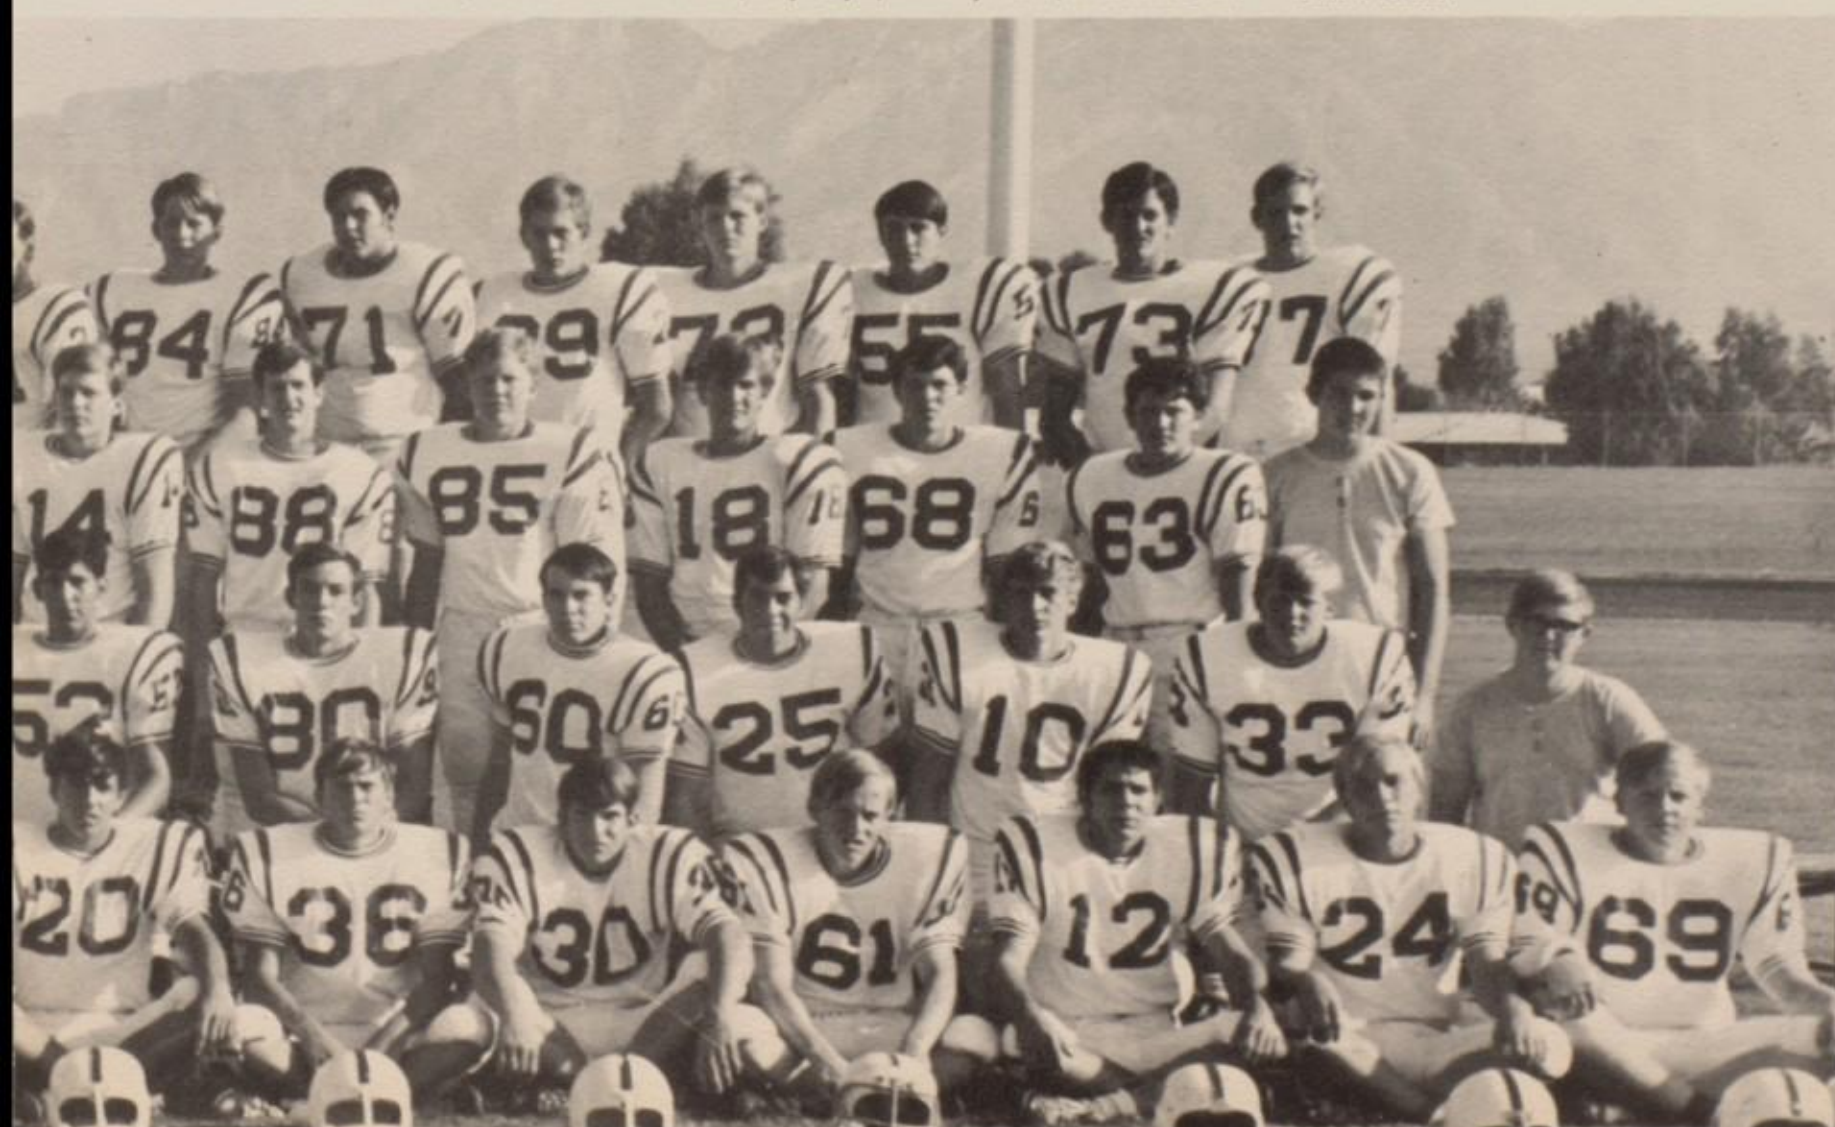

In the following contest, CHS was expected to murder Sunnyside. It was a murder, but of a different sort, with the Blue Devils winning because of a fumble and a kickoff returned for a touchdown.

The record now stood at 4-4 and Troy had to beat Douglas or wind up with a losing season. The gridgers rarely penetrated the 20-yard line and the Bulldogs controlled the field, though not scoring. During the last minute of play, Douglas made it to the 14-yard line and kicked a field goal as the last four seconds ticked off the clock. CHS lost to the poorly-ranked Bulldogs, 3-0, and ended with a losing season.

The team, under the leadership of co-captains Fleischhauer and Robb, repeated last year's football history and finished with a 4-5 overall season record.

Young gridlers lack teamwork

With both the JV (2-6-1) and Frosh (2-6) grid team posting losing seasons, the games showed outstanding individuals but a lack of teamwork.

The greatest asset to the JV team was an outstanding defense, with linebacker Brad Nelson leading the attack. "The defensive team played well enough to win every game," stated Coach Ted James. "It was the offense that let us down." Three of the games which ended in defeat for the gridlers, were lost in the last minutes of play.

Lack of size and experience was a hindrance at the start of the season for the frosh team but according to Coach Bob Fitzgerald, "because of desire and determination, they were able to come on at the end." The team proved this in the final play of the last game when the Douglas quarterback was tackled in his own end zone for a safety to win the game for Troy.

shadow rebound, shooting strengths

Starting the season with rookie Head Coach Darrel Haynes, two inexperienced sophomores and leftover dreams from last year's division championship team, Catalina's varsity cagers ended up with a not so impressive 10-12 season record.

Fickle is the word that best describes the Cinderella Trojans as the ghost of inconsistency haunted Coach Haynes and his youthful basketball squad. Sparked by the rebounding strength and power under the boards of senior Chuck Chandler and the bulls-eye outside shooting of junior Frank Trafford, CHS managed to beat every team in the city except Rincon and Tucson High.

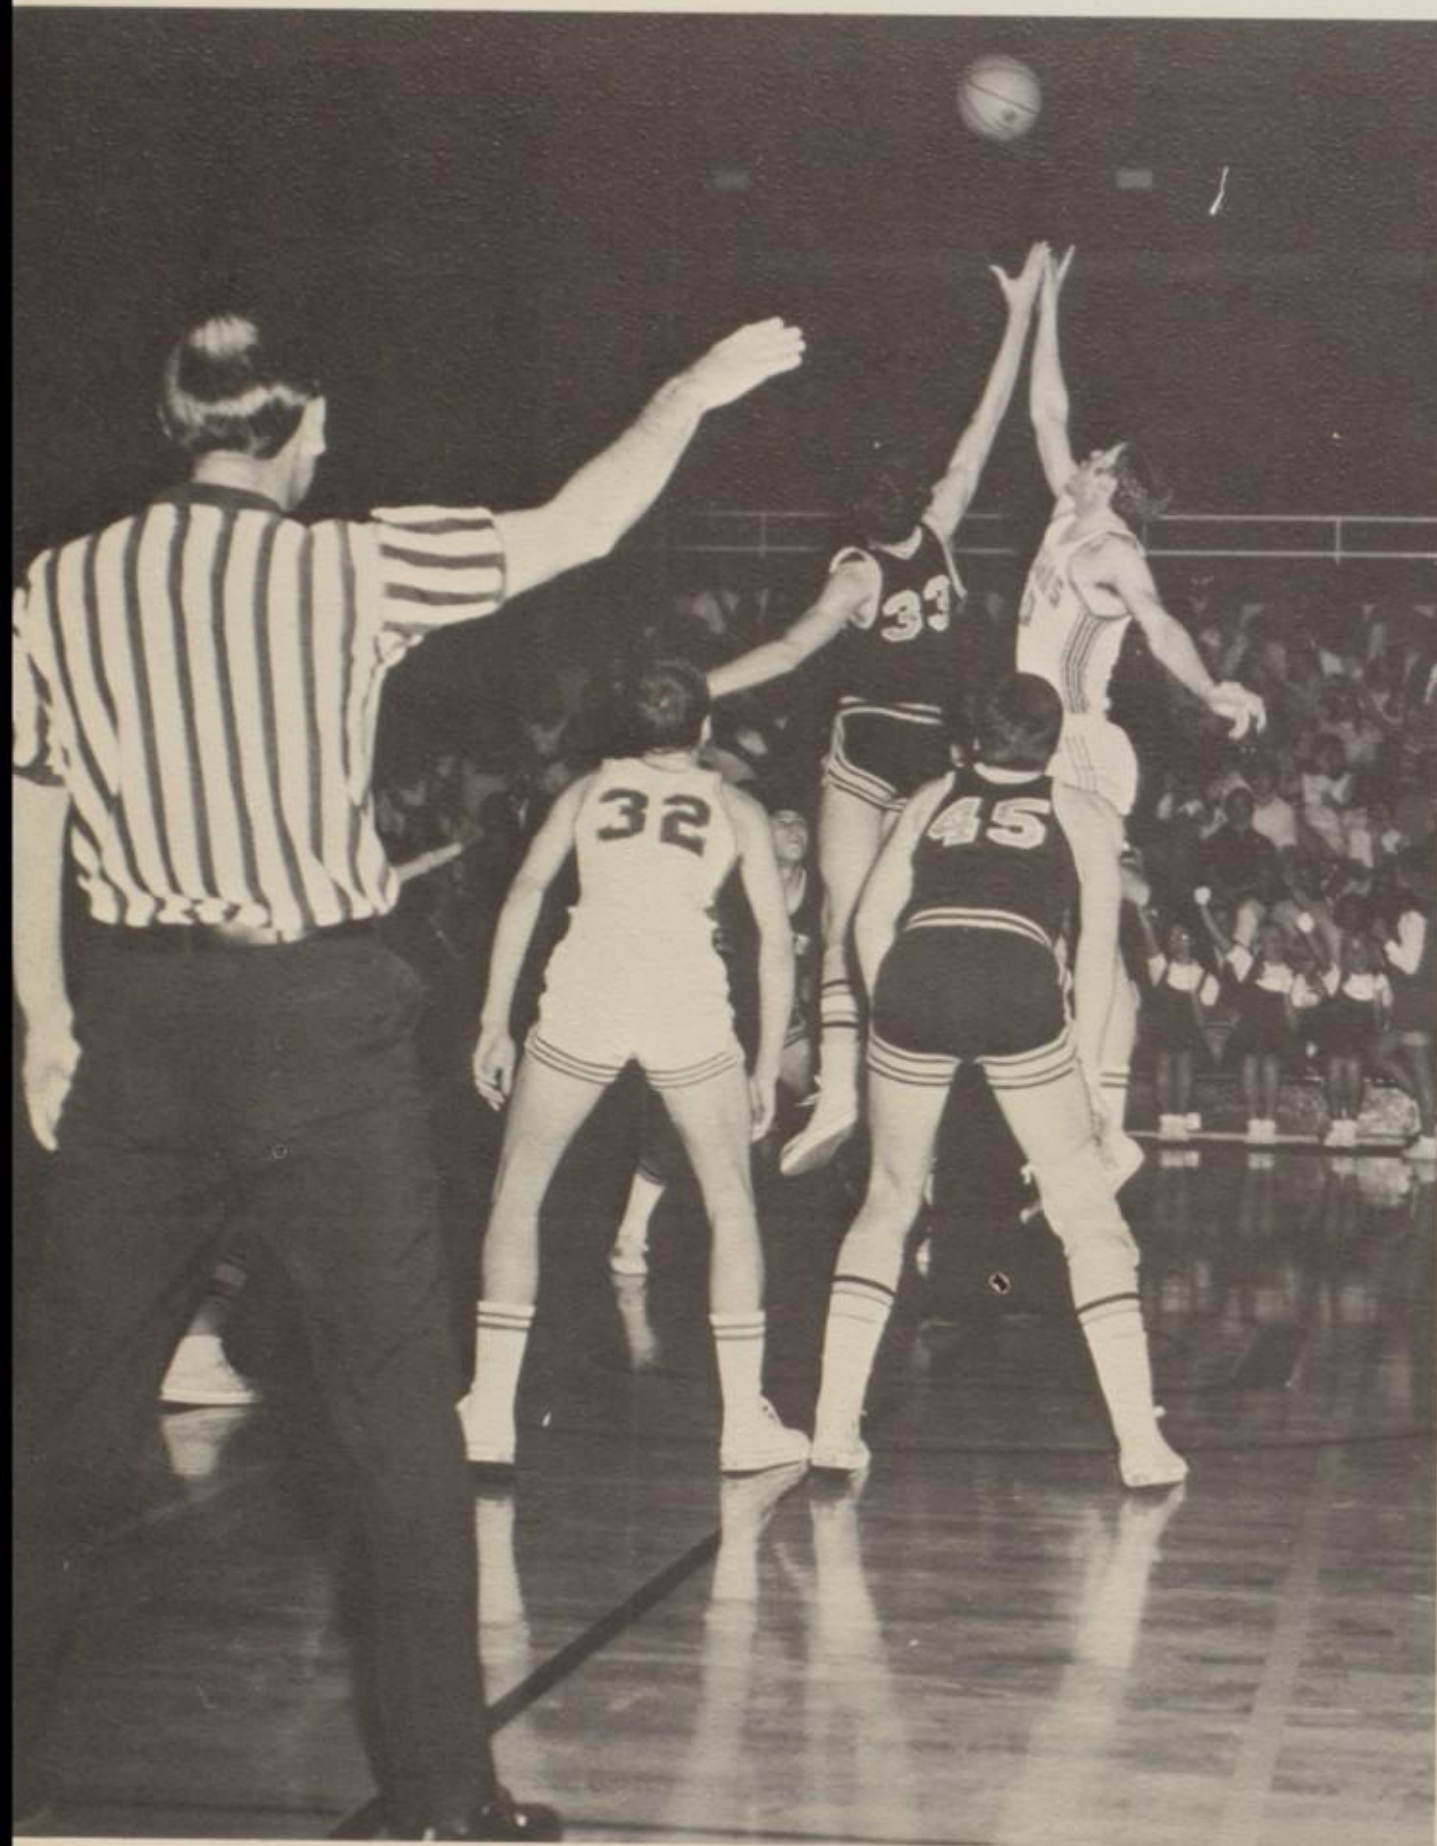

After defeating Sahuaro in the first round, the bid for a berth in the state tournament was wiped out as the Rincon Rangers trounced Catalina 47-87. Coach Galen Kintner couldn't be with the team this year because of a disabling heart attack he suffered in October.

Close season opener lost as cagers fall to Amphi

Opening the season in an exciting fashion, the men of Troy lost a close double overtime game with Amphi 43-44. Leading the scoring was Chuck Chandler who dropped in 8 points.

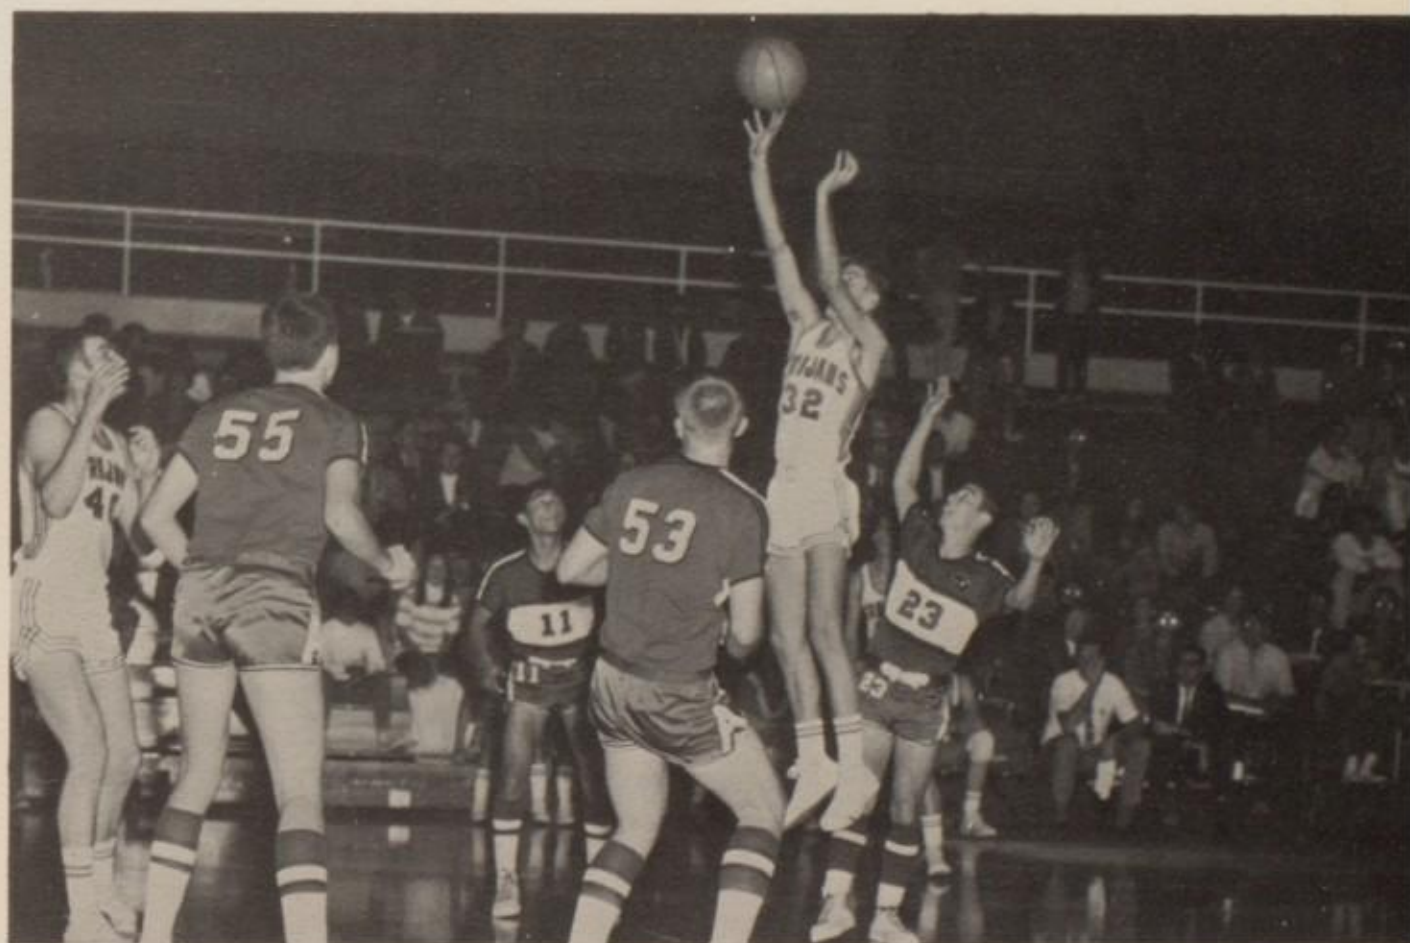

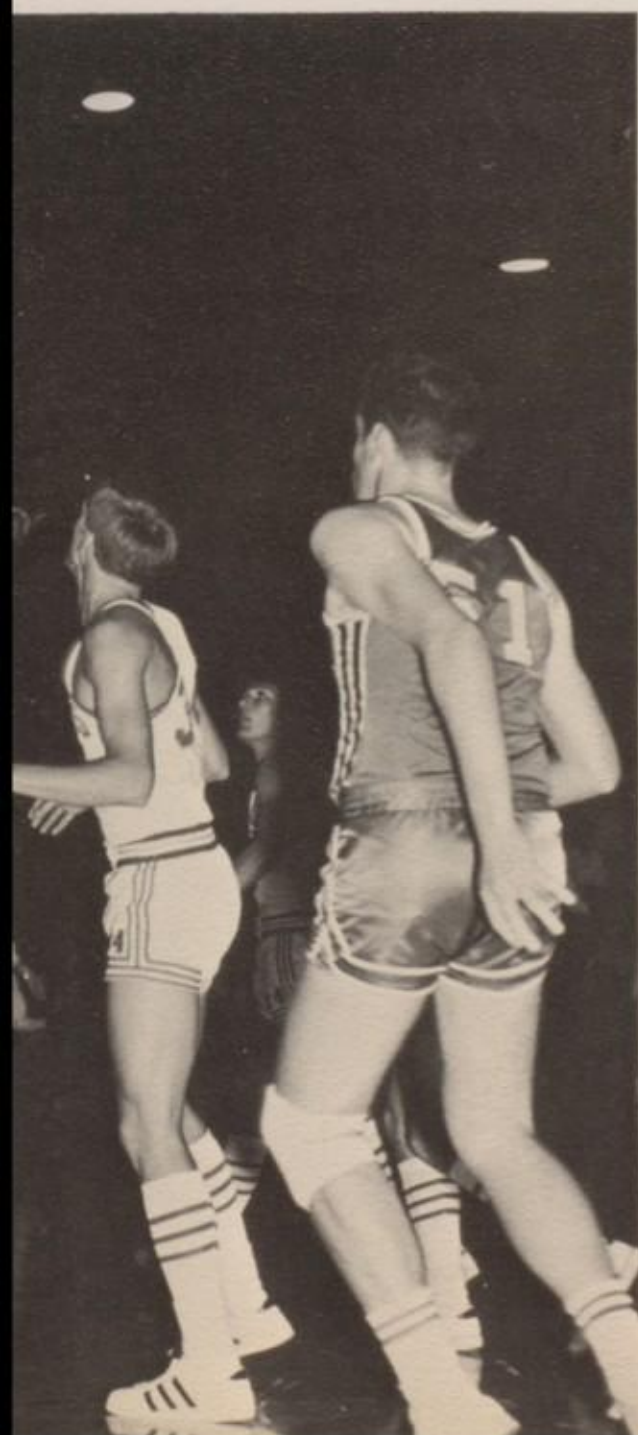

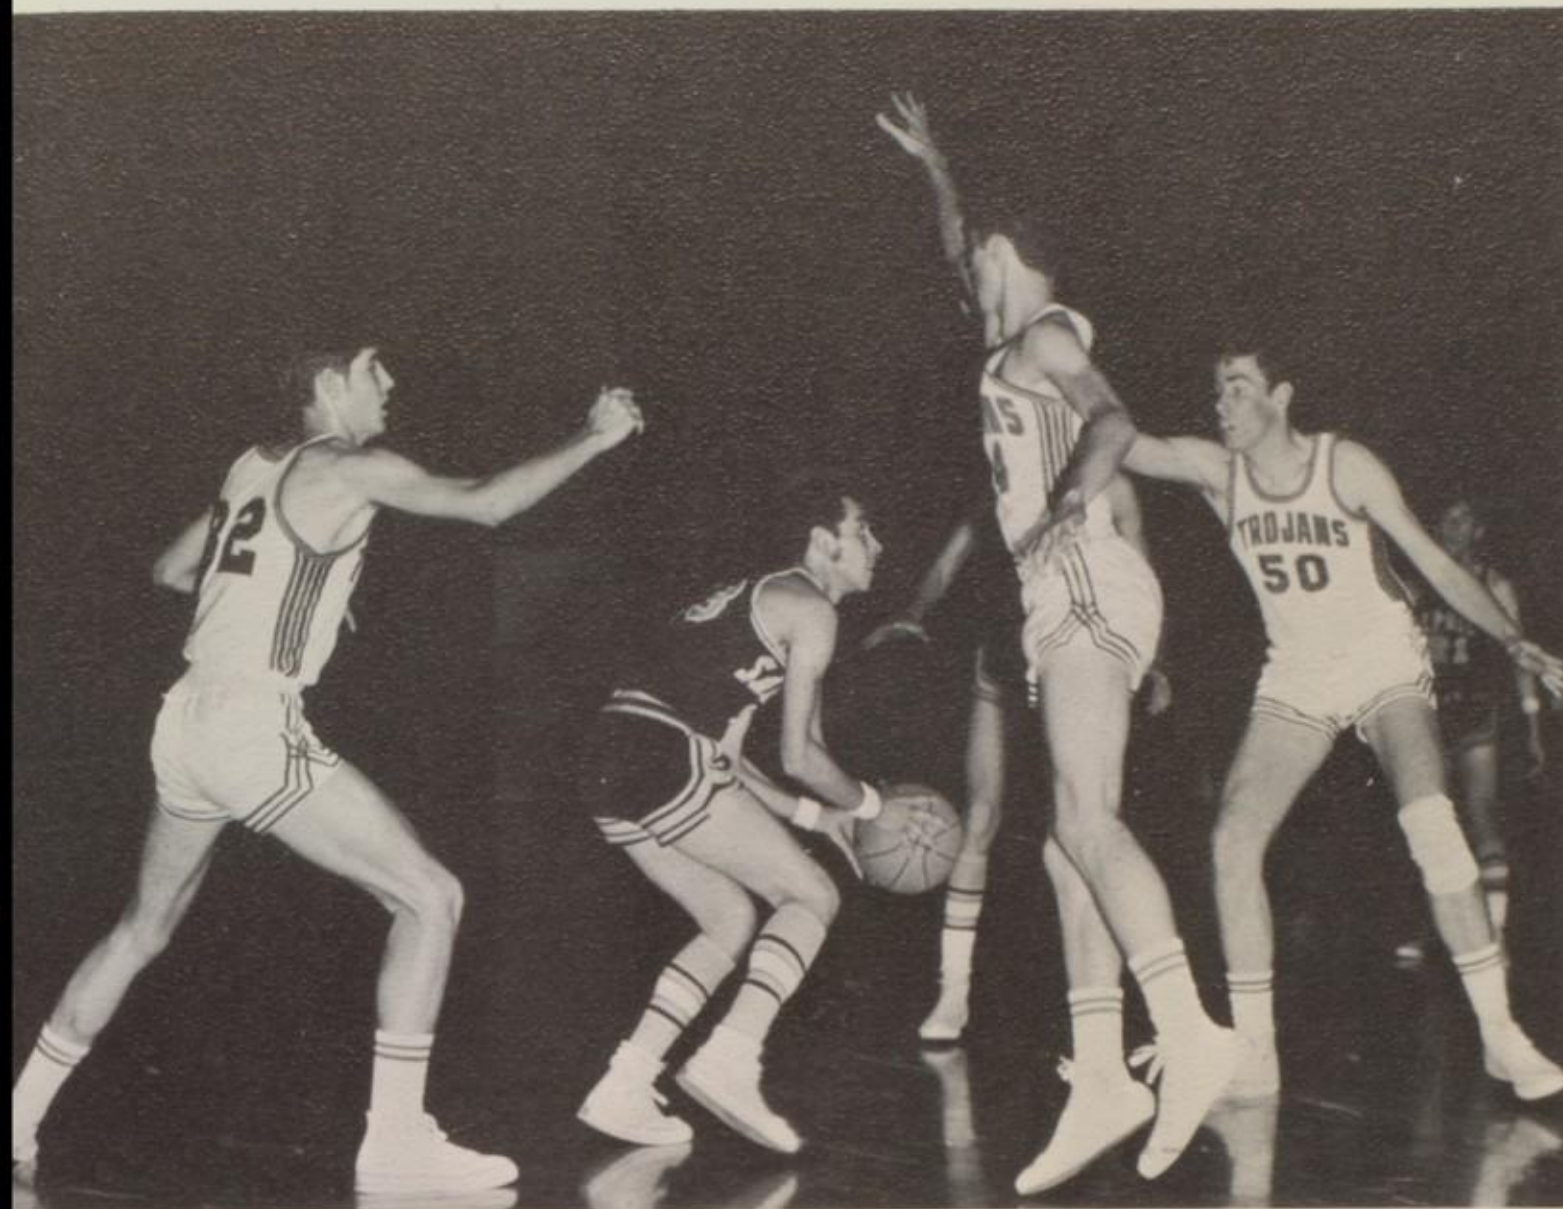

After losing to Tucson High on the Badger's home court, Coach Darrel Haynes had his team so psyched up that they gave Sahuaro their first defeat of the season. It was the best game of the season, Sahuaro being the defending state champion.

CHS took to the road, encountering one of its off nights, and was scalped by the Westwood Warriors 49-62.

Catalina then faced the city champions from Rincon and was blown off the court 59-84.

League play earns Troy 2nd place

As Douglas came to Tucson, Catalina welcomed the dogs by breaking their scrambling press and trouncing them 57-44.

When CHS made its way to Amphi, revenge was in the air and the Trojan five ended up on the winning side by defeating the Panthers in a triple overtime game 62-61.

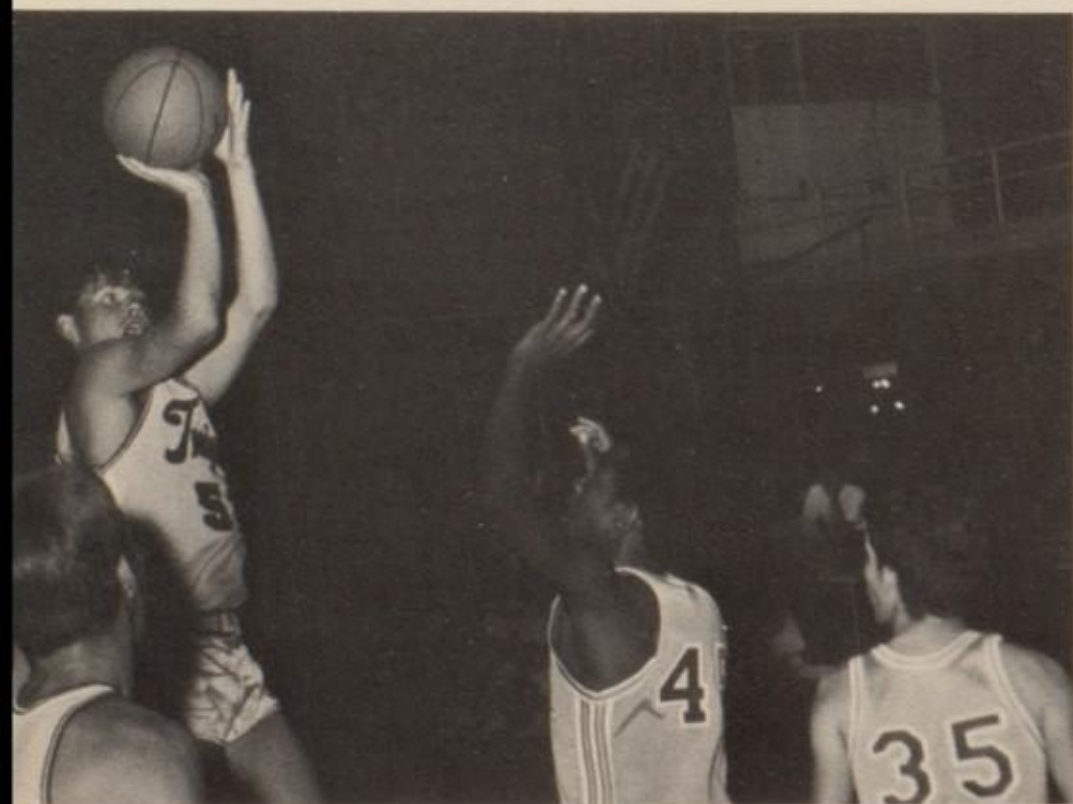

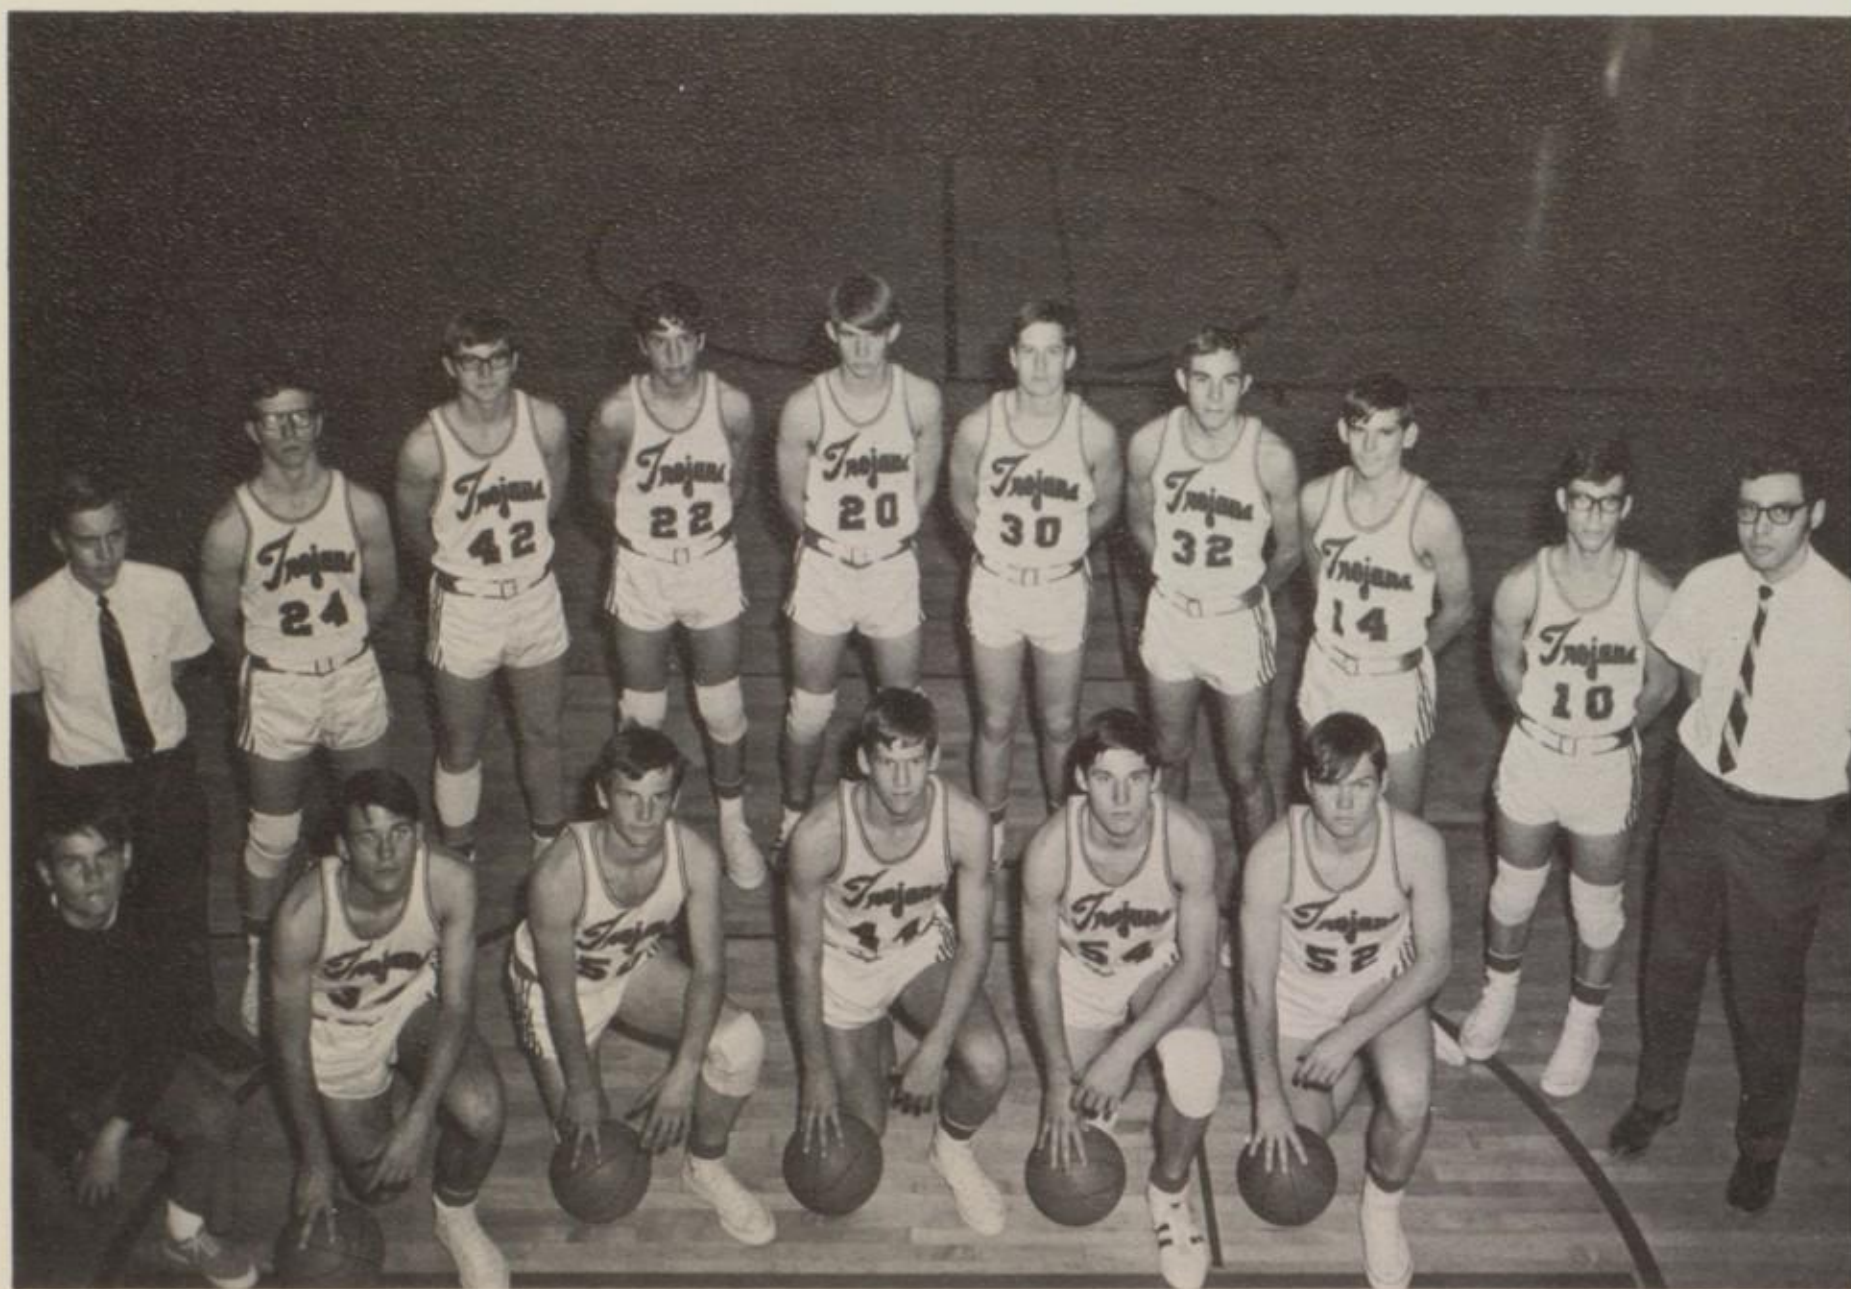

The conference games began and found the Trojans playing in their fickle style. The opening test in conference play came against a weaker Salpointe ball club. The men of Troy lost to the Lancers 52-62.

Following the first conference loss, CHS put things together and played better basketball. They slew the league favorite Palo Verde 63-54. Frank Trafford led the team in scoring with his season high of 23 points.

ABOVE: Frosh forward Michael Miller drives for the basket in an attempt to avoid an oncoming Tucson High guard.

The 1970-71 basketball season was one of heart-break for the JV (8-12) and freshmen (4-14) cagers.

The JV's were hindered by the loss of sophomores Terry Campillo and Jeff Robb to the varsity, leaving limited material to work with. "Bob Henss, Randy Wedding and Tom Davenport did a really fine job though," commented Coach Scott Pickart.

Lack of rebounding obstructed the freshmen. Coach Robert Bruce remarked, "Our offensive weakness provided us with only a few shots per game."

Shaky defense, green pitchers

undermine high-spirited diamondmen

Inexperience is the key word in predicting what is in store for the varsity diamondmen.

The high-spirited Trojans will be hindered by lack of speed and inexperienced pitchers, according to Coach Cliff Myrick. The only returning starter from last year's league championship team is Matt Pierce who will be sharing the load on the mound with hurlers Brad Ramsey, Scott Kellner, Jack Wiggs and Joe Vetterol. At the plate, the Trojans should be hitting at an average clip while the defense may be a little shakey.

season of great expectations

Even though Pip is replaced by pep on the JV and frosh baseball squads, great expectations is the theme for this year's season.

With fine talent up from the frosh, JV Coach Jack Geary is looking forward to a great year with depth in both infield and outfield. The big question, however, will be pitching.

Sporting "the most enthusiastic freshman ball club I've had in years," Coach Richard Schmieder expects a winning season earned by good personnel in every position. The team's nucleus is the pitching staff with solid prospects in Charles Saunders and Danny McGuire.

bright future in sight for cindermen

Because many of last year's lettermen are returning to this season's team, Coach Dick Barham has confidence in predicting a winning season. Mr. Barham is replacing Mr. Bill Kellis as head coach.

Though dismayed by the loss of the first meet to Palo Verde with a score of 75-52, team spirits are bolstered not only by the victory over Amphi in their second meet, with the winning results being 91-36, but also by outstanding prospects in many areas. Comprising the running portion of the team are hurdlers John Pfersdorf and Dale Naugle, sprinters Glen Tirey, Trey Black, Jeff Green and Terry Dee, and distancemen Tom Mobley, Bobby Abril, and Roy Long. Pole vaulters Stacy Tompkinson and Mark Edwards, jumpers Paul Stoutimore and Larry Fingar, and weightmen Ronnie Ray and Barry Gillaspie promise to be top point scorers on the field.

Individuals key to winning season

Individual strength will be the key to a successful season for the JV and freshman tracksters.

In the eyes of rookie coach Dick Barham, strong performances in the track events should overshadow the inexperienced personnel in the field events. Both teams have a lot of hustle and the will to win.

Returning from last year's 9-1 freshman squad, the JV cinder-men have the potential to finish first in the city. The freshmen, however, will suffer from lack of experience in most events.

Harriers sparkle with future champ

Despite the reality of a 1-7 losing season, the cross country team sparkled with a prospective champion in junior Bobby Abril.

Hampered by a lack of depth, the Trojan distancemen faced a building year. Stopping Salpointe in a triangular meet which also included Flowing Wells, the team gained its only victory of the season. In that meet, Abril landed a first place backed by number two man Tom Mobley's fifth place.

The best performance of the year came when Abril paced himself around Catalina's Pontatoc Course in 10:38, setting a new Trojan record.

look toward next year

Despite the grim reality of a rock-bottom 0-11 losing season, the varsity grapplers find hope in the prospect of next year and the return of experienced lettermen.

Great sacrifices in weight reduction by Bill Coran (158 lbs.) and the dedication and dependability of Walk Perry led Coach Barney Patton to name them among this year's outstanding wrestlers. Also selected were Gus Lemke, Catalina's only district winner who placed third in that meet, and Jack Kurz (185 lbs.), wrestling 20 pounds under his normal weight.

Inexperience was the greatest contributing factor to the disappointing record. "They have gotten some good experience and of course they will be better next year," predicts Coach Patton.

With only one senior, Lemke, leaving the squad, the grapplers will sport six returning lettermen.

Wrestling teams follow in pattern of poor seasons

Following the pattern set by the varsity grapplers, both the JV (2-6) and freshmen (3-5) wrestling squads posted losing seasons.

In the only two wins of the year, the JV matmen scored sound victories over Amphi and Salpointe. Joe Schmieder (121 lbs.) remained undefeated all season. Youth and good attitude, according to Coach Barney Patton, were the team's major assets.

Led by Bill Lopez (119 lbs.) and Donny Purse (132 lbs.), the freshman team whizzed by Tucson High, Rincon and Palo Verde. Spirit and good conditioning were the strong points of the frosh grapplers.

With four starters returning from last year's division championship team, the future for Catalina's netters promises a strong finish in the State Tennis Tournament in Phoenix.

Ken McGlamery, Sam McGlamery, Mark Nelson, Dave Shirley, Paul Holbrook and Carroll Reiblich will be pulling the load on the courts this year.

After starting the year with seven straight victories, Coach Robert Lohse has high hopes for his team. Coach Lohse, a former U of A netter, replaces Mr. Ken Fones, who left CHS after five years. He is now coaching at rival THS. He is also pleased with team spirit and the desire of each individual to improve.

According to Coach Lohse, Tucson High is the team to beat if CHS is to have a seventh straight division title.

Unseasoned sophs compete varsity

on excellent ringman squad

Foreseeing a second or third place in the division, Coach Donald Leach rates his gymnastics team as "excellent." Due to a lack of older gymnasts, the squad is composed of many sophomores competing varsity.

Throughout the season contests, senior Vincent Saba and sophomore Steve Harper are expected to lead the team as top all-around men. Seniors Rick Cronin on high bar, Ken Sternstein on sidehorse and parallel bars and Mark Young in floor exercise are also outstanding.

"The youth of the team may enable us to take the divisionals next year and the year after," commented Coach Leach.

varsity and JV squads due to a lack of older gymnasts, practices daily under the direction and training of Coach Donald Leach.

Tankers' active participation promises successful season

ABOVE: Displaying form and speed, Matthew Palmer and Steve Silverman battle each other in the 400-yard freestyle. Ken Cummins and Ron Gerson also compete in the 400.

Stressing involvement of every team member, second year swimming coach Barney Patton expects a winning season. Each of the 27 tankers will swim two individual events and a relay.

Returning lettermen Robert Flippo, Robert Rees, Brian Williams, Rod Wright and John Hodder lead the aquamen. Flippo, Rees and Williams will return next year to spark a 'good' squad, according to the coach.

Young, old swingers tee off for golf action

Though young and inexperienced, Troy's golfers swing. With varsity letters from the past season, Dave Halverson, Doug Dorow and Jim Wilson lead the squad.

The linksters began the year with victories over Palo Verde and Cholla but then fell to Salpointe and Sahuaro. However, Coach James Black expects improvement during the remainder of the season.

Next year's team will have more experience and with it a chance of placing in the city tournament, according to the coach. Coming up the ranks, Greg Ziebell, Allen Kennard and Marc Halverson show promise.

Intramural play granted to Troy

Interested in sports rather than eating, many boys participate in intramurals held during the second lunch period. The program was reinstated at student request after a three year lapse.

Included among the sports offered are basketball, volleyball, ping-pong and weight lifting. Using this extra half-hour of activity, boys are able to improve skills and coordination.

Besides competition in school, students have organized five basketball teams that play almost every weekend.

Women of Troy contend for titles

Cheering for her favorite tackle or asking "What's a rebound?" aren't the limits of a girl's interest in sports.

Troy's female population contends for AAA Division Championships, marches in parades, bats tennis balls from court to court, perfects cartwheel on the balance beam and receives the 'Girl of the Year' award.

The Girls P.E. Department offers interscholastic volleyball, gymnastics and tennis besides intramural basketball, speed-away and softball. All of these improve coordination, sportsmanship and friendship.

9-point match change assists varsity netters

Greatly aiding the varsity girl netters by utilizing an experienced sixth player in divisional meets, tennis point count for interscholastic meets was changed to nine points this year.

Formerly, school matches were seven-point, requiring five girls, and the team had to recruit an inexperienced JV player to compete in the nine-point divisionals, which require six players. A sixth girl must now play varsity all year, preparing her for divisionals.

Another factor in the team's favor is a well-balanced squad of Ann Hoshaw, Melissa Kyros, Lisha Allen, Eliza Cutcher, Gail Gibbons and Carol Merritt. Confident of a winning season, Coach Frances Curtis stated, "We're hoping to improve the record of last year (14-5) which was very good."

If victorious in divisional play-offs, the team anticipates a journey to the Phoenix Tennis Center to vie for the AAA state championships in May.

Gymnasts seek 2nd place finish in division meet

Earning a third place in the divisional meet last year, the girls gymnastics team increased its expectations this season and hopes for a second place.

"All I can expect is for the girls to do their best," remarked Coach Joan Lackie. The mentor sees improvement in all events, with balance beam the strongest point and vaulting the weakest.

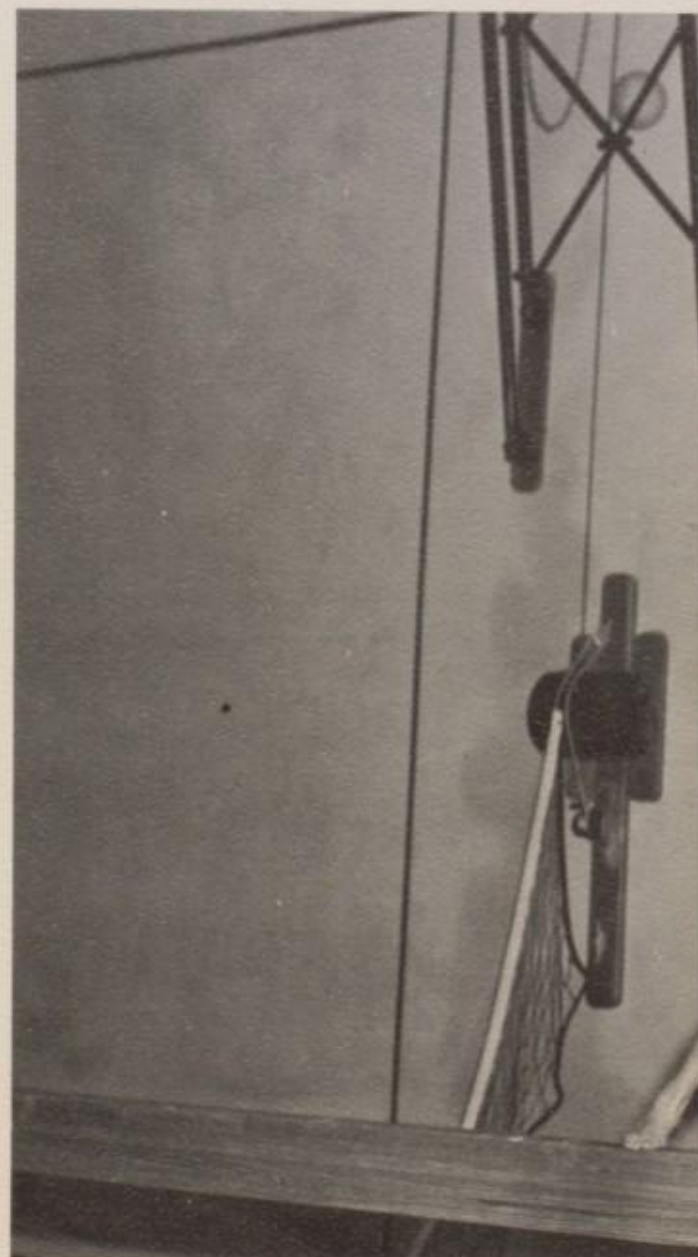

Serving as tri-captains, Emilie Crouch, Mindy Connally and Linda Misevich lead the team. Holding all-round positions are Emilie Crouch and Debbie Sternstein. All-round participant Linda Misevich tore ligaments in her knee and will only compete in floor exercises. Jan Carey and Patti Brady head the squad in floor exercise and vaulting.

With upcoming freshmen and sophomores as well as returning juniors, next year's team promises to be a bright spot in girl's sports.

Girls capture volleyball title

Winning the girls volleyball Southern Division AAA Championship doesn't depend on a team's season's record.

Proving this point, the team, after posting a less than outstanding 8-2 record, went on to capture the title.

In order to win in the playoffs, the girls, led by co-captains Rita Clark and Betsy Davis, defeated Amphi, Sahuaro and Tucson in three consecutive matches. For divisional play, Betsy Davis was selected the best player.

"Beating Tucson was our most exciting win because we lost to them during the regular season. It climaxed the season," says coach Miss Mary Hines.

TOP: Using wrist power, senior Betsy Davis bumps the ball to Miho Sonehara as teammates Mary Cicala and Linda Misevich look for surprises.

More activities planned for girls thru intramurals

Although girls intramurals is no new addition to the P.E. Department's curriculum, this year the program has been expanded to include more sports.

The alteration has allowed for greater participation and recognition for girls involved in volleyball, basketball, softball, speed-away, hockey, badminton and other sports.

Teams formed in regular P.E. classes battle each other for class titles, later competing against winners from other periods. After Catalina competition is completed, teams vie against other school teams on sports days held on weekends throughout the year.

Sponsoring the activities, CHS P.E. teachers coordinate and referee the tournaments both at Catalina and at the sports days.

ABOVE: Members of the first period volleyball class compete in an elimination tournament. TOP: During a basketball game, Nancy Glinski guards Debbie Summers as she tries to chalk up another two points. RIGHT: Miss Joan Aufderheide calls an obstruction foul on Laurie Lane during hockey practice for an upcoming sports day.

ABOVE: Bird watching? Yes! Miss Karen Helms, seven-year pepleading adviser, watches her blue and white chicks flit around the CHS field.

SONGLEADERS—Cele Underwood; Joy Johnson; Carol Baker; Paula Rees; Debbie Eich; Kathleen Morgan; Jennifer Price; Tiffany Hathorn; Janet Jarvis, head; Cindi Hoge. Mini-dances, consisting of 32 beats, are formulated by each girl and are then combined to make weekly routines.

'Sock it to 'em' chant pepleaders

As "Sock it to 'em now, one more time . . . hey, hey, hey" rumbles through the crowd, the pepleaders cheer the Trojans and the Trojan team on to victory.

Composed of all new members, the songleading squad performs various routines at football and basketball games.

By originating chants and movements, the varsity cheerleaders motivate the student body toward more school spirit.

Besides pep leading, the songleaders and cheerleaders compete in the U of A and ASU band days. They also march in the Rodeo and Veterans' Day Parades.

Blonde bundles, of pep aid JV cheerleaders, mikeboy

ABOVE: Mini-pepleaders Carla Larison and Paul DeWeerd aid songleader Cele Underwood. RIGHT: Amphi 7, Catalina 21 reads the scoreboard as mikeboy Gene Pendergraft leads an enthusiastic crowd in "Victory! Victory! For CHS!"

Mini-pepleaders are back! After a year's absence, CHS again has two blonde bundles of pep, as well as the mikeboy and JV cheerleaders, to cheer Trojan teams on to victory.

On the basis of voice, interest and personality, mikeboy Gene Pendergraft was selected by the cheerleading squads to lead cheers.

The JV's inspire enthusiasm and add oomph to traditional cheers at JV football and basketball games.

JV CHEERLEADERS—Denise Taylor; Doreen Schraa, head; Carol Hybarger; Kathy Jackson; Lela Carter, co-head. The JV's work 10 hours a week perfecting jumps, cheers and chants.

Four recognized for athletic skills

Because of outstanding achievement, four seniors were selected Girls of the Year.

With a background in ballet, EMILIE CROUCH (above left) competes in all-around gymnastics and is a captain of the team.

ANN HOSHAW (above right), a varsity tennis participant for three years, is ranked as the number one girl netter.

President of Dardanaires, NINA KNIPE (below left) has been dancing for three years, perfecting a style of extended arches.

Former captain of the volleyball team, BETSY DAVIS (below right) has competed in that sport for four years and is the most valuable player.

blues, rock

To meet the demands of popular trends in today's music, a Stage Band, featuring jazz, blues and rock, was instituted this year within the band curriculum.

This newest band, which was initially beset by scheduling problems, finally got on the road. Traveling to Flagstaff, the 24-members participated in the NAU Stage Band Festival.

Other classes in band training are available to develop a musician's talent to the level of Stage Band. Beginning Band is open to those with no previous experience while Concert Band is composed of people who have played for a few years.

The next step up the ladder is Symphonic Band, membership of which is determined by auditions. Members also perform at concerts and pep rallies.

Spending a day at the U of A, the Marching Band competed against 40 other high schools on Band Day. For its eight-minute half-time show, Catalina received a "superior" rating.

play in choral, orchestral concerts

While many orchestras exist only to accompany vocal groups, Catalina's 87 musicians perform in their own concerts as well as those given by the choirs.

First on their schedule were the Fall and Christmas Concerts, followed by the Band-Orchestra Concert and the String Festival, which was given with the Rincon and Palo Verde orchestras. In the spring, the entire Music Department presented the Patio Concert and at Baccalaureate the orchestra performed alone.

Concert Choir's guys, dolls stage 'Guys and Dolls'

From the steady beat of the drums to the excitement behind stage, Concert Choir presented excerpts from a heralded Broadway play as their first production of the year.

As advanced musicians, members combined their vocal talents with drama and dance to stage "Guys and Dolls." In addition to solo performances, the musical contained production numbers.

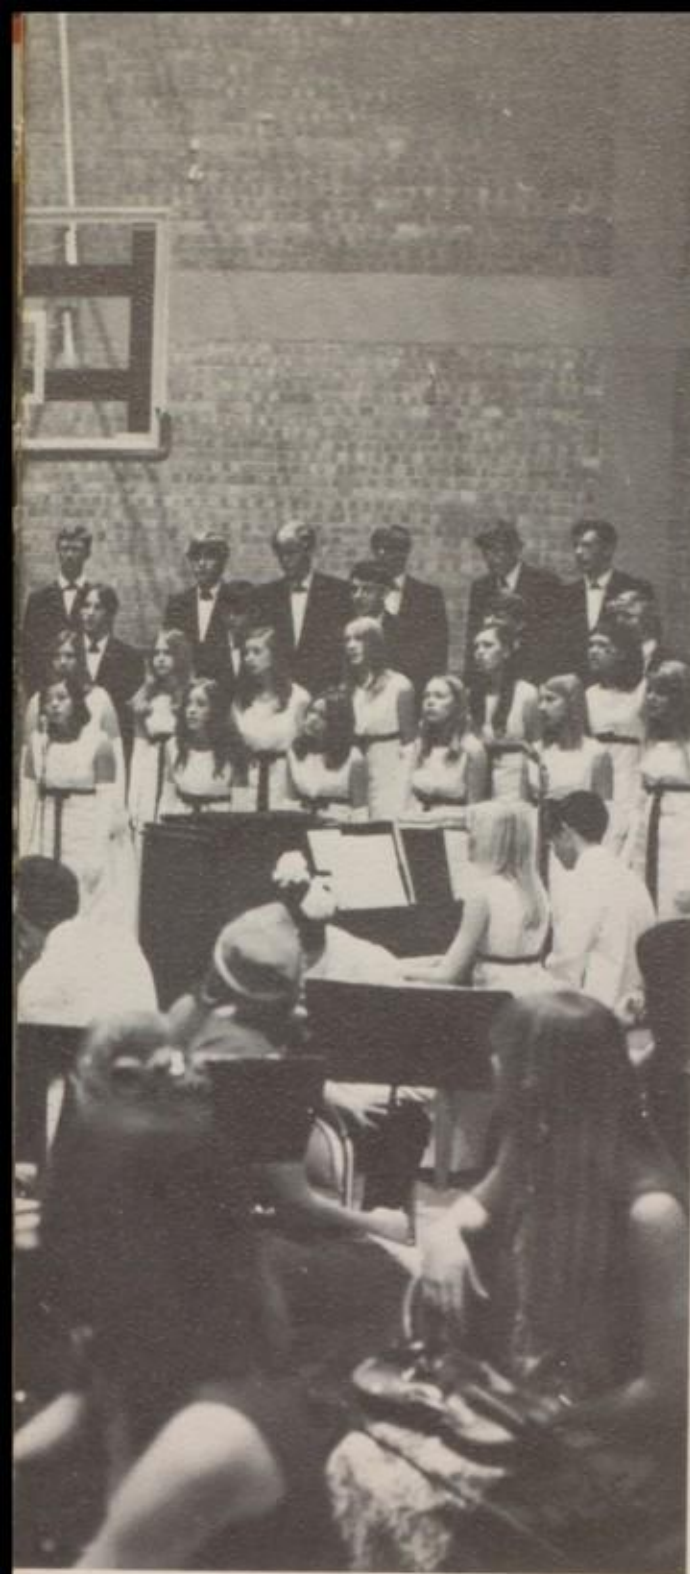

Throughout the year, Concert Choir presented many concerts. Also, members of the choir participated in All-State try-outs and the district Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Having mastered the fundamentals of "Do, Re, Mi, Fa, Sol, La, Ti, Do" which are gained in beginning choir, the students in the Advanced Girls Choir, or the Choralettes, prepare to perform before public audiences.

To qualify for the choir, every interested girl must audition before Mr. Thomas Patrick, director.

Besides class performances, the Advanced Girls Choir sang at the Fall Concert, the Christmas Concert, Choral Classics and the Patio Concert. In addition, they also participated in the District Solo Ensemble Festival on February 12-13.

Curtain rises on Ensemble, Mixed Choir

As the curtain rose, gaps in the choir were too obvious. Several members were lost in a strange school. Old hats at presenting programs, Minstrels of Troy handle such situations coolly. Just experiencing stage crises, Mixed Choir gains confidence through their first performances.

Minstrels of Troy, the highest calibre choir at CHS, presents a variety of music from pop to classics. Members are chosen on their quality of voice and sight-reading ability.

Mixed Choir is taught fundamentals of expressive singing and clarity of tone. All members audition and many participate in the District Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Choirs lay foundation for next step

While preparing for advanced musical work, students in the Beginning Boys and Girls Choirs develop a basic foundation of music.

With only one public concert, students learn proper choral attitude and technique without the pressures of performing. In addition, the necessity for good sight-reading is stressed.

Choosing to continue in the program, students with the musical background acquired in the beginning choirs may progress into one of the advanced choirs.

Dardanaires gain self-expression

through creative modern dance

Interested in a new way to express yourself? Dardanaires, Catalina's advanced dancers, could be a possibility.

The group of twenty students welcomes any newcomers who enjoy creative dancing. Dardanaires are selected from those who perform an interpretive dance before the members.

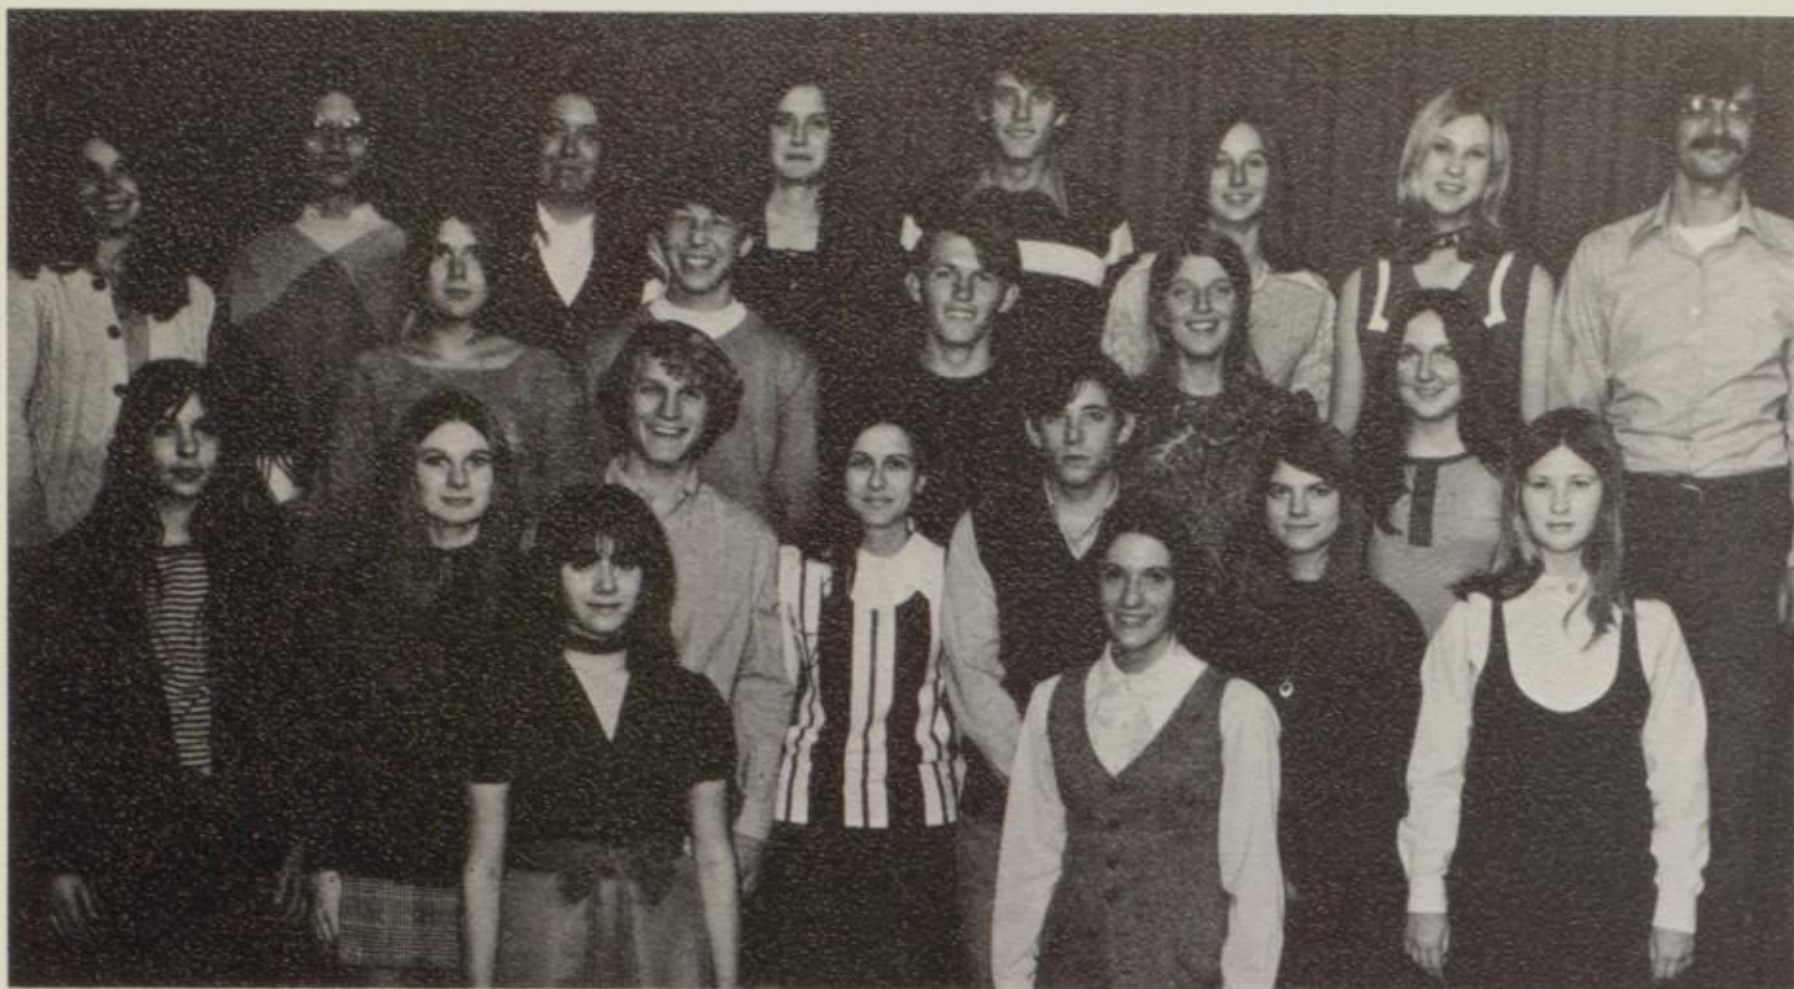

Several performances were given during the year. The annual May Concert was the highlight of the season. For the first time, a Children's Concert was presented in the fall. They also produced 'Experiment in Theater' with the Drama Department.

Thespian actors create scenery, plan productions

Attending drama classes, acting in public productions, ushering at plays and working on stagecraft are all ways to earn the 10 points necessary to become a Thespian.

Besides the regular club meetings, the Thespians attend Student Group Nights at the Arizona Civic Theater (ACT). ACT provides members with an opportunity to observe the techniques of acting and stage production.

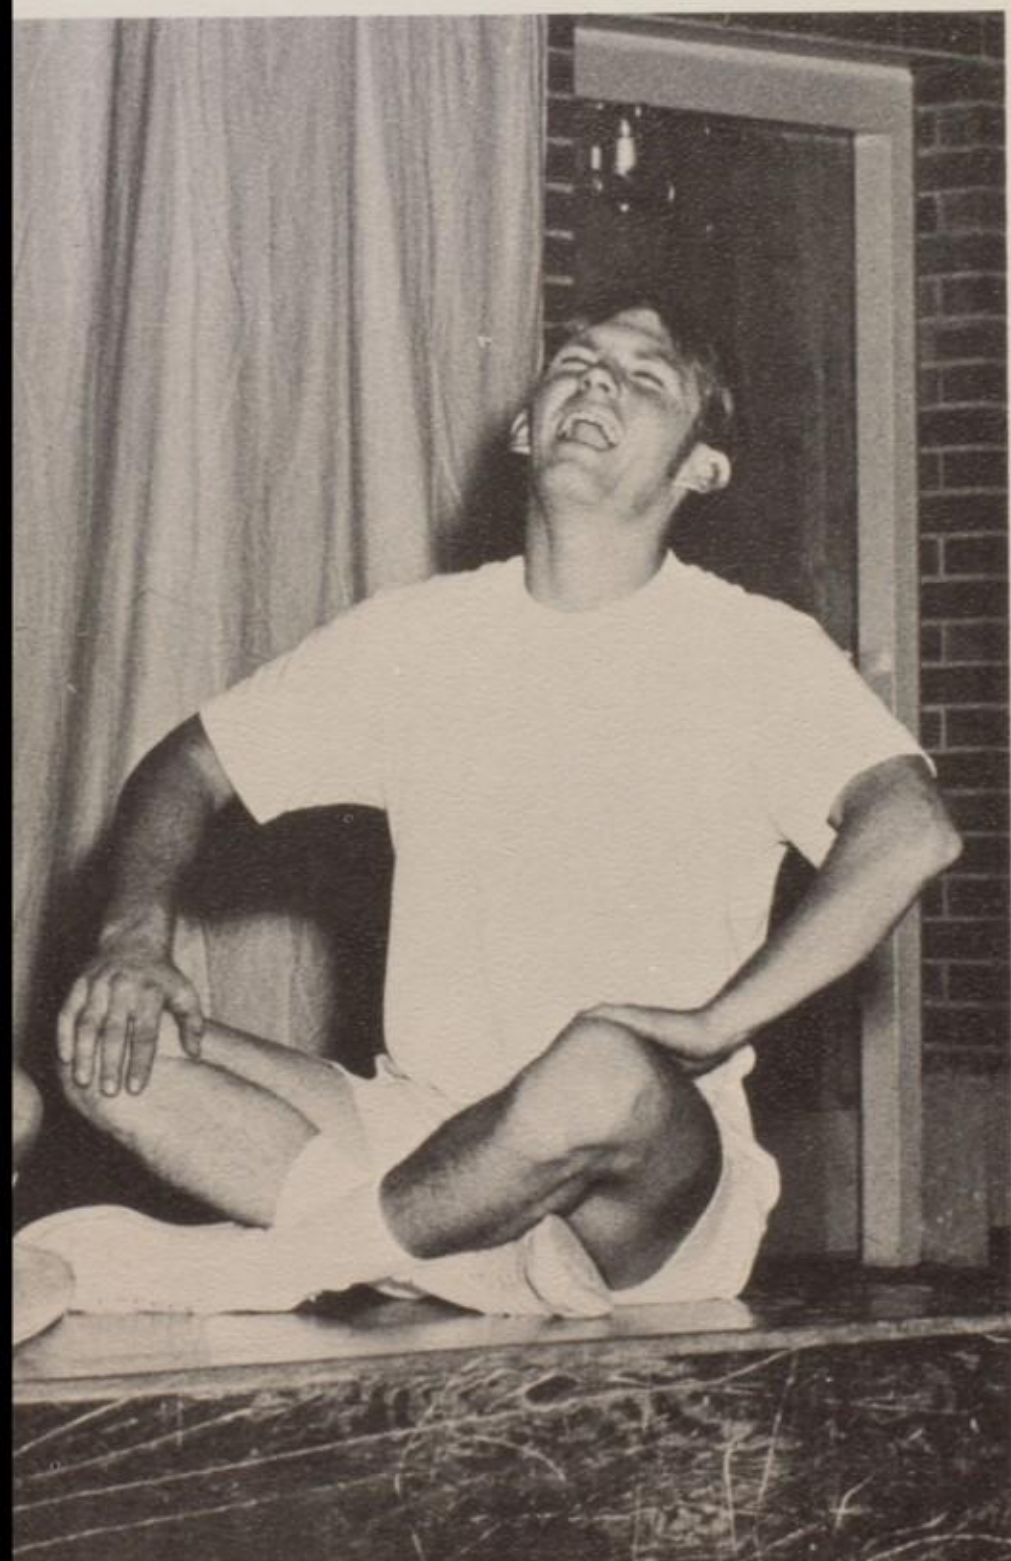

Throughout the year, the group presents productions which are open to the public. At the "Old-Fashioned Christmas" in December, members presented an original play entitled "Santa's Place."

Art students provide service with projects

Art workshop, advanced printing and stagecraft, all service-organization art classes, provide students with a way to project themselves through their art work and a chance to help the school besides.

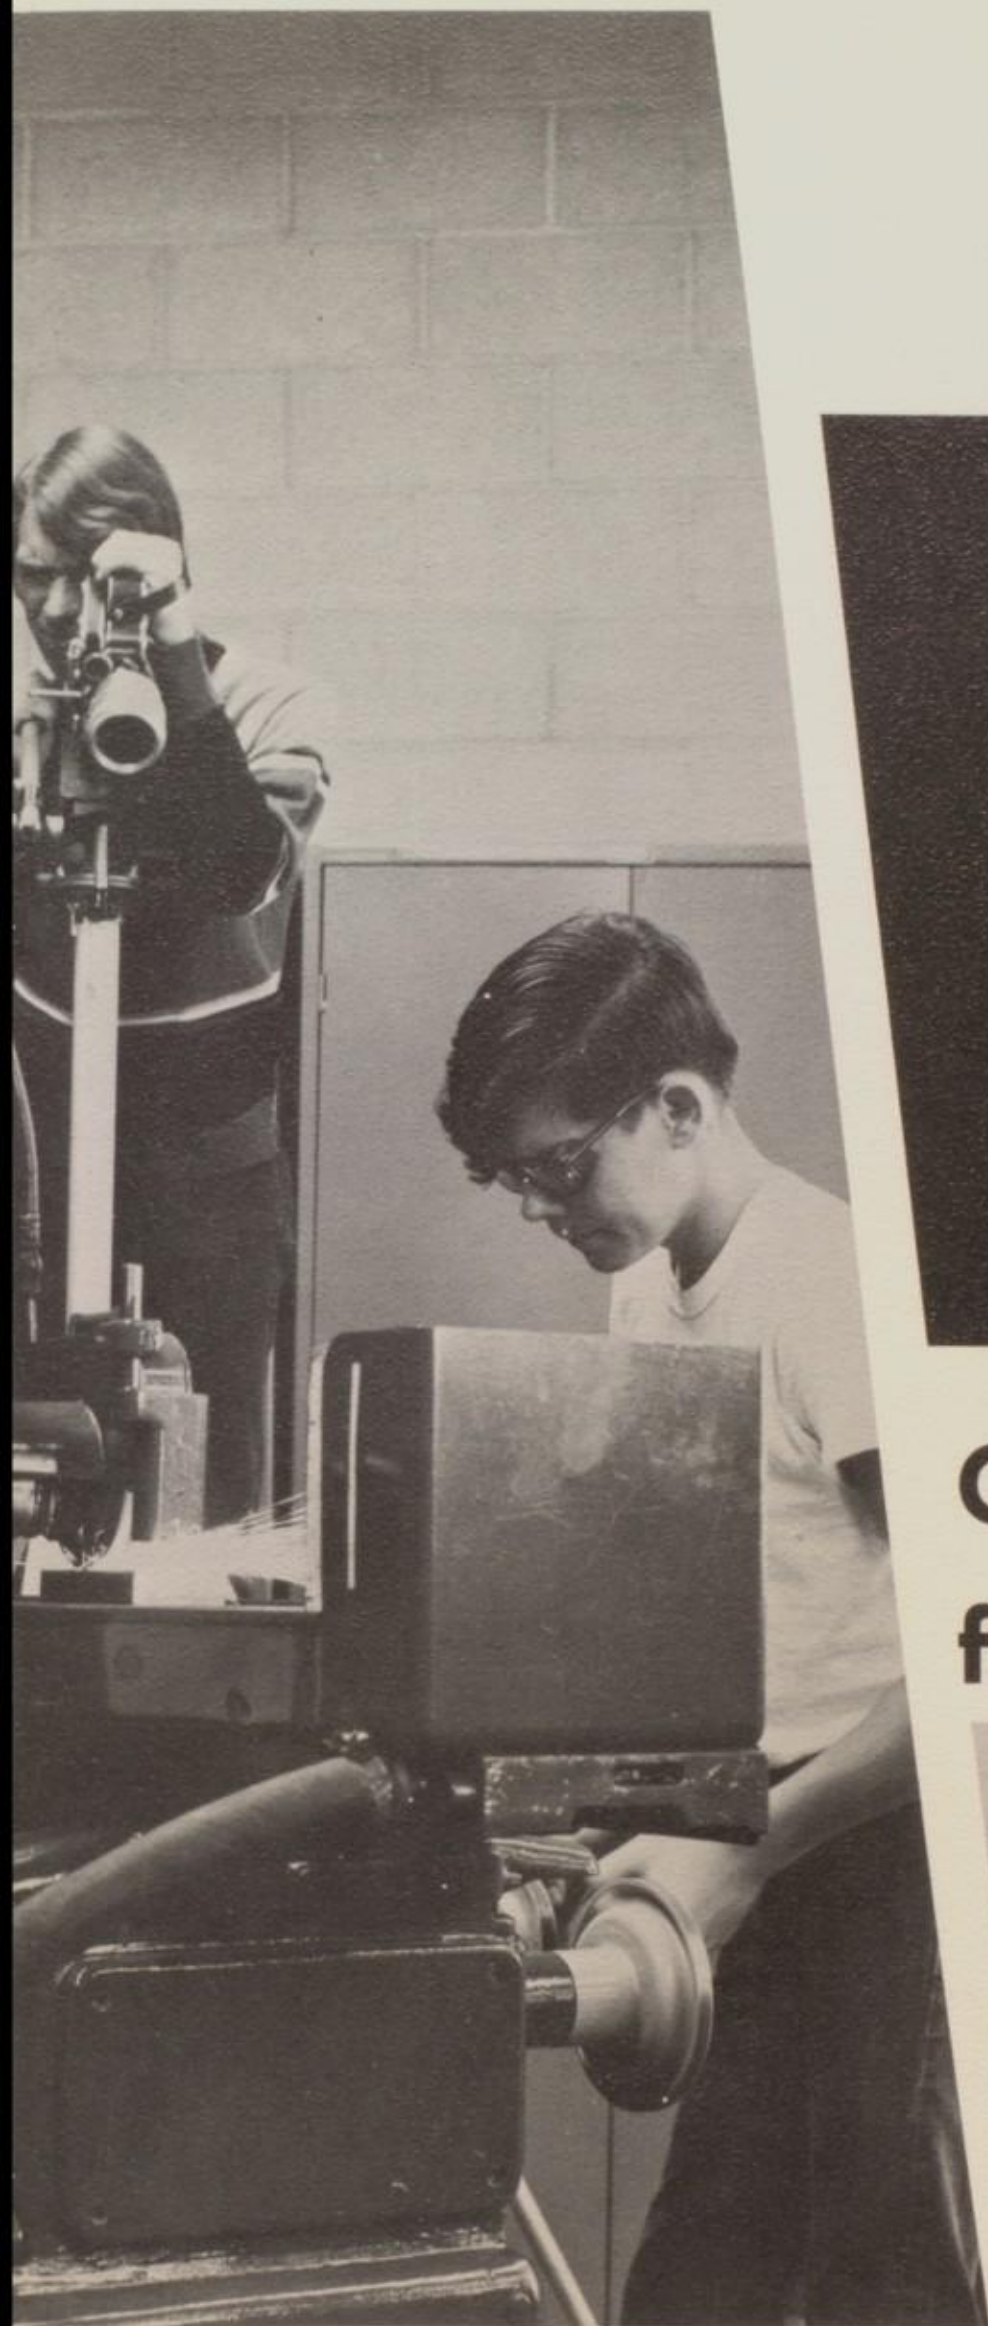

Art workshop, originally formed to furnish time for interested students to make school posters and displays, has now become a credited commercial art class.

Advanced printing classes are responsible for printing programs, posters and tickets for school productions and games.

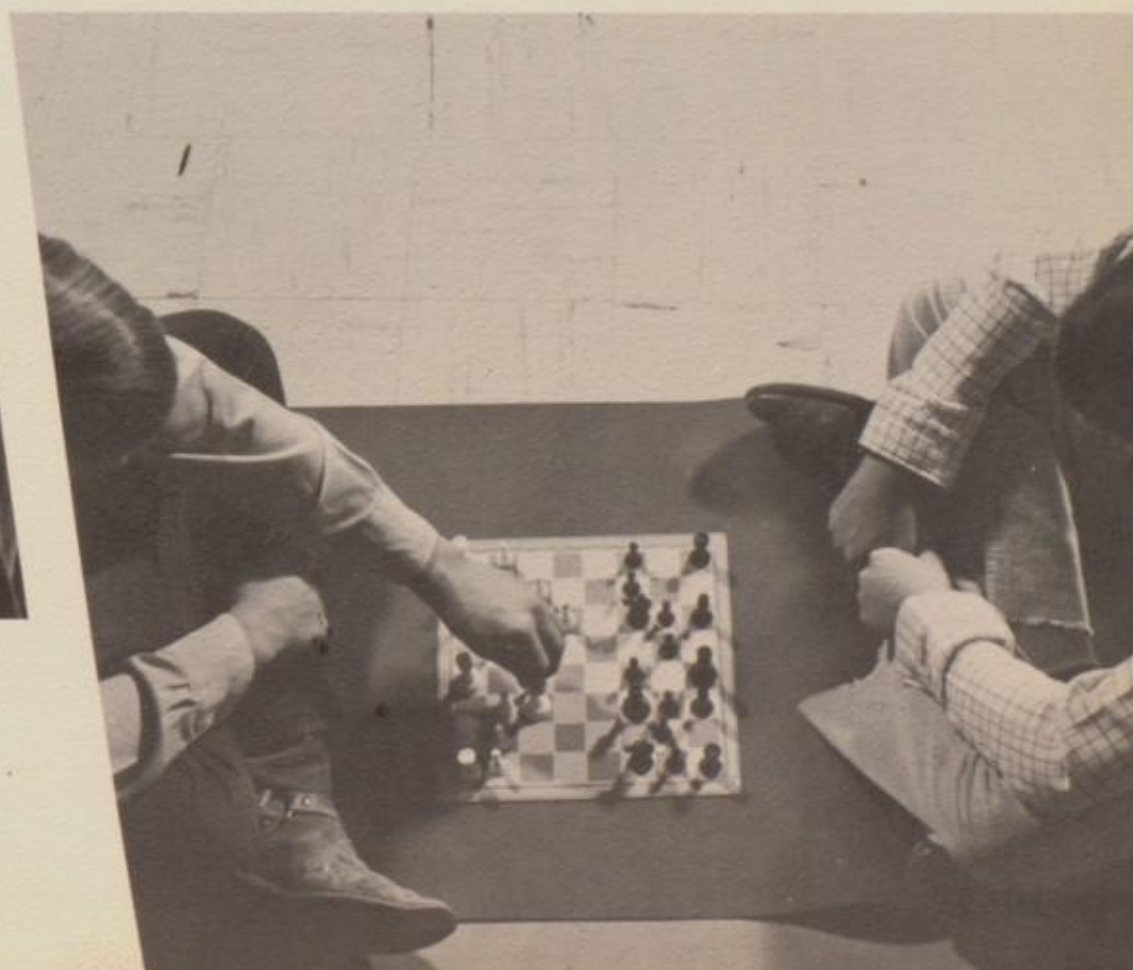

Stagecraft teaches students what goes on behind dramatic scenes, how to make sets and techniques of lighting and sound.

Adviser Lois Schnaiter, Susan Pietrzyk, David Flannigan, Lynn Wilson, Vice-President Jeri Ogden, Terry Francisco.

Spanish, German Clubs expand dimensions of language education

Adding dimension to language education, the Spanish and German Clubs study foreign cultures.

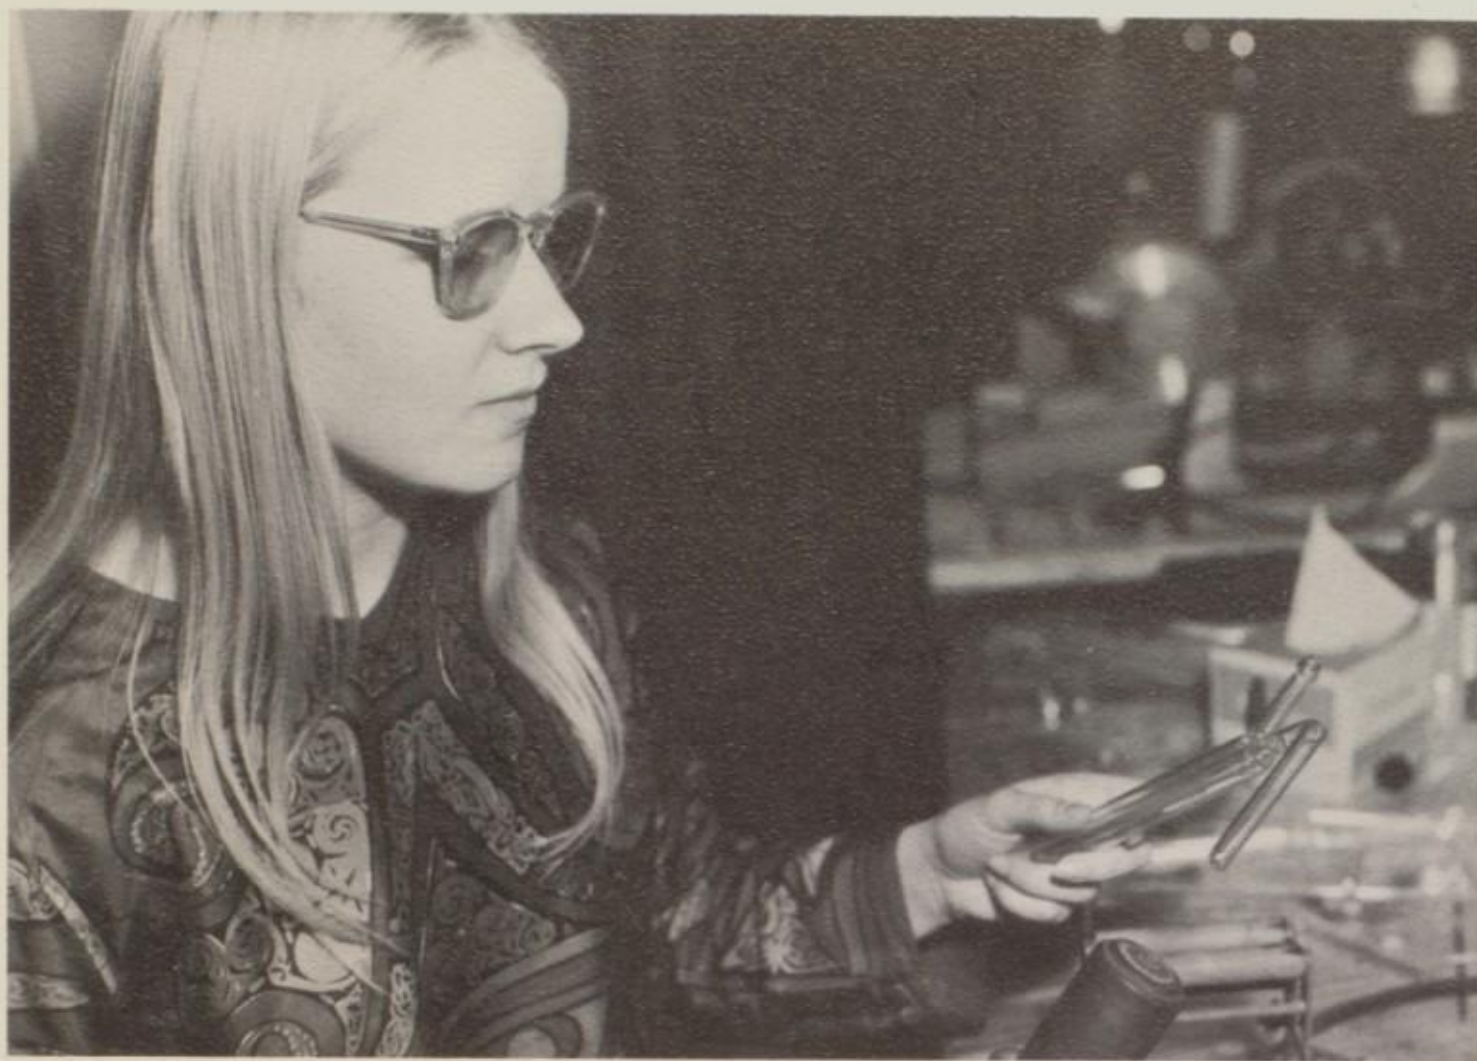

During regular Spanish Club meetings, students view movies of Latin American countries. To fully understand the Spanish people and their customs, members of El Cid traveled to Mexico in the spring.

German Club members expanded their knowledge of Germany through its food. During the year, students prepared delicacies native to the European country. In addition, a banquet was held with all the German Club members in District 1.

in morning

Bleary-eyed students creep to school every morning at 7 a.m. to take courses in journalism, organic gardening, knitting, playwriting, macrame, seamanship, business law and home mechanics. The reason for this madness? Minicourses.

Mini-courses, instituted this year, are designed to provide both students and faculty with an opportunity for learning unusual skills as well as subjects supplementary to the current curriculum. Both students and faculty members can either enroll in and/or teach a mini-course providing they have enough information and knowledge on a particular subject to warrant a successful mini-course.

The frequency of attendance and the duration of the mini-courses, run on a very informal basis, are left completely up to continued interest.

BELOW: Members of the navigation mini-course John Mast, Steve Williams and Randy Wronko study a sailboat model.

Kings, bishops queens, knights rule Chess Club

"Checkmate!" sounds the cry of victory as a Chess Club member conquers the kingdom of his opponent.

Skill, patience and an understanding of the world of chess are essential elements in playing the mental tug-o'-war. Originating cunning moves and faking diversions are among the many tactics employed by chess players.

Tournament berths used in inter-club matches are decided on the basis of skill, concentration and the quality of a player's strategies. These interscholastic contests, this year between Palo Verde, Tucson High and Amphitheater, afford opportunities for Chess Club members to display their talents.

Can't get to France, India or even Mexico? Then settle for the first-hand lectures at the International Club.

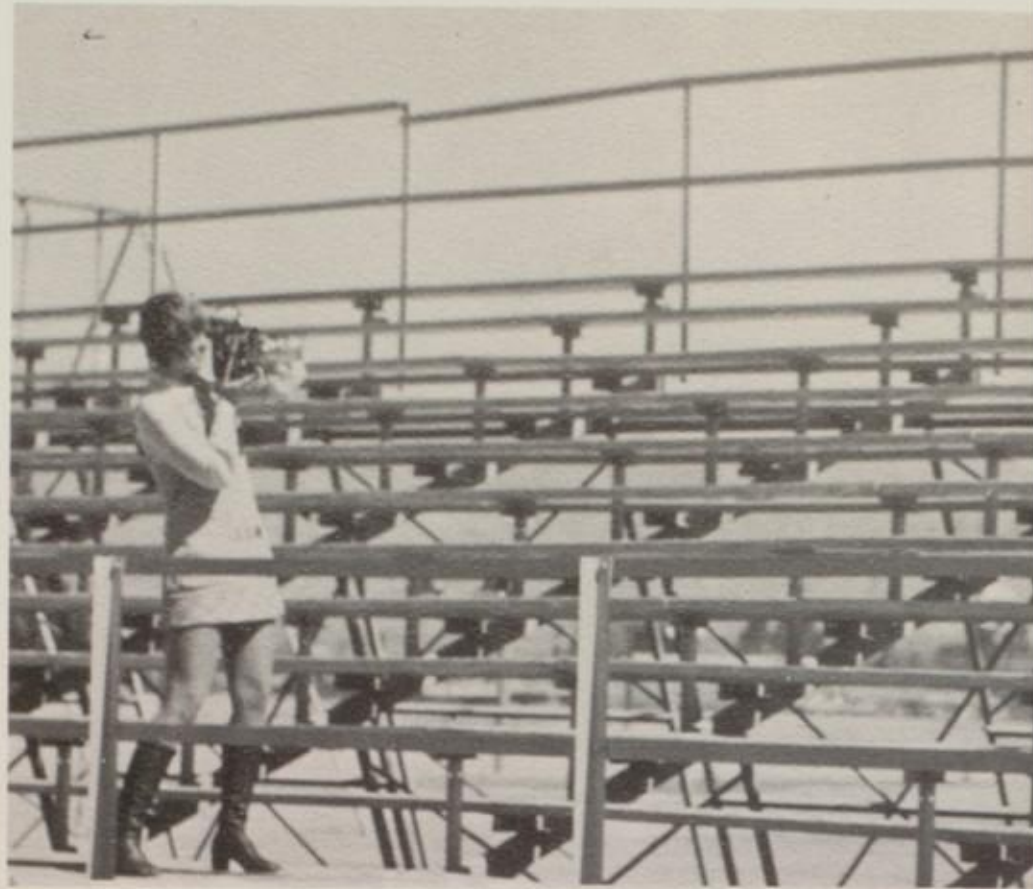

Talks, along with slides, maps and other audio-visual aids, are presented by various travelers at each meeting. Featured speakers this year included AFS'er Miho Sonehara from Japan and Miss Lois Schnaiter who told of her travels in Europe.

Held at one of the officers' houses, the Pot Luck Dinner is the club's annual festivity. Each member brings a foreign food, creating an international variety of tastes.

technique, mechanics of filming

To satisfy the increased interest in photography, film producing and the equipment involved in these, the Film and Projectionists Clubs were organized this year.

Meeting outside of school, film club members explore new camera techniques to acquire desired photographic proficiency. Once a month, students produce a film, usually less than ten minutes in length, using personal, as well as borrowed and rented, equipment and cameras. As an example of the year's efforts, the club presented a color movie to the public.

By setting up the film and running the projectors whenever needed, the Projectionists Club saves time for many teachers. At least one member of the club is available each period of the day. The club also supplies music and lighting during assemblies.

Kids get around by skiing, hiking

Outdoor activity and fun, including several overnight excursions, fill the hours of participation in the Ski and Hiking Clubs.

Beginning with a fall hike on the slopes of Mt. Lemmon, Ski Club members took overnight trips to various resort areas. Two days and one night were spent at Flagstaff and Mt. Lemmon.

At meetings, movies are shown to help kids improve their skiing techniques. Equipment purchased this year includes 12 pairs of skis. In addition, 35 complete outfits are owned by the organization and rented to members.

Included in the first meetings of the Hiking Club, formally known as the Catalina Spelunking and Rock Climbing Association, lessons in rappelling and knot-tying were given by experienced hikers. Starting early in the day with sack lunches and plenty of water, hikes were taken to Arivaipa Canyon, Agua Caliente, Tabletop and Rincon Peak.

Ahoy, ye sailors, time to shove off

"Hoist to the mainsail!" "Hike to the starboard!" "Lean to the port!" Surely, these words aren't common to the deserts of Arizona. But to members of the newly-formed Sailing Club, they certainly are.

Organized just this year, the club was initiated by Mr. Charles Anderson and Mr. Chester Parks. Swimming, sailing and boat handling tests must be passed before interested persons can actively participate.

To increase the number of club boats, six sailing dinghys were built. Trips to Roosevelt and Parker Canyon Lakes provided the opportunity to test new boats and knowledge.

When you can't seem to find the right figure, try the Math Club for size.

Club members started a year of field trips by attending the Granite Computer Institute. There they gained insight into the future of the computer and its growing significance in the modern business world.

Members also visited Dean Witter's Stock Brokerage House where they learned how to interpret the daily listing of the stock and bond averages and how to invest wisely on the basis of these listings.

Matching wits with computers, members spent the afternoon at Kitt Peak Computer Center playing games of chess and rounds of tic-tac-toe with the electronic wizards.

During club meetings, the students experimented with one-armed bandit gambling machines, exploring the law of averages. Serving the non-math oriented students, club members also tutored before semester examinations.

A girl walking down a dark street is suddenly attacked by a purse snatcher. They scuffle. She breaks his hold with an elbow smash and follows up with a knee to the stomach. A kick to the kneecap finishes the job.

This could be the result of participation in the newly-formed Karate Club. Along with basic self-defense, students learn the most sophisticated art of physical exercise while increasing their ability to concentrate. Before actual workouts, members go through sessions of instruction.

The club's members include black and orange belt holders. These people assist the sponsors by giving demonstrations.

Trojettes— CHS old-timers

Officiating scores at athletic events, ushering at school programs and helping with Student Federation elections are among the services provided by Trojettes.

During wrestling, swimming, gymnastics, track and baseball seasons, members tally scores for interscholastic contests. In addition, the club sponsors social activities for students involved in these sports.

As well as assisting with the seating of visitors at school speech tournaments, Trojettes ushered at Parents' Visitation Night and also helped during pep rallies.

During elections, the club informs the student body about candidates running for Federation office by writing and distributing pamphlets.

Mouer, Beth Goodman. The Council, elected by the girls, is the organization's governing body and plans the year's activities.

League hooks fair sex on traditional activities

Providing all Catalina girls with a club, Girls League began the year's activities with its annual Coke Party and Fashion Show. Old and new friends were acquainted while the Simplicity Pattern Company provided a preview of many upcoming styles.

A Dad-Daughter Box Supper was next on the agenda and fathers had a night out with their "little girls." Prizes were awarded for the most originally decorated dinner boxes, football cheers were taught and peep-hole pictures of dad and daughter were taken.

In keeping with tradition, Girls League set up collection boxes throughout the school for the "Toys for Tots" drive. The toys collected were then turned over to the Lettermans Club and as a result, Catalina again challenged the KTKT 99'ers in the Kumquat Bowl.

DECA, COE expand work programs

Increased schedule and job flexibility provides students of Distributive Education (DE) and Cooperative Office Education (COE) with new opportunities for learning the fundamentals of good salesmanship and sound business practice.

Stressing public relations, the most important factor of good salesmanship, DE this year instituted a speaker's bureau. The bureau allowed students to visit business organizations and schools while promoting DE and gaining speaking experience.

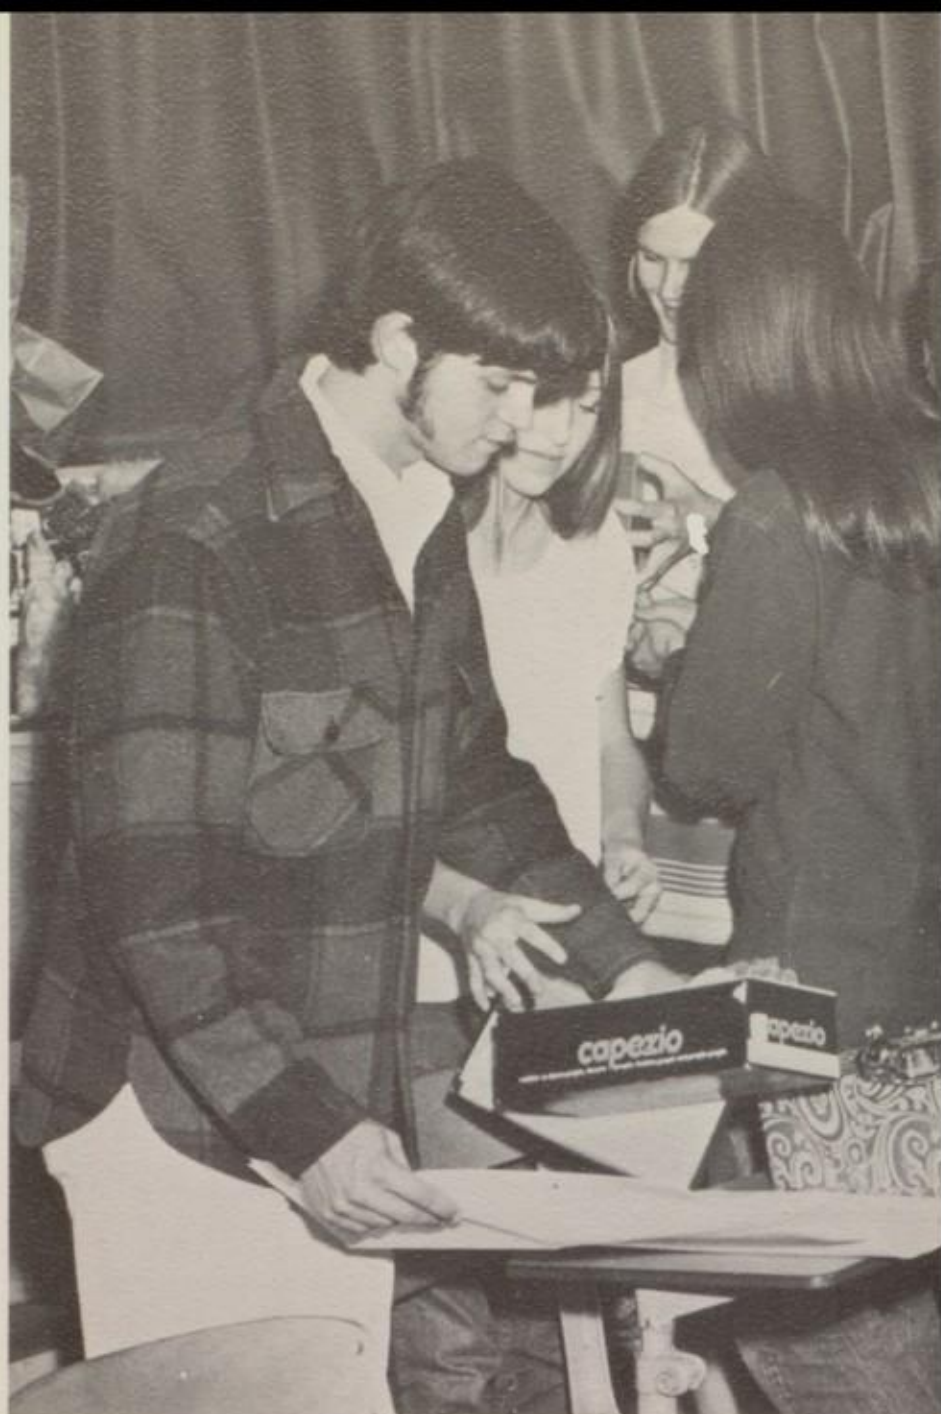

Specializing in secretarial training, COE members for the first time this year had the option of morning or afternoon work schedules. During class time, members donated their services to the March of Dimes letter campaign and Elks Club along with office work for other charitable organizations.

Clubs gain knowledge by working with people

Gaining knowledge by working with people, the Red Cross and Human Relations Clubs establish a foundation for students interested in social work.

During the year, Red Cross provided services for needy individuals. As part of their activities, members gave a Halloween party for students at Richey Elementary School. In addition they created centerpieces for the Santa Rosa Nursing Home and sponsored the "Letters to Hanoi" campaign.

Members of the Human Relations Club sponsored a Christmas party, including caroling and a present exchange, for needy children at Ory Park. In February, students combined with Rincon club members for a potluck dinner and a conference featuring a talk by a U of A professor about group technique training.

library gain clubs' service

Many clubs brag about the service they provide, but three groups—Service Council, hall monitors and library pages—spend all their time in service to the school.

In an effort to live up to the "service" in its name, Service Council initiated a guide system for new students. Members of the Council also serve as volunteers at Tucson General Hospital.

Because of the institution of the cooperative halls system, hall monitors became largely responsible for the continuance of this freedom. It is their duty to see that passage through the halls is quiet.

With the newly gained Audio-Visuals Aids Department, library pages acquired new responsibilities in the assistance they give the student body. Magazine check-outs are among their duties.

Catering Club, FHA—taste of home economics

Newly formed this year to help students gain more knowledge about food service, the Catering Club joins Future Homemakers of America (FHA) in exploring home economics.

An accredited Food Education and Service Training program, the Catering Club provides members with work in the cafeteria preparing and serving food.

Besides studying careers in home economics, FHA works on service projects. Improving community life by involving youth and adults in group activities, FHA members took decorated shoe boxes filled with useful items to patients at the William Wesley Rest Home.

FTA—an education in education

Through various activities, including workshops and tutoring, Future Teachers of America (FTA) provides new experiences for students interested in education.

Among FTA's activities is a workshop in Phoenix where students and teachers discuss ideas and experiments. In addition, visitation days are scheduled at schools, enabling members to observe work in the classroom. Math tutoring is also provided for grade school children Mondays and Thursdays after school.

Movies about students with mental or emotional problems are shown at club meetings so that students can learn how to handle difficult situations.

Scholars get involved in Catalina, community

Although formed to honor outstanding scholars, National Honor Society (NHS) is actively involved with matters of the school and community.

Tutoring is one of the major services provided by the organization. Anyone who is doing poorly in a certain class or is worried about passing an exam can receive help for 50 cents an hour.

In addition, members created and operated a carnival booth for Dear Week. They also sponsored a float for the Homecoming parade, held a clean-up campaign and worked to raise money for a gift to the school.

Plans for a district-wide convention open to all high school Honor Societies and a seminar to acquaint junior initiates with NHS regulations are currently being considered by the group's officers.

Journalists 'right on' with Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll, an organization with chapters all over the world, was formed to honor high school journalists whose achievements have been particularly outstanding.

To be eligible for membership, a person must be a member of either the Torch or Trump staffs, a junior or senior and rank in the upper one-third of his class. In addition, he must be recommended by his adviser and be approved by the national executive secretary and the other members of Quill and Scroll.

Members are initiated by the adviser and club officers. The ceremony, featuring a talk by a professional journalist, is held twice a year, once at the year's start and once in the spring.

NFL presents only high school charter to CHS

Privileges of voting in matters concerning the National Forensic League (NFL) and of entering an unlimited number of contestants in forensic tournaments are among the rights granted to the CHS chapter of NFL on receipt of a charter this year.

The charter was the only one available for Arizona high schools for the year 1970-1971. Formerly, Catalina's chapter had just affiliate status with the honorary organization and could send only a limited number of students to meets.

NFL membership is determined by the speakers who have already been initiated. To be eligible for acceptance, a speech student must have 25 forensic points which are obtainable by participating in speaking events. The more points a person has, the higher his ranking in the club.

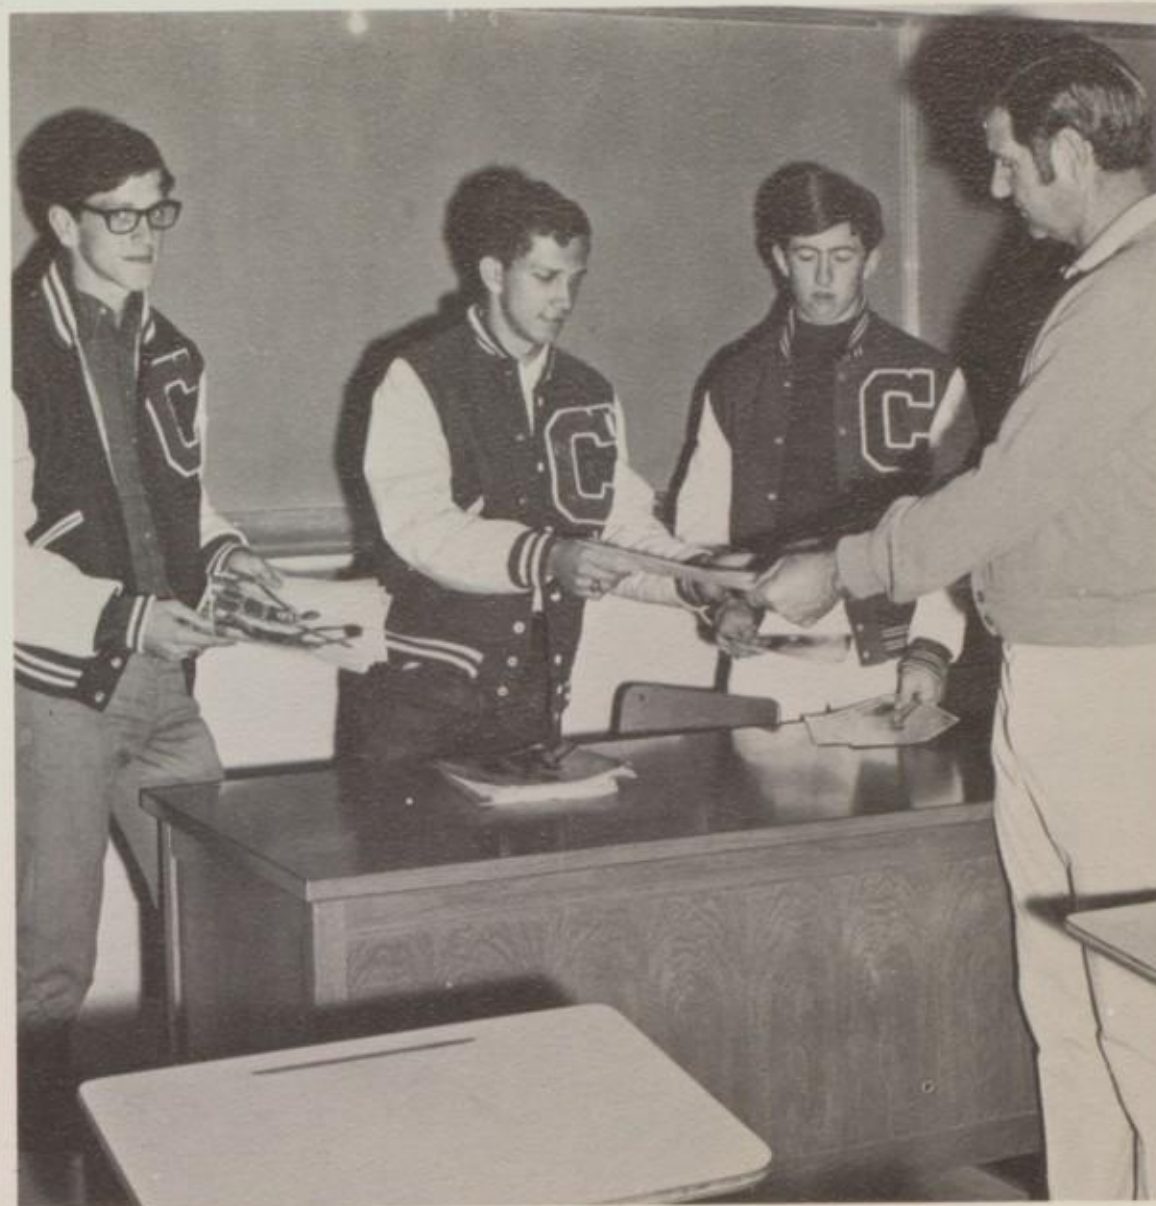

The purpose of the League is to further an interest in speech and to recognize superior achievement.

Lettermen win KTKT's toy contest

After winning KTKT's Toys for Tots drive as one of their fundraising and service projects, the Lettermans Club earned the honor of playing the 99'ers in the second annual Kumquat Bowl.

Over 1500 toys were collected by the group to win the city-wide contest. This was the second year that the Lettermen played the disc jockeys in a game of flag football this time winning 26-13 on the CHS field.

By sponsoring social functions and selling programs at football games, members earn enough money to supply teams with equipment. During Christmas, extra help at the Tucson Community Center was volunteered by the organization. Nominating the contestants for Homecoming queen and organizing guidance tours on Parents Night are also included in the club's activities.

with new layout, type, headlines

In an effort to produce a Torch totally different from any other while maintaining the yearbook's high standard of quality, this year's staff implemented a series of changes intended to modernize the 1971 annual.

Heading the list of alterations was the change from three-column to mosaic layout. In addition, type was modified to give varied widths and a modern headline style was used.

To combat rising production costs, $100 was raised by the staff in the spring of last year. In an effort to cut costs and streamline the book as well, 16 pages were deleted.

1970 Torch awards included a Medalist from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, an All-American from the National Scholastic Press Association and an A from the National School Yearbook Association.

receives new media recognition

Instituting changes to update Catalina's newspaper, the award-winning Trumpeteer gained increased recognition from local and national news media.

Modifications initiated this year included a changed headline style and the removal of column rules. Both measures add white space to the page.

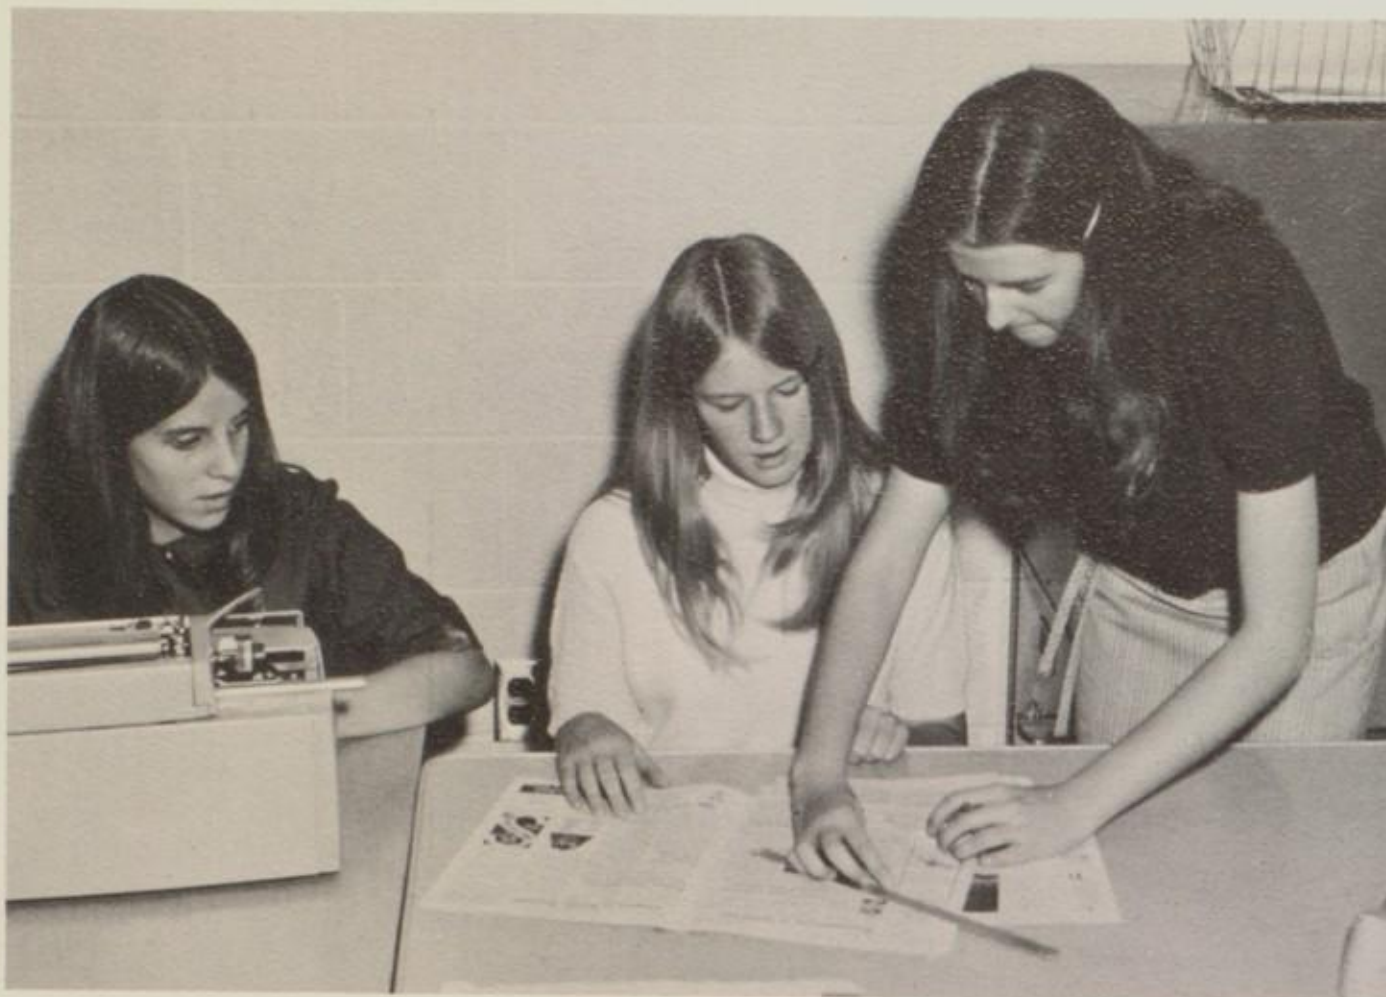

Adoption of these changes was not motivated by necessity, however, as was evidenced by praise from District 1, The Arizona Daily Star and Channel 6. In addition, editors were interviewed for the special program "Rapping With Brinkley," a televised discussion between high school journalists and the noted commentator.

The Trump again received the highest awards possible for a high school paper. These included a Medalist from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, an All-American from the National Scholastic Press Association and top honors from Quill and Scroll.

Graffiti written on picnic tables; stuffed in lockers

Graffiti is often seen written on bathroom walls, scratched on picnic tables and inscribed upon trees. But at Catalina, it is seen stuffed in lockers and clutched in students' hands—the Graffiti being this year's literary magazine.

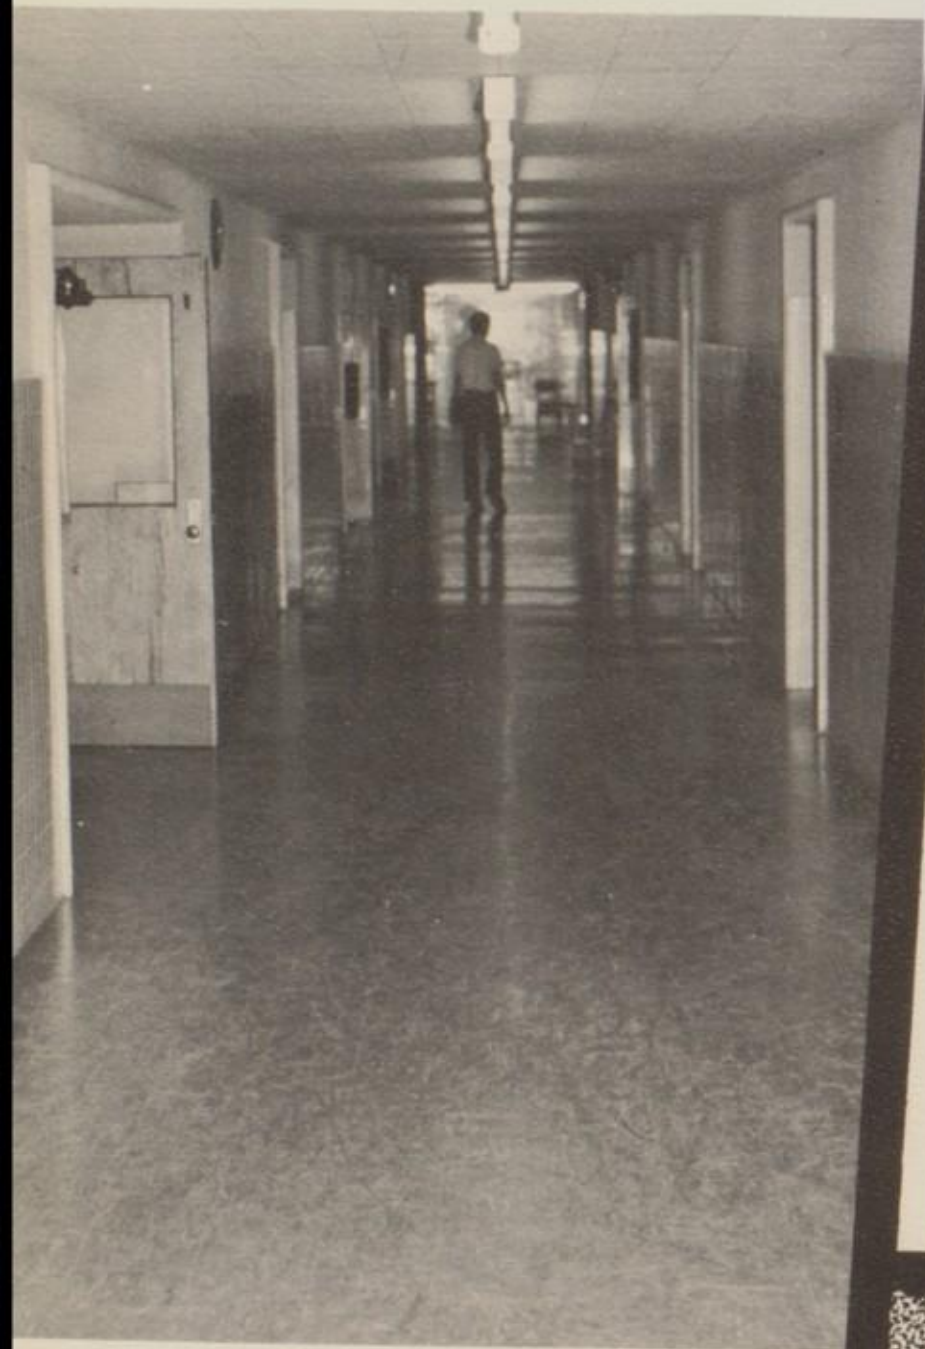

For the first time, selections of prose, poetry, art and photography were available to the student body in two separate bound editions.

Students were urged, through contests and the lure of reward, to submit their original efforts to Graffiti. These contributions were collected, judged by Graffiti editors and the best material was given to the committee that draws up the magazine's layouts and puts the selections into print.

Classes

Just as a revolving door leads from one world to another and back from "now" to futurity,
classes mutate personality
from an innocent, unknowing seed
to budding, awakening adulthood, releasing the product
on the same surroundings
with manifold novel perspectives.

Freshmen

stumbling into new environs
become sophomores;

sophomores

smug, self-satisfied in tinsel sophistication become juniors;

juniors

phased with the passage of three years
mellowed with the prospect of a fourth become seniors;

seniors

stumbling a little less with onus naivety
let go the final shackles of adolescence.

MATURITY

in actions, thoughts, speech in attitude toward life
in acceptance of dilated responsibility
COMES WITH PROGRESSION IN CLASS.

Social status gained with age, education,
classes—

involvement, competition with peers
four giant steps toward tomorrow.

STUDENT FEDERATION OFFICERS—Carol Gilman, vice-president; Marjli Anderson, corresponding secretary; Steve Downing, president; Debbie Fox, recording secretary.

Leaders work to increase freedom

Leading an active Student Council, this year's Federation officers have done much to increase student privileges.

State Youth Chairman for the March of Dimes and Arizona's delegate to the Virginia House of Burgesses, President STEVE DOWNING is a person anxious to serve others. Steve represented Catalina at Boys State and Model UN.

CAROL GILMAN, vice-president, is active in school projects and organizations such as the Milk Fund Drive and Student Senate, both of which she lead. Carol also attended Girls State, where she was elected governor.

In an effort to increase communication with other schools, Corresponding Secretary MARJII ANDERSON devised the city-wide Student Exchange Program this year. Marjii has also attended the state Student Council convention for the past two years.

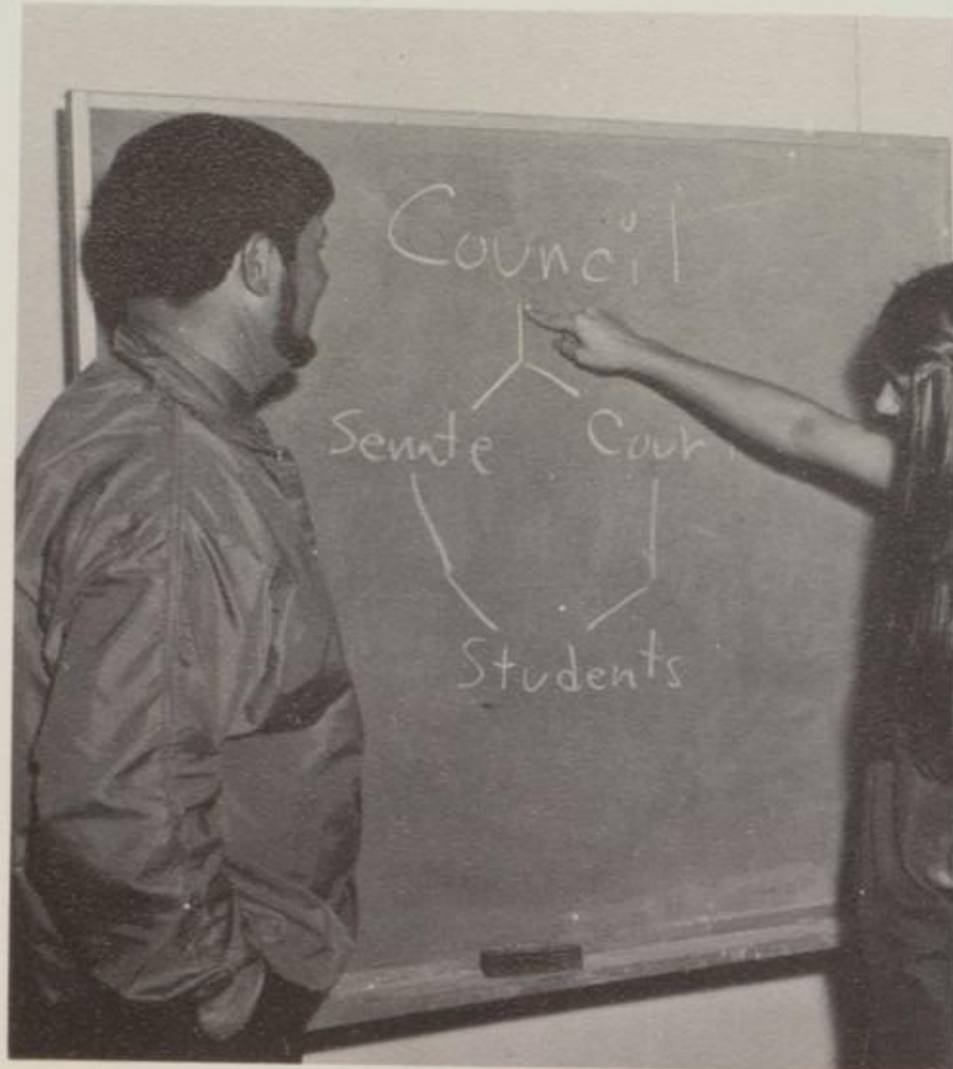

Largely responsible for the exemption of "1" students from semester exams, Recording Secretary DEBBIE FOX was a member of Student Court in her junior year. She was a Model UN delegate and has been on advisory board for four years.

BELOW: Capturing the interest of Student Council, Court and Senate advisers Richard Schmieder, David Hooker and Joyce Howell, respectively, Pam Gralton, soph Court member, diagrams the functions of student government. Pam was appointed by the justices to fill a vacancy on the Court.

Peggy Pearson, Vanessa Boreyko, Randy Wronko, Miho Sonehara, Sabra Palmer, Skip Hancock . . . Back Row: Jon Kent, Nancy Waters, Marilyn Bostwick, Carol Gilman, Steve Williams, Dave

Robertson, Debbie Fox, Stu Wolfe, Tom Kinzer, Pat Geary. Each class elects four Council members and class presidents and Federation officers serve automatically.

Student government employs 'third time charm' for Senate

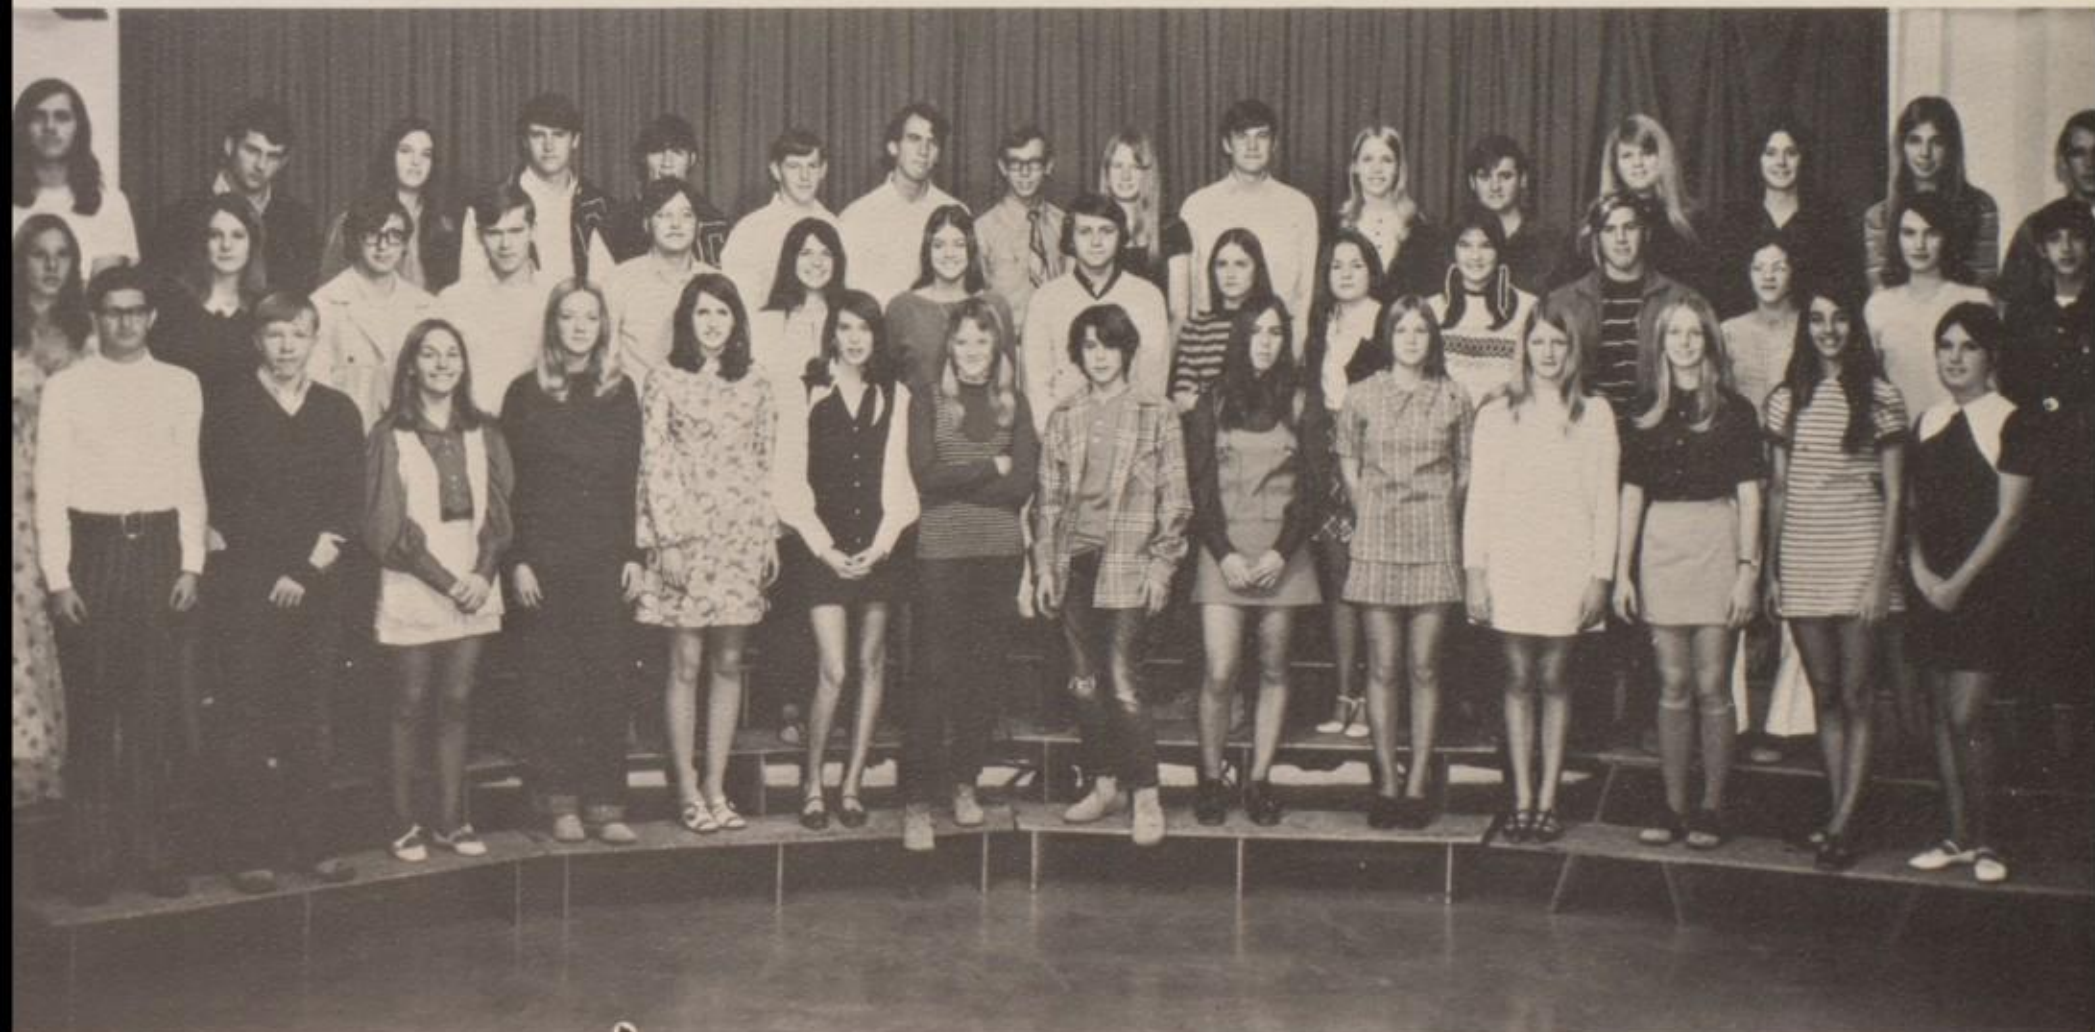

With the addition of Student Senate this year, Catalina's student government increased the scope of its ideas to reach more of the student body.

"The third time's the charm" or so hope members of Student Senate. Twice previously, Catalina initiated a Senate program and then was forced to disband it due to lack of leadership and interest. This year with the Federation vice-president's guidance, the organization coordinated the Christmas family project, collecting clothing and food for the needy.

Heading the list of Student Council endeavors was a final exam exemption plan, excusing anyone with a "1" average at the teacher's discretion. After a year's controversy, the project passed.

Another branch of government is Student Court. This year members wrote and distributed a handbook for the student body and scheduled all fund-raising events.

STUDENT SENATE—Front Row: Michael Broughton, Douglas Myer, Jeannie Mover, Rae Van Hoven, Patricia Fox, Carole Parlett, Shevonne McCormick, David Brown, Vikki Hartung, Debby Cooper, Lela Carter, Maryann Deo, Pam Gralton, Shana Brown . . . Second Row: Cindy Carroll, Emily Hauert, Charlie Vesley, Douglas Borow, Andy Kent, Betty Jo Cather, Jan Washburn, Kyle Estes, Patrice Edmundson, Barbara Mohr, Marsha Mapes, Ken Cummins, Susan Koff, Teri Roach, Steve Jiminez . . . Back Row: Stan Harrelson, Jerry Smith, Wendy Walker, Roy Sayde, Richard Cronin, Pat D'Antonio, Paul Maynard, Greg Ziebell, Janet Kelley, James Rauk, Allison Hock, David Kahn, Beverly Rose, Miriam Benner, President Carol Gilman, Mike Rowley. The Student Senate was established this year.

Varied as '71's class, officers echo interests

As diverse as the Class of '71, the senior officers reflect a wide and different range of interests and hobbies.

If you are going to ask President JON KENT if he enjoys skiing, don't bother. Why else would any red-blooded American boy spend two months of his senior year on crutches? A member of advisory board for three years, Jon was a Human Relations and Student Council Convention delegate and a Rotary Club student of the month. If he lives long enough, Jon plans to attend the U of A, majoring in experimental education or sociology.

With considerably less dangerous interests, Vice-President

CURT CRAIG spends much of his free time studying music. The guitar, flute, mandolin and harp are just four examples of his versatile musical interests. Upon graduation, Curt plans to attend Northern Arizona University, majoring in communications or history.

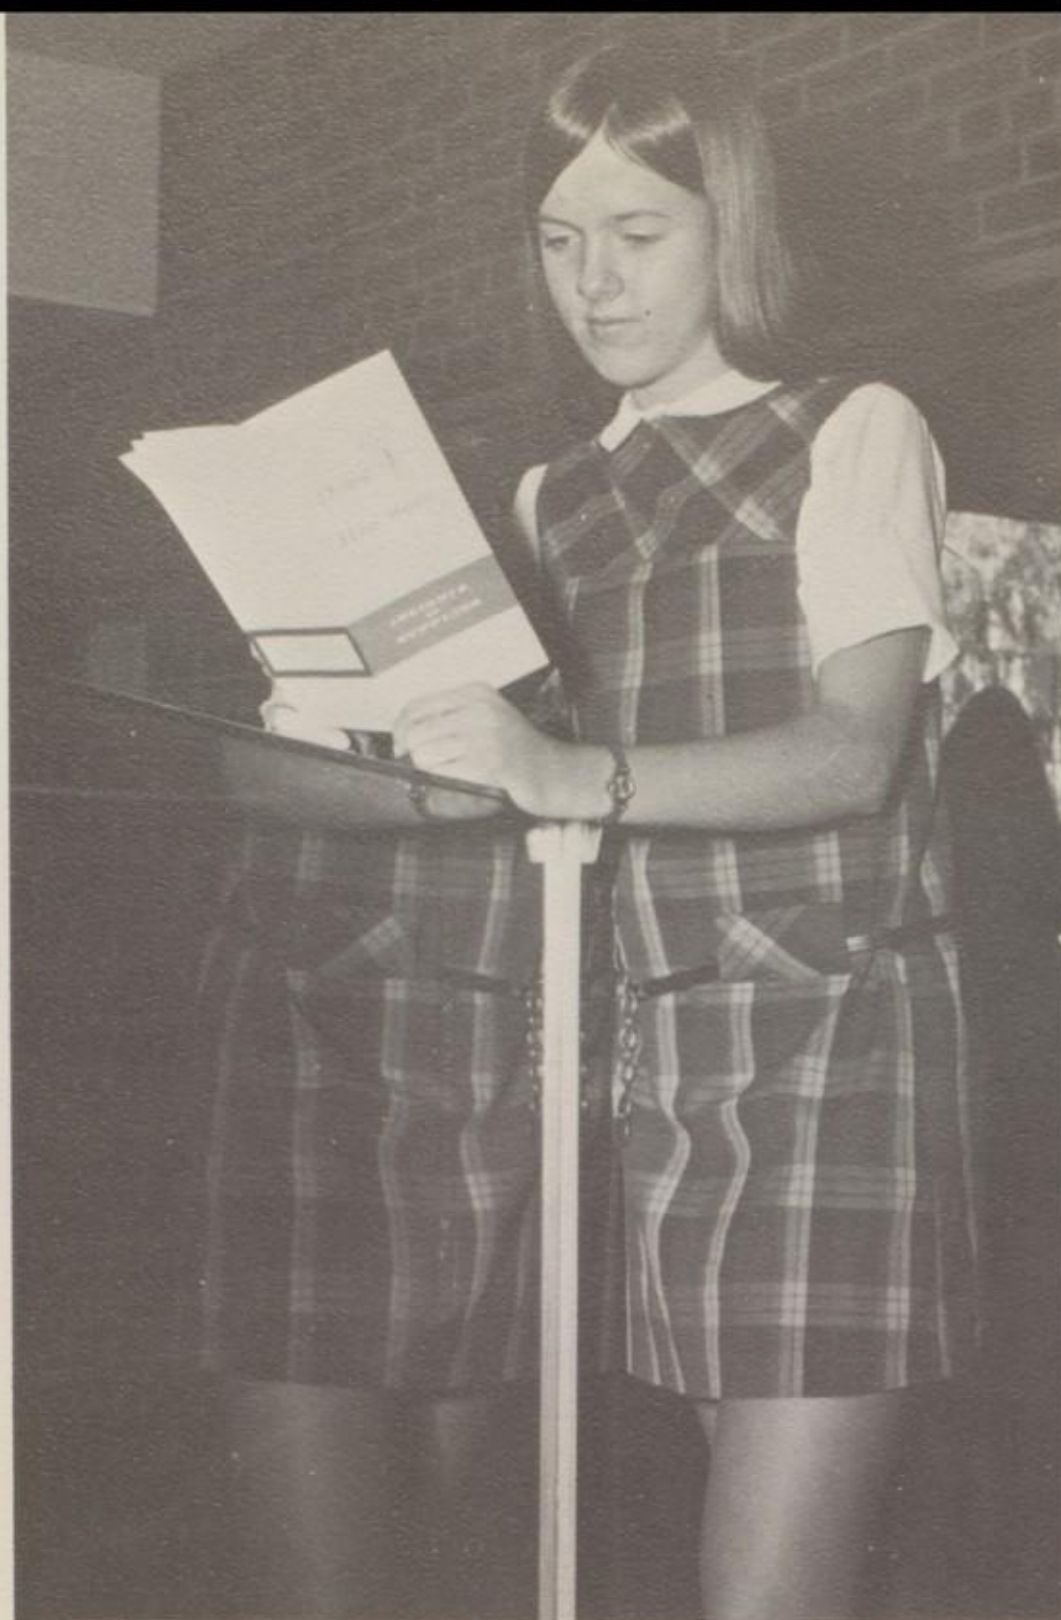

Also planning to attend NAU, secretary CELE UNDERWOOD plans a career as a commercial artist or elementary teacher. With art as her major interest, Cele is a member of art workshop. She is also a songleader and a member of advisory board. Previously, Cele represented Catalina as a delegate to Anytown and the Human Relations Conference.

BELOW: Cruising around the track in her escort's convertible, Homecoming attendant Janet Jarvis anxiously awaits the halftime activities and the crowning of the Queen.

Senior Class solves problems; 'Gets Together' for graduation

Mid-term graduates, half-day students, part-time college attendance and a general diversity of interest plagued many of the Senior Class activities.

Despite these problems, the class managed to pull off most of its regular duties, largely due to the efforts of a few class members and officers.

Entitled "Let's Get Together," Senior Capers, after early disorganization, provided the student body with a diverting evening of music and fun.

With the surge of interest in ecology, the Class of '71 sponsored a little-attended clean-up campaign in Sabino Canyon.

Social events on the class's agenda included Homecoming activities and the Junior-Senior Prom.

By far the most popular and best-attended of the class activities were Baccalaureate followed by graduation June 10.

Along with being involved in student government, the Junior Class officers share a variety of interests ranging from sports to school activities and clubs.

If you were looking for President DAVE ROBERTSON, chances are that you would find him hiking in the Tucson mountains, tubing, swimming or eating a pizza at the Village Inn. A member of the varsity football team, Dave also enjoys reading and taking part in dramatic productions. After graduating he plans to join Vista for two years and then go into teaching or computer programming.

Vice-president FRANK TRAFFORD has been active on Student Council for the past two years. His interests encompass many of the outdoor sports including varsity track, basketball and swim workouts at the YMCA. During the summer and school vacations Frank travels around Arizona when he has the opportunity. Becoming a veterinarian is the career prospect he plans to pursue.

Drama or elementary education top the list of future plans for Secretary PAT OTT. In addition to being a Freshman Class officer, Pat was an active member of Student Council the following year. At school she enjoys fine arts and modern dance while at church she belongs to the youth group and sings in the choir. When she isn't reading Pat often spends an afternoon hiking or tubing down the Gila River.

Beginning with soap suds and elbow grease, juniors washed car after car as their first fund-raising project this year.

In addition to this project, profits from which went toward a sound system in the cafeteria, juniors contributed touches of spirit to athletic events. Before football games, juniors could be seen dangling from goal posts attaching streamers.

In class competition, juniors came out on top. Collecting over $200 for the Milk Fund Drive, they boosted the school collection and enabled CHS to take first place in the city. A combination of tombstones and bright-colored streamers won the juniors the honor of having the best spirit hall.

As well as independent achievements, the class combined with seniors to plan the prom. Informal get-togethers with juniors from other schools were also planned.

Halfway through the year, the juniors encountered their greatest undertaking: Rodeo Week. Class marshalls and sheriffs coordinated activities and created the CHS float for the Rodeo Parade.

Soph officers seek self-expression

Seeking greater self-expression, the Sophomore Class officers pursue their interests through varied organizations and individual activities.

President PATTY GALLIGAN, copy editor of the Torch and business manager of the Trump, plans a career as a trial lawyer. A member of the varsity softball team, she also enjoys spending an afternoon playing tennis or horseback riding in the Tucson desert. In addition to participating in sports, Patty finds time to cook, read and sew her own wardrobe.

Active in SOS, a service organization, Vice-president JEANNIE LEE is a member of Forensic League and the debate team. A Student Council representative in her freshman year, she plans to enter the field of law after attending the University of the South Pacific. In her spare time, Jeannie studies ballet and piano and creates original literature.

Participating in speech meets and Forensic and Girls League activities, Secretary MARIA JORDAN hopes to become a speech therapist or an elementary school teacher. Playing the piano and competing in tennis and swimming are the activities Maria most enjoys. On Saturdays she is an assistant catechism teacher at St. Francis Cabrini Church where she also belongs to CYO.

Three officers share interest in sports, people, Class of '74

With a common interest in sports, people and their class, the freshman officers presided over the Class of '74.

Planning to join the Amigos de las Americas program after her sophomore year, President SABRA PALMER is interested in people. She hopes to travel with either Vista or the Peace Corps after graduation. In addition, she enjoys swimming, hiking, gymnastics and her involvement in Ski Club.

Intending to graduate in three years, Vice-president DICK ARNOLD likes gymnastics, poetry and music, especially playing the guitar. Being a member of The Trumpeteer staff, journalism and social problems also interest him. Traveling to Europe, particularly France and Belgium, heads his plans.

Class Secretary PEGGY PEARSON is an active member of her church and CYO, the Christian Youth Organization. She likes ice skating and sewing and she was a member of the freshman volleyball team. She expects to enter elementary education after attending the U of A.

MEMORIES—

Staring out a geometrical window in spring wondering what, when, where, why . . .

Becoming endeared to the guy who wears a certain tag . . .

Retreating within when weary, reflective extending if aglow . . .

Smashing, crippling an opponent in thought if not deed . . .

Walking hand in hand, mind in mind,
through a high school labyrinth . . .

Marveling at the memorization of functions, vocabulary words . . .

Looking out and up at the Catalina's thinking life is beautiful . . .

Holing up like a hermit a Sunday afternoon writing a six weeks paper in a day . . .

Traversing familiar ramps, stairs, halls to and from learning . . .

Anxiously awaiting the close of a year
desiring the start of another . . .

Sitting on the gym floor in blue and white fingers aching for a ribboned scroll . . .

Involving a mind and body in Catalina through conscious, unconscious action . . .

Flying across a concrete campus through a gate into eventuality . . .

HEAR THEM HUSH.

Dave Sulligan

Mr. Jettrell,
I've really enjoyed being in
your class this year.
I feel that I've learned more in this class than I would in another.
Thanks for being
such a good and patient teacher, and I'm really sorry to ~~leave~~ and I will always be talking.

Have a wonderful summer! And I will look for you
next year.

Linda Cox
13

To a really kind guy who is a great teacher -
kind and full of wisdom.
Take it easy and have a great summer!

Mr. Jutrell
To a really great teacher
Hope you have a fantastic summer. and be good & behave yourself. Love
Nadelle
